Linking Generation to Generation
another year of memories has been finished. The 101st year of memories to come out of Highland High school to be exact. The boxes along the bottom of the pages represent 101 things needed to survive here. The second century of this school has begun, and with this beginning, we are entering the computer age. We have tried to Link Generation To Generation by dedicating this yearbook to the end of three fabulous teaching careers: Ted Hutchcraft, Donna (Davis) Manyon, and Beryl Blevins. Their combined years of experience in JSD 425 total 91.5 years, just nine and a half years short of how long the high school has been in existence. The staff hopes that this yearbook will be enjoyed and will bring back fond memories for the years to come.
With so many generations of families attending the same school, "Linking Generation to Generation" refers to the family ties and to the links that can be found on the internet. Therefore, it seemed fitting that the theme be the internet.

The internet addresses and the arrows will lead the readers forward or backward. The home page of each section shows the hot list. Double clicking on the buttons will download the information immediately (unless the modem is unable to link up to the server).

The journalism department dedicates this year book to three retiring teachers who have linked three generations to the outside world.

Ted Hutchcraft, Donna Manyon, and Berl Blevins have helped link the generations of students at Highland for 91.5 years. Hutchcraft's wit and humor brightened his math room daily. Often, he could be found telling stories about the parents of a student.

Donna Manyon's soft voice was heard above the talk of excited kindergarten students for 33 years. Manyon taught colors, letters, social skills, and introduced students into the wonderful world of formal education.

Berl Blevins did everything from filling in for absent teachers to monitoring the halls and lunch room at the grade school.

All three teachers helped form the baby boomers, Generation X and more recently helped the students in the "net" generation.

Donna Manyon has taught kindergarten for the last 33 years. Manyon keeps her students busy with a wide variety of activities such as the colors of the day, song time, and play stations. Every year the kindergarten takes many field trips to places like a farm, the fire station, and the Topeka Zoo. Photo by Bray’s.

Ted Hutchcraft has dedicated 37 years to the Highland school system. During this time he has served in many positions: mathematics teacher, basketball, cross country, and knowledge bowl coach, principal/dean of students, and even counselor. Photo by Bray’s.

Berl Blevins has served USD 425 for 28.5 years. Blevins has taught the third and fifth grades, monitored the lunch room and halls, graded papers and done virtually anything else the teachers have asked of her. Photo by Bray’s.

2. Spell checkers (on computers) are a lifesaver for those born without the spelling gene.
Today's students and faculty face many different challenges as they enter the computer age. For one thing, they have to adjust to the new computers and learning how to use the internet. Even the teachers have to learn how to use new programs such as Prostar, which is a grading program.

This year the High School went to all IBM compatibles which was a major change from the Macintosh computers from a year before. Everyone adjusted well to these changes.

When the high school started 101 years ago, the students and teacher (one teacher) had no idea of the technology that this high school would have in the future.

As this school progresses into the next 100 years, students will be using technology that will be hard for us to imagine and should help them progress into everyday life.

4. Class of 1998 makes up 33% of Highland High School.
The school board and administration worked hard to keep the school in top condition and in running order all year.

The school board met at 7:30 p.m. on the second Monday of every month. They had to keep up on what was happening with the undeveloped area and make sure the construction workers cleaned up their messes (like the holes in the classroom floors upstairs). Remodeling of the basement started in December and lasted the rest of the school year. The junior high students will then be able to enjoy their own commons area and two new classrooms. A new weight room was also part of the developing area.

Seniors have the privilege of being able to witness a board meeting because one requirement for Constitution class is to attend a school board or city council meeting. Attending a board or city council meeting is also a requirement of all journalism students.

The school board allowed the students to enjoy an Educational Extravaganza trip this year and even helped with some of the costs involved. The students involved with Educational Extravaganza had to help raise the rest of the trip's cost by helping with fund raisers and paying a fee. Also, all of the seniors, instead of just those enrolled in physics, had the opportunity to enjoy the "physics" trip to Houston, instead of the Extravaganza to the YMCA camp in Potosi, MO.

Senior Showcase presented a challenge for the administration for the second year at HHS. They had to make sure the seniors completed the necessary requirements for the project. Most of the seniors had some difficulty with Senior Showcase, but the main purpose was to be a "learning stretch" for them. Senior Showcase was constantly deciding the requirements for the following years' projects.

Cheryl Rasmussen, principal, said, "I do enjoy being an administrator, but it is challenging, and there's something different every day."

5. Attend a board meeting in the fall. Get it over with.
The school board consisted of Dan Tilton, Nancy Batchelder, Dick Tracy, Sally Waggoner, Bill Batchelder, Mike Blevins, and Paul Tyler (not pictured). They had a lot to deal with this year, especially because of the work in the undeveloped area. Photo by Megan Batchelder.

Dick Tracy "My most memorable moment is graduation and seeing kids getting a good education."

Jan Collins "My most memorable moment was dealing with the undeveloped area."

Kelly Merkel "My most memorable moment from a board meeting was when the board recognized Brant Clary for his conservation award."

Erin Jeschke "My most memorable moment from a board meeting was the great brownies afterward."

Cheyenne Dorrell "My most memorable moment was when Erin (Jeschke) would quote the board members."

Memorable Moments of 1998

Jill Evans: "My most memorable moment was when Eric tried to pull me off my donkey during donkey basketball."

Ron Shelton: "I will always remember the time Josh thought he saw his dogs on the field during the Wathena football game."

Esther Gormley: "I will never forget the look on the girls' faces when bits of the floor started flying up beside them during class."

Mary Lou Colley: "My memories will be of the construction noises that went from lasting days to weeks."

Donna Parish: "I loved the ideas and costumes that people had for Super Hero day during Spirit Week."

8. If a teacher leaves the room, that is an open invitation to visit.
9. Always lock your locker, especially freshmen.

Memorable Moments of 1998

Mike Jones: "Watching Jennifer [Davis] bowl granny style at Cosmic Bowling for FFA."

Ashley Webb: "My most memorable moment was when we went to the FFA dairy judging contest, and we stopped at Pizza Hut first. Everyone sent Kristin up to the buffet about twelve times in a row, and the whole place was laughing at her."

Esther Gormley: "My most memorable moment about the freshmen was when we were illustrating poetry and Mike Stonebarger was showing us his impression of a horse lost in the snow. That will probably stick in all his class members' minds from here on out."

10. The harder the freshmen resist, the more it will hurt later.

Becky Cole: "The most memorable moment was when I was dared by Alex Moore to go down the biggest hill on our ski trip. Of course I fell five or six times coming down, but I proved to myself that I could do it."

Noah Diveley: "My most memorable moment was in Ag Class. B.J. was holding the spark plugs when Brad Elrod pulled the fly wheel. I guess a little shock never hurt anyone."

Cate Batchelder: "My greatest achievement was getting second team All-State in volleyball."

Zach Powell: "The funnest time I had was playing football with the senior guys."

Cathleen Hanlon: "The scariest thing was slipping into the ditch with the big brown truck."

Travis Clary: "My most memorable moment was when Brant, Jerod, Nathan, and I shaved 66 in Josh's chest hair before the McLouth game and outlined it in blue marker."

Jerod Blanton: "I remember when a suspect put a skinned coyote in Dorrell's truck, and we drove by. She yelled at Travis and me and told us we needed to take it out. Sorry Cheyenne, it wasn't Travis and I."

Andrea Collins: "I will always remember during Barnwarming when I was kicked by a dairy cow."

Natalie Webb: "The best part so far has been winning the DVL in volleyball and singing Tubthumping."

14. Next year they will run this school. Scary thought.
The class of 1998 has gone through a lot of trials and tribulations in the four years that they have been in high school. Most of the students have been together since kindergarten.

At one time, the class had 38 members, and there were not enough seats in Donna Parish's room for world history and English II.

The senior class is the biggest graduating class since 1982 which had 33. The senior class was blessed with a lot of new books because the school never had enough from previous classes.

Trips to Houston and to Branson were highlights of 1998. The seniors also did senior showcase which is only the second year the school has done this.

As these members of the net generation take the next step, they have a chance at becoming navigators. --Rocky Ruhnke

Memorable Moments

We always will be the class of procrastinators.
When Mrs. Evans first came, we were in sophomore computers. A bunch of us decided to "test her humor" by all having "seizures" at the same time. Some people didn't hold up their end of the bargain so only a few of us were flopping uncontrollably on the floor. She instantly began giving us all detentions. She later told us (while we were serving our detentions early in the morning) that she was so surprised that she didn't really know what to do, and giving us detentions was the first thing that popped into her mind." Stephanie Blevins

The class of '98 went to Branson, MO, for their last trip together. They spent three nights and four days at Stillwater Resort by Table Rock Lake.

While in Branson, the seniors saw three shows; Music of the Night, Yakov Smirnoff and Dixie Stampede. Megan Batchelder's favorite show was the Dixie Stampede. It seemed to be the favorite among everyone. At the Dixie Stampede the group ate and watched games. They got their pictures taken, and there was a competition between the north side of the building and the south side. Games and relays were done to determine the winner. Lambert's Cafe was also a favorite of the seniors. The waiters threw rolls to the customers whenever they asked for one.

One entire day was spent on the lake. After eight full hours on the water, many came back with some serious sunburns. They rented ski boats, jet skis and two pontoon boats. The jet skis were the favorite of Cheyenne Dorrell. "Everytime we tried to leave the dock, it kept flipping over," said Dorrell.

The night came alive in Branson when the seniors went shopping and go karting. They also rode bumper cars and went miniature golfing. The Stop Bass Pro Shop in Springfield, MO., was the favorite of the guys. Brant Clary was reported walking around the store saying, "This is heaven!"

The seniors returned home with many new memories and new stories to tell.

Class History - 1998
August of 1988, 28 kindergarteners entered the kindergarten trailer, and 23 liked Highland well enough to stay through the 12th grade. In kindergarten there were many firsts. The first time to get ones name on the board, first scolding from a teacher that often resulted in tears, first time to be away from home, first school field trips, and the first time to ride on a school bus.

In the first grade, The Class of '98 was divided between Ms. Lambert and Mrs. Schwegler most of the time. First year teacher, Mrs. Schwegler is infamous for tap dancing around the room and hosting shaving cream parties on the desks, while Ms. Lambert is remembered for giving Brant an extra sticker for grab bag because he didn't gross out when Adam puked on his desk, which was to the envy of the rest of the students.

Also during this time, a favorite student, Chuck Huff, often failed to lose control of his bodily functions, and he acquired a taste for Elmore's glue.

Mrs. Jefferson taught second grade and amazed everyone by letting them actually pick their own grab bag girls. This year Brandon Weiderholt joined the class, sporting his white Hawaiian shirt and red slacks and kept this style through the fifth grade.

Gene Gauding joined only through the second grade and was dubbed "Diabetic Boy," out of fear jealousy that he got to eat orange crackers and no one else did. Also, Erin broke her ankle, by falling down a dmhole outside of her house and the start of relationships were kicked off with Kole and Julie Pottorf.

The move upstairs occurred in the third grade and lasted two years. Ms. Dill tambled was the teacher, and she introduced many animals to the classroom. Denise and Paul began their six year on and off romance. Cheyenne and possibly the Moler joined the class, but no one is for sure because they came and left so many times.

In the fourth grade, Mrs. Schwegler came back to teach us again and brought her spark with her. She demonstrated this by making Mark Moler sit on his desk and chuck like a chicken. The love triangle continued with Adam sending Erin a love note with a neon green bracelet and hot pink star earrings, and Kole and Stephen wanting to go out. Kelleigh joined the class this year, and Brandon left his money. Kole was playing on the stairs.

In the fifth grade, the class moved downstairs to the big red section with Mrs. Barb Collins in charge. Bathroom times became stressful with Joe and Eric fighting daily. Kristy and Levi, and Rocky and Nora connected to keep the love alive. Also, during the fifth grade, band began, and the class was forced to switch playgrounds which caused a serious withdrawal from lack of playground equipment.

Barbara came this year and had the same first name as Mrs. Collins, as well as the same birthday!

With sixth grade came Emily, Colby, Nolan, and Josh Dought to the class and the departure of Brandon. Mrs. Meyer was the teacher and quickly put a stop to eraser fights when she gave Kole a detention. This year the girls tried their luck on the basketball court, everyone experienced the ski slopes at Snow Creek, and the band class made it a daily ritual to sing 'Happy Birthday' to Barbara. This year the group continued to annoy subs, but stepped it up a notch by switching from our assigned seats and calculating precise moments to click pens and cough. The Class of '98 will always be known for using their talents well! The Jr. High days began and so did the monotony of athletics and the introduction to Mrs. Wetmore.

She provided many faults, from pulling a dryer sheet out of her pants to drinking someone's contacts to pushing her cart from room to room with WIDE LOAD sign on it. With reading class, come nap time and hide and go seek. James began sleeping in the coats and bags at the back of the room, and Joe would hide in the storage area.

In the eighth grade, The Class of '98 finally made it to the top of the food chain and it is still believed that they are Mr. Clary's favorite class by being cut above the rest (including the other classes). This year Chris, Levi, and Josh received a scolding during track. Depressing Joe, and they visited Washington, D.C. Study Halls became interesting, but horrible for Mrs. Blevins, who endured daily spit wide fights and rubber bouncy balls, and Mr. Andrews would lose control with erasers and chalk during health class. Josh also moved on this year.

The high school career began by starting Ashley and Stacey. This year Erin and Heather started their careers in Ay and quickly moved to "favorite student" status, and Kristy was urged to "just say yes' Julie Pottorf departed at the end of this year. During the sophomore year, many girls had seizures during computer class to welcome Ms. Evans, the infamous homecoming activities that led to a following week of torture happened, and the class spent the night in the Omaha Zoo. The event all will most remember is that of the accident involving Ashley, Paul, and Heather. As a result of the accident, Ashley will never be the same, but everyone has created so many memories helping Ashley do everything she would have done anyway. Mrs. Keen's nephew, Matt Richardson, briefly joined the class this year, and James Stevens and Brad Brook came to stay for good. The junior year was very hectic with chemistry class, working at the concessions stand, and Prom, besides all of the usual activities and sports. Also, an added bonus was the foreign exchange student, Verena Zorn. She added much humor to the class this year and taught many new words and activities. Overall, prom was the main focus of this year and caused a lot of stress and man disagreements, but Rocky made it unique by driving a combine. The class began to grow closer, but larger as Sarah Heinen came second semester.

With the final year, came the final year of memories, and Nathan Keebler arrived. Also there were many changes that we were so lucky to enjoy. For example, the mandatory agenda ball passes, a later lunch hour, girls' basketball benchwarming, and it was the second year for the dreaded senior showcase.

But the biggest highlight has been the Educational Extravaganza trip to Galveston and Oklahoma City. There Ashley willingly played in the waves of the ocean, Kristy was bitten molesting Levi, and we learned more than ever about possible after each other during the 34 hour round the bus ride.

Through 13 years, many people have come and left. The Class of '98, but each is an unforgettable memory. All will always remember their years together and hope that they have left their mark on the Highland school stem.
Though 101 years have passed, the focus has never changed when it comes to academics. In conjunction with the usual textbook work and lectures, the students took part in many educational field trips and hands-on activities.

For example, the physics class disassembled old televisions, the computer production class produced the monthly school newsletter, almost all of the science classes visited area rivers to perform water quality tests, and the English III class toured the Truman Library.

Senior Barbara Purvis, said, "I understand what I am learning a lot better when I can visually see it or perform the task."

Sn_Larson>>Whoa, Whoa, you’re absolutely butchering that song.
Megara18>>Sorry, I didn’t know anyone was listening. ¿Qué pasa Senora Larson? (What’s happening?)
Sn_Larson>>Muy macho!! The Spanish classes did a lot this year. The Spanish I students learned new words and the concept of verb agreement. The Spanish II students did more verb agreement and Spanish skits. The Spanish III class did an assortment of activities with the second graders. They built a piñata for a Spanish Christmas and made tons of food and sang Christmas songs.
Megara18>>Icaramba, that sounds great!
Comma_chic>>I did a lot this year too.
Megara18>>Oh sorry, I didn’t know you were there. What did you do this year in English?
Comma_chic>>Well, the freshmen had a semester of speech, while the juniors integrated their learning with the life history of President Harry Truman.
Civil_spice>>History, what I heard the word the history. History, is my department.
Megara18>>Okay, Civil_spice let’s hear your spiel.
Civil_spice>>Well, the sophomores saw the rise and fall of Rome...
Megara18>>Whoa, I didn’t even know the Romans were in trouble. (Just kidding.)
Civil_spice>>Uh...and then, the seniors found out what they could do and not do in Constitution class.
Comma_chic>>Seniors -huh. Oh yeah, how could I forget about the seniors. The seniors completed their Senior Showcases. I was so impressed with their projects that I could hardly contain myself.

Megara18>>So, Enviroman what's going on in the science department?
Enviroman>>I love the kids this year. They are great.
Megara18>>What did the freshmen do this year in general science?
Enviroman>>Oh my, they did a lot! They started with river and streams monitoring and then finished up with pre-physics like the simple machines.
Megara18>>That's cool! How about the sophomores?
Enviroman>>Golly, they had a wide range of subjects from river and stream testing to genetics.
Megara18>>laughing I guess they will know who to mate with and who not to mate with!! What were the juniors up to in chemistry this year?
Enviroman>>Well, the juniors started the year off with balancing equations and went out with a bang with acid/base chemistry.
Megara18>>Neato!! How about those cool cats in college biology? What did they do this year?
Enviroman>>What didn't they do! They had Ecology Day with the third graders at Brown County State Lake, and then they did some dissections on the different kingdoms.
Megara18>>How about the natural resources class, what were they up to?
Enviroman>>They were super busy this year. They adopted the Roadside Park, as well as the Mission Trail. This year we also got be part of The Missouri Stream Team 1000. In this program the natural resource class gets to study in the Squaw Creek Wildlife Refuge.

Megara18>>Great. What’s going down with the juniors and geometry. You know you always have to “try” when dealing with triangles.
Xman>>There is definitely “proof” of that. Yuk, Yuk, Yuk.
IBM_babe>>Hey, Hey what about me? I did a lot this year too.
Megara18>>Okay, okay, let’s hear it.
IBM_babe>>Well, the freshmen learned about spreadsheets and databases while the sophomores learned about powerpoint and telecommunication.

flour_power>>I've been doing projects too!! The home ec students have been making pajamas, organizing meals, and designing their weddings. Megara18>>Awesome! Maybe the students will think twice before they make the plunge towards couplehood.
flour_power>>That was the plan. This project was designed to help the students find out what they want in a relationship.
power_ag>>Hey, what about me? My students did projects too!! The students continued to work in the greenhouse. The students planted more than 4,000 plants. Some worked assembling small engines, while the younger students worked on FFA contest and other Greenhand stuff.

painting Oh yes, happy little tree here, happy little tree there.

You do know that there is more to art than just happy little trees.

Not for my artistic ability. But you've got my interest. What did you do this year?

Oh my, we did a lot this year, and boy were my classes full. We made clay cottages for one thing.

Clay cottages!!! What are they?

Exactly what they sound like. During that lesson we studied the different types of architecture, such as the simplicity of Greek Revival and Queen Anne's prestigious decor.

Then what?

Well, then we glazed them and started into our abstract painting of architecturally motivated houses. Oh yeah, we also did various lessons on water color. The students did a Walter Yost inspired painting while using different water techniques such as wet on wet, wet on dry, dry on dry, and dry on wet.

Cool! Well, it sounds like the students did a lot this year, but did anyone see their works of art?

Oh sure! The students were involved in the Federated Women's Club Contest, Highland Community College Art Day, and the DVL Art Day in Oskaloosa.

Wait, Wait! I thought I heard something about a show in the Albrecht Kemper that displayed high school students' works of art.

Oh yeah, that was an exciting event.

Megara18>> That would be great, but my true love is to be concert cellist.

Opus_boy>> That’s my girl! Whata say, we talk band.

Megara18>> Okay well, what did you do this year in band?

Opus_boy>> Well, in the beginning of the year, the high school band students got used to the new junior high band students.

Megara18>> Gosh, I bet it was hard to get a good sound with new students.

Opus_boy>> Yeah, but then as the year rolled on with more tunes and with more time; the band came together. And just in time for the DVL contest.

Megara18>> Oh yeah, I was meaning to ask you guys about the DVL contest.

Bach_woman>> We were great!! We got two II’s with a jazz ballad and a Renaissance piece.

Opus_boy>> Oh yeah, well we did great too with an ol’ western piece and contemporary piece in which we did very nice job. Well, at least I thought so!

Megara18>> Excellent! Say, how did the musical go this year? What was it “Seven Match-makers for Seven Kings.” Oh wait, I’m getting all the musicals mixed up. Now, I remember it was “Seven Brides for Seven Brothers.”

Bach_woman>> The show was a success!

Megara18>> I can see someone had a good year. Actually both of you had a good year. I guess all I can say now is to keep up the Good Work!—Megan Batchelder

With several clubs and 105 students, activities dominate the lives of almost everyone.

Computers are being used in every club in various ways. Journalism uses computers to put together the newspaper and yearbook while FFA types state and national degree applications on the computer.

All of the clubs are very busy throughout the year. Contests and ceremonies are held to test the students' knowledge and reward them for a job well done.

Years ago there were fewer clubs. As the school progresses towards the next 100 years, clubs will come and go. Hopefully, the students will always have the same enthusiasm about each organization.

The FFA Chapter received two stars at the National Convention held in November. The two stars place Highland within the top 5% of all of the FFA chapters in the nation.

The FFA did very well at the Leadership School. The B team placed first overall while the A team got second. The chapter team received third place overall. However, the chapter team placed second in Parliamentary Procedure which qualified them for State Convention.

Stephanie Blevins, senior, was very busy this year being district president.

Blevins said, "It was a great honor to be a part of the greatest youth organization in our nation."

Quiz Bowl and National Honor Society required their own server to download all of the academic knowledge that they acquired during the year. NHS held their annual installation on Tuesday, Oct. 7, inducting 10 new members. The new sophomore inductees were Cate Batchelder, Megan Blevins, Noah Diveley, Dustin Geiger, Stacy Neibling, Sandy Peters, Tessa Reist, Matt Reiter, Amanda Williams, and Lynn Windmeyer. NHS members are required to maintain a 3.0 G.P.A. throughout the years.

This year's quiz bowl team started a new web page by winning the Horton Invitational meet, placing 3rd out of the 1-A schools at High-Q, earning a regional championship, and thus receiving a berth to the Class 1-A State Quiz Bowl Meet. This year's varsity members were Hilary Harness and Thatcher Reist, seniors; Andrea Collins, junior; and Matt Reiter, sophomore, and it was the first time for any of these members to compete at the State meet. Harness said, "It was unbelievable how well we did this year, and we had a lot of fun competing and traveling together."

Donna Parish, journalism sponsor, said, "For the students and their sponsor, journalism is a love/hate relationship. Some days we all love journalism, some days we hate it.
Jill Evans, Stuco sponsor, said, "The Heart to Heart matches seem to be the most exciting time of the year with students who are willing to do almost anything to find out their love match."

Memorable Moments
"B day' class discussions about prom are definitely the most memorable moments in journalism," said Emily Jeschke.
"Heart to Heart was really fun, and I REALLY liked some of my matches," said Ashley Hill.
Denise Blevins said, "I was glad to finally find my true love through Heart to Heart."

The journalism staff kept the community and students on line with current news and happenings within the school district; which is no minor task. Not only did the staff put out eight newspapers and a yearbook, they also participated in the Kansas Scholastic Press Association (KSPA) Regional and State contests. The Regional contest was held at Kansas State University and advanced fifteen participants on to State. The State contest was held at Kansas University where Megan Batchelder earned an honorable mention in info-graphics, Emily Jeschke and Nathan Twombly, as a team, won an honorable mention in yearbook theme development, and Emily Stevens earned an honorable mention in double page spread.

Stuco has had a busy year planning dances and fun activities that students will always remember. The Icebreak dance was first to get everyone re-acquainted with each other and to welcome the freshmen to high school. Homecoming Spirit Week inspired students to take part and show their school spirit. They also went to the top dog, Mr. Collins, to get rock for the parking lot which was greatly appreciated by the students. Cheyenne Dorrell, Stuco president, said, "I think Stuco is important because it gives to the students a chance to organize activities that they think will be fun."

1998 was a very exciting year for athletics. Athletics have been at Highland almost since the school was started in 1897.

Throughout all of the sports teams this year, there was one thing in common: that was the support from the crowd. The cheerleaders had a major part in helping the crowd get into the game.

As this school moves into the future and grows, it is hard to say what changes there might be in athletics. Soccer, baseball, softball, wrestling, weight-lifting might be added. Who knows, they might even offer physical education in the future to upper classmen.

A charismatic volleyball season and team dominated the Delaware Valley League (DVL). The outstanding season record earned two championship titles and one runner-up trophy. Unfortunately, the journey to Hays for State was out-of-reach, but the team's goals and aspirations achieved during the overall season were tremendous.

Co-captains Kelly Merkel, Megan Batchelder, Stephanie Blevins, and Hilary Harness provided consistent senior leadership. Blevins led the setters with a 98 percent "good set" rate (those sets hit by spikers).

Cate Batchelder, sophomore, was the lead hitter with a 96.3 percent rate for spikes successfully completed.

The team participated in a timed mile run before beginning each practice on the gym floor. "I wouldn't say that I enjoyed the mile run, but I knew it was something our team needed to stay in shape," said Blevins.

Natalie Webb, junior, "thought we had strong senior leaders who kept us going when times were tough." Simpson said their post season team motto "I get knocked down, but I get up again" (lyrics to the popular song "Tub Thumping" by Chumbawamba) also kept the team going during game clenching situations.

Regionals were held at Highland but brought along tough game situations--Wetmore. Merkel said, "We had a lot of momentum going into regional action, but after the first game loss against Wetmore, it was hard to regain game winning composure."

Band parties are fun!!! Have them often.
Cate Batchelder, sophomore, and Jana Collins, freshman, attempt to slow down one of the many hard hits that Wetmore fired over the net. Batchelder and Collins quickly recovered for offensive play. Batchelder was the team's second leading blocker with 42 season blocks. Kelly Merkel (not pictured) led the team's defensive net play with 73 effective blocks and a 71.4 percent blocking rate. Season Highlights:

Highland's score of 64-7 over Valley Falls was the most points scored by a Highland team this decade.

Second team all DVL winners were Brant Clary, Thatcher Reist, Fred Green, and Josh Keebler.

Honorable mention went to Brant Clary and Rocky Ruhnke.

51. Freshman football players: Voluntarily do it or else.
The football team just couldn't get on line as they played many tough games that ended in a 1-8 losing record.

Ron Shelton coached the Bluestreaks for the sixth straight year. He was assisted by two new faces this year, Phil Roberts and Jay Gormley, '96.

The team was led by returning lettermen seniors: Chris Collins, Thatcher Reist, Kole Meyer, Brant Clary, Levi Lucas, Paul Idol, Eric Cole, Nathan Keebler, and Rocky Ruhnke.

Collins, Meyer, Idol, and Ruhnke served as team captains.

Reist led in rushing yards with a total of 69 carries for 565 yards. Clary followed closely with 68 carries for 531 yards.

Lucas received 4 passes for a total of 116 yards to become the leading receiver. Meyer and Idol proceeded with 5 for 93 and 4 for 57 yards.

Meyer said, "Although our record didn't show it, I felt that we played hard the whole year and had fun as a team. It has been a lot of fun playing with the team, and I will have many lasting memories; I just wish I could have played in the last few games."

The first touchdown of the year was made by Idol in the Pleasant Ridge game. Idol ended the season with 2 touchdowns; the second touchdown occurred in the Valley Falls game.

Reist made 10 touchdowns and had 38 tackles.

Brant Clary led in unassisted and assisted tackles with 45 and 40, respectively.

Collins followed with 31 unassisted tackles and 36 assisted.

Collins said, "Despite a losing season, I had a lot of fun. It was hard to play so many close games that ended just out of reach. I think that we had one of the most skilled teams in the league, but we lacked in size."

"A lot of emotions came out in the last game that I didn't know I had. It has been great playing with the juniors and seniors for the past 6 years," said Idol.
Long, long ago, before the internet came about, people ran to get where they wanted to go (and escape predators). Today people run for fun and competition.

"Between desire and talent, desire comes first" was the slogan for Gary Keehn's leadership as he coached the cross country team for the fourth year in a row. Keehn also ran in the New York City Marathon last fall, placing in the top 10 percent.

This year's cross country team enjoyed a very successful season. Colby Collins, senior, went on to State and others did very well at meets. Collins, Joe Swain, Emily Jeschke, and Denise Blevins were the seniors who led the team in points at every meet.

Jeschke said, "It was a fun season overall because we all relaxed more than in the past. We also had the best weather overall for races."

Collins said, "State didn't feel as good this year as what it did last year because Coach Keehn was not there (he was in New York at the Marathon). This year went by really fast, before I knew it I was at State again."

Season Highlights

Emily Jeschke, senior, was honored All-DVL honorable mention and was selected to play in the Northeast Kansas All-Star game at Highland Community College on April 4.

Also awarded was Andrea Collins, junior, for first team All-county and first team All-DVL.

This year's girls' basketball team didn't get many visits on their web site and ended the season with a record of 10-9.

The team was led by seven seniors, Emily Jeschke, Erin Jeschke, Megan Batchelder, Stephanie Blevins, Hilary Harness, Kelly Merkel, and Denise Blevins, and junior Andrea Collins.

Collins led the team with 244 points and 137 rebounds.

The season started out at the annual Delaware Valley League Tournament that was held at the Benedictine College in Atchison.

In the first round the Bluestreaks took on the Trojans from Troy. Unfortunately, the Bluestreaks fell 31-43.

After winning the next two rounds in the tournament against Valley Falls and Oskaloosa, the team placed 5th.

The last game of the year was against Wetmore in the first round of Regionals at Highland. This was a memorable moment for the seniors as it was the last game of their high school career.

"I was disappointed that we had to end the season on such a rough game. Overall, we had a winning season," said senior Emily Jeschke.

Emily Jeschke led the team in assists and was the second highest leader in steals and points with 144. She averaged 7.5 points per game.

Batchelder was second highest in rebounds with 99, and she had 71 points for the season.

Juniors T.J. Simpson and Miranda Boos aided the team. Simpson, who scored 62 points, also had 52 rebounds. Boos had 24 rebounds and scored 14 points.

Simpson said, "I will miss the seniors next year; I only wish that I could have played with them more this year. I am looking forward to next year."

Brad Bingesser and Marla Olson coached the teams.

Bingesser said, "The contribution of the senior class will be missed next year. The underclassmen are greatful for the positives the seniors gave to the team. After two straight winning seasons, we will have some fine players returning, and we will look forward to another winning season."
The boys' basketball season ended with a disappointing record of 5 wins and 15 losses as several of the players felt the level of their talent was never achieved. Ron Shelton was head coach again this year and was assisted by Larry Sandy.

Shelton said, "This year I felt that we competed well with a lot of teams, but we always came up short in the end."

The seniors on this year's team were Paul Idol, Thatcher Reist, Kole Meyer, Chris Collins, Brant Clary, and Levi Lucas.

Brant Clary was the leading scorer and rebounder with 15 points per game and 10 rebounds per game. His younger brother, Travis Clary, was second leading scorer and rebounder with 11 points and seven rebounds per game. Lucas was third in scoring with seven points a game, and Meyer led the team in assists with 60 for the year.

Travis Clary said, "It was not a Cinderella season, but that did not stop the memories."

Lucas said, "I would like to extend thanks to my fellow seniors for the memorable years." -- Rocky Ruhnke

The life of the high school student has changed dramatically since this high school was formed in 1897. These changes include air conditioning, computers, running water, and the waxer that is used in journalism. The waxer has failed to be mentioned in the yearbook before, and without it this yearbook would not be possible.

Students today enjoy a variety of extra-curricular activities that were not available to the students of yesterday's generation. Tomorrow's student will have an even broader spectrum of extra-curricular activities such as baseball, and with the aid of computers, there might even be a possibility of students going to school at home.

Aaron Dillman, freshman, said, "There are days when I dislike this school, and there are days when I like this school. Overall I can't think of a better place to go to school."

62. Homework can wait; go out and have fun.
During halftime of the football game against the McLouth Bulldogs, Ashley Hill and Paul Idol were crowned Homecoming queen and king.

The crowd was "logged in" on Oct. 3, and while LeAnne Rimes' "Unchained Melody" played, the candidates walked gracefully onto the field in suspense. The attendants were Stephanie Blevins, Denise Blevins, Brant Clary and Thatcher Reist.

After the touching ceremony, Hill was swept off her feet by her king, Idol. It was a sentimental moment for everyone.

Hill stated, "I was honored to be crowned Homecoming queen. It was very special because Paul and I have been good friends for so long."

The dance following the game was well attended. Everyone enjoyed the music by Tracy Waller Entertainment.

Although the Bluestreaks didn't come out with a victory, the crowd enjoyed watching Thatcher Reist run the ball towards Bulldog territory.

64. Request "Moni Moni" often. What a great song.
The chat lines were buzzing Oct. 28 about Andrea Collins, junior, winning the chapter Sweetheart title. The other participants were freshmen: Ashley Webb and Julianne Blevins; sophomores: Megan Blevins and Lynn Windmeyer; and junior: Lisa Westcott.

The judges were Bill Noll, the elder; Kathleen Twombly and Kerry Priest, State Sentinel. The participants were graded on speeches, interviews and chores. The chores were rise and shine, bet the farm, powerlifting, Mama’s home cooking and “udder fun.”

Megan Blevins said, “I thought the events were all fun except the mysterious pie contest when I swallowed a sardine.”

Collins said, “I had a lot of fun, but the events did get a bit dirty. It was definitely a night to remember, especially getting booted by the cow.”

The speech topic was “The role FFA has played in your life and how it will help in the future.”

The FFA earned $3035 for the work sales with Rocky Ruhnke, senior, at the top of the list. Barnwarming was all possible because of the families and businesses in the area that donated money.

Subject: Musical
To: hhs.choir/sevenbridessevenbrothers
Date: November 13 & 14, 1997

Once again the choir amazed the community and their peers with their production of Seven Brides for Seven Brothers. Over half of the student body participated in this light hearted and humorous musical as a cast or crew member.

"Because the musical was funny, there wasn't a lot of pressure on us if we messed up," said Stephanie Blevins, senior.

Thatcher Reist, senior, played the male lead as Adam Pontipee. Stephanie Blevins played the female lead as Milly. Milly fell in love and into marriage instantly with Adam. Unbeknownst to Milly, Adam is one of seven brothers.

Milly is given the daunting task of civilizing the rugged brothers played by Colby Collins, Levi Lucas, Kole Meyer, seniors; Adam Lackey, junior; Kyle Dillman, and Jason Nolte, freshmen.

The "sobin'" women that soon became summer brides were played by Denise Blevins, Emily Jeschke, Erin Jeschke, Kelly Merkel, Cheyenne Dorrell, seniors; and Andrea Collins, junior.

Seven Brides for Seven Brothers captured the hearts of the audience with Reist's male chauvinist role and Blevins' bound and determined attitude.

"It was a very enjoyable experience. And it was a lot of fun for everyone," said Reist.

67. Never miss practice.

King of Courts Thatcher Reist and Queen Emily Jeschke stole the show during the McLouth basketball game. Reist and Jeschke were rewarded for their academic and extracurricular efforts with cheers and memorabilia.

On Friday, Feb. 6, in front of an electric crowd, Thatcher Reist and Emily Jeschke assumed the throne as the King and Queen of Courts. Reist and Jeschke stood at midcourt accompanied by attendant couples Kole Meyer and Stephanie Blevins, and Brant Clary and Denise Blevins.

The candidates took the floor quickly following the blare of the half time buzzer. Romance and awe filled the gymnasium as Celine Dione's song "My heart will go on," from the motion picture Titanic, engrossed all other sounds. Then Kristen McCauley, freshman, began the introductions of a high school lifetime. The final church, hobby, and extra-curricular was stated, and the crowd hushed. Jordan Cluck and Kassidy Blevins, the flower girl and crown bearer, stepped forward. Suddenly an ovation leaped from the stands and awarded the new king and queen. The participants assumed their positions on the floor. A steady roar of cheers rained down to reward all of the candidates for achieving such elegance, character, and social acceptance. Then Reist gracefully attached the crown atop the head of his queen, and the moment took its place in history and in the hearts of onlookers.

The royal couple posed for a few snap shots, then hurried back to the stands allowing the excitement to continue.

The Bluestreaks returned to the court swelled with pride and ambition, and defeated the McLouth Bulldogs by 1!

Alumni are welcome. YMCA on the stage is Awesome!!!
Community involvement and hard work made Educational Extravaganza possible. Fund raisers for the trips included donkey basketball, a winter carnival, a dinner, cleaning Arrowhead stadium.

Students not choosing to go on Educational Extravaganza learned about economics and had several fun activities to spice up the days.

Fifty juniors, sophomores, and freshmen attended YMCA Camp Lakewood near St. Louis, MO to build problem solving, team, and leadership skills. The Alpine Tower, a fifty foot high structure designed for climbing, took skills and concentration. A high ropes course was suspended thirty feet above the ground. The juniors explored a mud cave, while the freshmen and sophomores worked on team building and a ropes course. The students also participated in community service such as de-rocking a stream, putting up a teepee, and cleaning horse saddles.

Twenty-seven seniors and four sponsors partied it up at Galveston Island, Texas. The trek began on March 28 at noon. The first night was spent at Oklahoma City. The students bought groceries from Wal-Mart for the next couple of days. They also visited the Moody Rain Forest. They viewed a 3-D IMAX film there before returning to their beach front condos. Ocean fun was next on the agenda. Body surfing, wave jumping, and tanning were several highlights of the ocean. The students visited the Johnson Space Center at NASA in Houston the following day. Mission control, rockets, and hands-on activities left an impact and wider knowledge of space and how it is explored.

Hard Rock Cafe in Houston gave everyone a chance to relax before exploring the Kirkpatrick Center in Oklahoma City. Physics students saw what they had learned in school in action. Many hands-on activities provided hours interest and learning. The Oklahoma City bombing site was visited also. Tears were provoked by the poems, stuffed animals, bracelets, and pictures left by victims’ friends and families and those who only wished to show their compassion.

72. Tossing sponges at teachers was fun. We should do that every day. 75
The cars were waxed, the hair-do's were done, and boutonierres were firmly fastened, and it was off to the Junior/Senior Prom to be greeted by all their "Friends."

After the processional down the sidewalk, the couples proceeded into the gym to have happy hour cocktail and hors 'd oevour. Pictures by Bray's and parents were next, and then it was off into the other part of the gym to dine.

Andrea Collins, junior class president, gave a warm welcome, and Kelly Merkel, senior class president, spoke for the seniors to thank them for all the wonderful decorations and memories. Jon Theobald, junior, gave the invocation, and everyone sat down to enjoy their delicious filet mignon and red velvet cake.

Molly O'Brien, junior, said, "Originally we had a Casper song theme, but Travis Clary thought "Friends" was a better theme for the senior class, so we went with it."

Once the meal was over, the group headed to the gym to enjoy the sounds of No Limits from Hiawatha. With worn down shoes and visions of bowling pins, the revelers were off to St. Joseph to score the big one at Olympia Lanes.

Hilary Harness, senior, said, "Ohmigosh, I got thirty-five dollars, and some kickin' new Mary Kay make-up!"

"Stop! In the name of love, before you break my heart." This is the thought that is going through the minds and hearts of the eleven graduating seniors along with their director Cheryl Rasmussen and the remaining Swing Choir members.

Just speaking of the eleven seniors leaving brings a tear to Rasmussen's eye. "The seniors have provided us with tremendous leadership the past four years, and we will miss them," said Rasmussen.

The Swing Choir has had a busy year. They received a I rating at the Delaware Valley League Music Festival, Regionals, and State.

Of their performance at State, Jana Collins, freshman, said, "I thought the choir sounded very balanced, and that we sang up to our potential."

Tour was the highlight of the Swing Choir's year. It took them to Bern High School, DeKalb High School, and back to Highland High School. Some of their tour songs included "Seize The Day," "That Thing You Do," and "Feels Like Home."

"Tour was a lot of fun. Of the schools we toured, the Highland crowd was by far the best," said Kole Meyer, senior.

The Swing Choir had a successful year. Receiving a I rating at State shows that they were rewarded for their hardwork, dedication, and talent. Memories of the 1997-98 Swing Choir will always remain in their hearts.

"The seniors have provided us with leadership and talent. We have had a lot of fun, and we will miss them all very much," said Andrea Collins, junior.

Awards Night http://hhs.faculty.seniorrecognition/

Awards night was held May 15 to recognize students for their hard work and effort throughout the school year. Senior class president Kelly Merkel gave the seniors' class history compressed into 10 minutes of humorous highlights.

Next the awards presentation launched with the All School Awards. The Armed Service Scholar Athlete Awards were won by seniors Megan Batchelder and Brant Clary. Hilary Harness, senior, was recognized by a Citizenship Award, and juniors T.J. Simpson and Adam Lackey were given the IDARE YOU Award for their responsibility. Juniors Andrea Collins and Travis Clary were awarded the Wendy's High School Heisman for excellence in academics, athletics and community work.

Seniors Heather Hunsaker, Thatcher Reist, and Kelly Merkel all received scholarships from local businesses and organizations. Other scholarships and college plans were announced by counselor Gerre Martin.

Students in clubs like art, Quiz Bowl, and music were recognized for their participation and any awards they picked up through the year.

The final awards came with the announcement of Emily Jeschke and Stephanie Blevins as salutatorians and four valedictorians: Rilie Kafer, Kelly Merkel, Kole Meyer, and Thatcher Reist.

The evening's events signed off with a video history of the class of '98 that featured them singing, playing, and just having fun. The video brought back many memories for the honored seniors.

The Bluestreaks were blessed with a large class of navigators to help lead them across the net.

The seniors' graduation took place Sunday, May 24, at Highland High School's gymnasium.

The commencement began with Tessa Reist playing the piano, followed by Andrea Collins playing, "Pomp and Circumstance," by Elgar.

As the ceremony went on, the honor students spoke to those in attendance.

All spoke on a topic which really affected them the most through high school. They addressed such subjects as family, community, faculty and administration, organizations, leadership opportunities, and friends.

After many put four hard worked years into high school, many will leave as outstanding scholars and role models for the classes that will follow.

The net generation invented many new fads and fashions which were displayed throughout the school, internet, shopping malls, and weekend hang-outs. Body glitter sparkled on the faces of cheerleaders, guys turned to braided hair, and for girls, short hair began to make a comeback; not to mention the art of body piercing and of body branding has left an everlasting impression on the "student body."

Many new faces became fashion icons and the objects of every girls' affection, such as Loeardo DiCaprio (Titanic) and Prince William (England's Prince of Wales). Some of the new faces included pop rock groups such as the Spice Girls and Hanson brothers—wow.

Once everyone was sparkled pierced, branded, braided, and ready to go with the hot tunes of Spice Girls' "Wannabe" and Hanson's "Mmm Bop!" students hit the local Dairy Queen and Sonic hang-outs for blizzards and lemon berry slushes. After the music ended, it was time to make the connection back to the home page.

100. Seniors are the greatest. Freshmen are geeks.
These are the students of Highland High School.

This is the end of another yearbook by Highland High School. 1997-98 was a year of growth and challenge. In this yearbook we tried to cover a little of the past, a lot of the present, and a view of the future. The journalism staff hopes that everyone enjoys this yearbook and that it will bring back a lot of memories in the years to come.

101. This yearbook is the greatest and the staff is the greatest and the class of 1998 is the greatest.
Asian economic turmoil triggers global unrest. In October, Hong Kong’s stock market crashes. Asian countries receive billions in bailout dollars from the International Monetary Fund.

A 15-day school strike in Ontario, Canada, affects 2.1 million students. Late in October, 128,000 teachers walk out to protest a controversial bill that would alter educational funding and centralize government control of education.

Governments and businesses worldwide race to remedy the “Year 2000” problem. Unless key computer systems are reprogrammed to recognize dates in the new century, the world faces the threat of catastrophic failure in critical areas like banking, air safety, public utilities and defense.

Hong Kong revert to China at 12:01 a.m., July 1, after 156 years of British colonial rule. China says Hong Kong will continue its Western way of life and free-market economy.

Montserrat, once called “the Emerald Isle of the Caribbean,” is devastated by ongoing eruptions from a volcano that had been dormant for 600 years. Two-thirds of the populace evacuates.

Change sweeps Great Britain as Labor Party leader Tony Blair’s landslide election in May 1997 ousts the Conservatives and makes Blair, at 44, Britain’s youngest prime minister in 185 years.

Hurricane Pauline slams into Mexico’s Pacific coast in October, causing flash floods, landslides and at least 200 fatalities. The resort city of Acapulco is heavily damaged.

Powerful earthquakes in central Italy kill 11 people and damage art treasures, including centuries-old frescoes by Italian Renaissance painters, in the Basilica of St. Francis of Assisi.

The remains of Ernesto “Che” Guevara, martyred Marxist revolutionary, are laid to rest in Cuba in October, 30 years after his execution in Bolivia, where his bones recently had been found.

After 32 years of autocratic rule, President Mobutu Sese Seko of Zaire is deposed in May 1997 and later dies in exile. His successor, Laurent Kabila, changes Zaire’s name to Democratic Republic of the Congo.

Halloween fever seizes France. At the base of the Eiffel Tower in Paris 8,000 pumpkins are displayed, and French children participate in an American-style Halloween celebration.
President Jiang Zemin of China meets for summit talks with President Bill Clinton in October, the first visit in 12 years of a Chinese leader to the U.S. During his stay, demonstrators protest China's treatment of Tibet.

One of the most poignant images of Diana's funeral: her young sons following her coffin into Westminster Abbey.

The death of "the people's princess" generates an emotional outpouring of love and grief, evidenced by floral tributes heaped at Diana's Kensington Palace home.

Diana, Princess of Wales, one of the world's most famous and admired women, dies at 36 in a violent car crash in Paris on August 31.

At the funeral, Elton John performs "Candle in the Wind 1997," rewritten in tribute to Diana. The recording quickly sells more than 35 million copies, becoming the best-selling single of all time. Sales proceeds benefit the Diana, Princess of Wales Memorial Fund.

Crisis flares again in Iraq in late 1997 as Saddam Hussein protests U.N. sanctions and blocks inspection of suspected Iraqi weapon sites.

Floods, drought and mismanagement in North Korea create a severe famine. As many as a million North Koreans die of starvation.

In June, shortly before Diana's death, an auction of 79 of her evening gowns raises $3.26 million for AIDS and cancer charities. Top price paid for a single gown: $222,500.

Pope John Paul II visits Communist Cuba in January 1998, the first time a pope has done so. During his five-day visit the pope celebrates public masses and meets privately with President Fidel Castro.
On July 23, suspected murderer Andrew Cunanan, 27, commits suicide in Miami Beach. Cunanan was the prime suspect in a cross-country killing spree that left five dead, including fashion designer Gianni Versace.

Once-mighty Apple Computer is close to failure when arch-rival Bill Gates of Microsoft "rescues" it with a $150 million bail-out in August. The event opens a new era of cooperation between formerly fierce competitors.

In April 1997, floods rage the entire Red River Valley between Minnesota and the Dakotas. Ninety percent of downtown Grand Forks, North Dakota, is under water.

Americans join "Stop the Violence" campaigns nationwide in an attempt to generate awareness of and solutions to the problem of violence in America.

Joe Camel is snuffed out as the Federal Trade Commission bans tobacco advertising aimed at minors and institutes sweeping tobacco advertising restrictions.

First Lt. Kelly Flinn accepts a general discharge from the Air Force, avoiding court-martial for lying about an affair and disobeying orders. Flinn had been the first and only female B-52 pilot in the service.

Theodore Kaczynski admits he is the Unabomber responsible for killing 3 people and injuring 29 others in an 18-year bombing campaign. His January 1998 guilty plea spares Kaczynski the death penalty but condemns him to life in prison with no possibility of release.

UPS workers take to the picket lines in an August strike lasting 15 days. The eventual settlement is seen as a major labor victory.

British nanny Louise Woodward, 19, is convicted in Massachusetts of murdering a child in her care. The judge later reduces the charge to involuntary manslaughter and releases her.

Timothy McVeigh is convicted of murder and conspiracy in June for the April 1995 bombing of the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City. McVeigh is later sentenced to death.

On May 15, 2002, Louise Woodward is convicted of the murder of 8-month-old Elianian Galdotis in Massachusetts.
Fast-food giant Burger King is forced to stop serving burgers when supplier Hudson Foods recalls 25 million pounds of hamburger suspected of contamination with E. coli bacteria. It is the biggest beef recall in U.S. history.

Flash

The all-male Promise Keepers movement inspires praise and controversy for its message of spiritual revival and personal responsibility for men. In October, the group holds a giant rally in Washington, D.C.

Once-secret tape recordings of former presidents Kennedy and Nixon are released publicly. The tapes provide an unvarnished, and sometimes unflattering, glimpse into the two presidents' actions and conversations in the White House.

On October 25, at least 300,000 African-American women gather in Philadelphia for the Million Woman March. Winnie Madikizela-Mandela is one of the speakers.
The popular diet regimen fen-phen is pulled off the market in September. The combination of fenfluramine and phentermine is shown to cause heart valve disorders, as in the diet drug Redux, also recalled.

Research produces medical breakthroughs, including a genetically engineered "bullet" molecule being tested to fight cancer and new drugs to control or prevent Parkinson's disease, osteoporosis and congestive heart failure.

For $8.36 million, Chicago's Field Museum of Natural History buys " Sue," the most complete Tyrannosaurus rex fossil yet discovered. The sale occurs October 4 at Sotheby's in New York.

Scottish scientists in February 1997 announce the world's first cloning of an adult mammal. The sheep, named Dolly, fuels controversy over possible misuse of the technology.

Fuel cells that convert a fuel's energy directly into electricity are being developed for use in cars, making possible an efficient, low-emission car of the future.

The first prescription pill for male-pattern baldness is approved by the Food and Drug Administration in December. The drug Propecia is made by Merck and Company.

Aided by the Hubble Space Telescope, astronomers discover the Pistol Star—the brightest star yet observed in the Milky Way. The Pistol Star is 25,000 light years from Earth.
Comet Hale-Bopp captures imaginations worldwide as it streaks past Earth for the first time in 2,100 years—or, since 2263 B.C. Hale-Bopp next returns in 4397.

On October 13, the British jet car Thrust SSC becomes the first vehicle to break the sound barrier on land, traveling 866.6 miles per hour in the Nevada desert.

In December, 159 nations gather in Kyoto, Japan, and negotiate a climate treaty to combat global warming by reducing greenhouse gases.

El Niño stirs up global weather patterns. Caused by warmer-than-normal water temperatures in the equatorial Pacific, the '97 El Niño is blamed for storms and weather problems worldwide.

The Food and Drug Administration approves a dental laser for treating cavities. Unlike traditional dental drills, the laser in most cases causes virtually no discomfort.

Protestors unsuccessfully attempt to prevent the October launch of NASA's Cassini spacecraft to Saturn, fearing an accident could shower the Earth with the rocket's radioactive plutonium.

French oceanographer and award-winning filmmaker Jacques Cousteau dies in June at 87. His work gained renown through the popular television series "The Undersea World of Jacques Cousteau."

"Riven," the long-awaited computer adventure game sequel to Myst, proves to be just as popular and even more sophisticated visually than its predecessor.

Hong Kong authorities in December order the slaughter of more than a million chickens in an effort to halt the spread of a bird flu virus that killed six people.

The space shuttle Columbia releases the errant Spartan satellite in November. U.S. astronaut Winston Scott and Takao Doi, the first Japanese astronaut to do a space walk, retrieve the satellite for return to Earth.
Teen People, a savvy monthly magazine for and about teenagers, premieres in February 1998.
