Serving DWHS

By Ruby Rhodd, Senior Class President

Being Doniphan West High School Senior Class President is hard work. Having to deal with fundraising, Homecoming, and planning Senior Sneak, it's hard to manage the time for hanging out with friends or finishing homework.

I was excited to be class president because it is a special honor. Although there were rough times, I am lucky to have close friends to help out. I couldn't have done half the stuff that we, as a class, wanted to do without my peers and the other class officers.

I know that all of us had senioritis, and with Senior Project times were difficult; however, we prevailed and I am proud to say that all of my classmates succeeded. I hope that all of my friends will look back and will be proud to say they graduated and successfully completed the challenge of Senior Project. I know I will.

Planning Senior Sneak is a long process, and some people assume the class president makes all of the decisions. I value my friends' input and opinions, and I wanted to make this a class decision instead of one person making the decisions. I just want my class to know that I listened to each of their thoughts and thus made decisions with our class sponsors, who have helped tremendously throughout the year. I hope that I made my class proud as their president; it was an interesting and fulfilling opportunity that I am proud to have gotten.

I hope my classmates have wonderful opportunities in the future, and that they either "go big, or go home." Our class is a certain kind of generation, one that will be remembered for the drama, the laughs, and the crazy people that made the number '13' unforgettable.

We're starting the next chapter of our lives

By THS Senior Class President Jacob Winkel Graduation? Already??

It seems like just yesterday that we were excited little freshmen starting a new chapter in our lives at Troy High School. We looked up to the seniors in hopes that someday, we might too be as cool as they. We couldn't wait to grow up. The day couldn't come soon enough that we would be walking into Troy High as seniors at the very top. I would have never imagined those four years could fly by so quickly. Our class has always been very close to each other. The countless memories we have made together will be forever treasured.

As the days draw closer to graduation, we are all looking back wondering where the time has gone. It's hard preparing to say goodbye to a school and community that we all grew up in together. But each of us has to face this struggle. A very big key to helping us get over this bump is our parents. I have no clue where we would be without them! Being such a close class, I've not only had just my parents to support me, but everyone else's parents as well. We have an amazing group of parents that are willing to support every one of my classmates. Having such a strong support system has helped our class succeed. Our parents have also helped boost our confidence in ourselves. Without confidence, we would be scared to try anything new. My classmates have proven how much confidence they have. I am very proud to say that each one of us is trying something new. Many of us are furthering our education in college; a few are trying out collegiate sports; others are entering the workforce to start their lives, while some have decided to serve this great country. Each and every one of us is taking a giant leap out of this community and into a completely foreign world. And, although this can be scary, I know that there isn't a single person out of this class that is going to let failure be an option. Each of us has always strived to do our best whether we're competing on the court, the field, or in the classroom. Everyone participates in something and we all find pride in doing our best in whatever we do.

I am extremely proud to say I am a part of this great group of people that I can call my friends. It has been such an honor to spend thirteen years with this class and to be able to grow close to each of them. We've had some kids move away, but we've also had many move here to become part of our "family." The past thirteen years have given me the most amazing memories that I will cherish. As we each begin a new chapter in our lives, there are numerous people to thank. A very big thanks to all of our parents who have tolerated our always knowing more than they do, but still stepping in to help fix any problems that arise from our great wisdom, and for supporting us in everything. Also, thanks to this great community and the support that everyone has given us. It is very much appreciated! And finally thanks to the Lord above who has watched over each of us and who has constantly helped guide us through life.

So Troy High School Class of 2013, I wish you the best of luck in all of your future endeavors. No matter where life leads you, may you never forget where you came from and everything you have learned while you were here.

Best Wishes!

Into the Future for the Class of 2013

By Dylan Gabriel,
Riverside High School
Senior Class President

It has been a fun and exciting year at Riverside High School. Although it's just our second year with that title and the friends we have gained from different schools, we have made enough memories to last a lifetime. Throughout the year, I'm sad to say, there has been a plague among us. This plague is called

"Senioritis." We all are happy for our time spent at Riverside but are itching to get out and move on to our future plans.

With each of us traveling down new paths, we hope to accomplish our goals for the future. The secondary plans for the class of 2013 includes entering the military, the workforce, and attending college. Some of the colleges that will acquire former Riverside students are Highland Community College, Allen County Community College, Missouri Western State University, Northwest Missouri State University and Pittsburg State University.

This poem entitled "Senioritis" that I came across the other day connects well with the class of 2013.

"Senioritis"
Sitting here waiting
Watching the clock slowly tick
Tic toc Tic toc

The days go by slowly
It's May and graduation's in sight
It is getting harder to wake up in the morning

Pushing the snooze button once again

Trying to find reasons to stay home

The mind is elsewhere, floating in the clouds

Graduation is full speed ahead
Senioritis is getting worse

The heart is set on graduation
The mind wants to sleep in 'til

noon
BAM

Graduation is finally here
That was the cure needed all along

by Kilee Burton

I wish the best of luck to all of my peers that will stand before me on graduation day.

"Congratulations Class of 2013. We Did It!"

Graduation Quotes

You have brains in your head, You have shoes on your feet. You can steer yourself in any direction you choose. You're on your own. And you know what you want. You are the guy to decide where to go. - Dr. Seuss, beloved author of Horton Hears a Who and Cat in the Hat.

Graduation day is tough for adults. They go to the ceremony as parents. They come home as contemporaries. After twenty-two years of child raising, they are now unemployed. - Erma Bombeck

A graduation ceremony is an event where the commencement speaker tells thousands of students dressed in identical caps and gowns that 'individuality' is the key to success. - Robert Orben

KEEP SHINING

May today be the first of many proud achievements for you.

We wish you all the best as you embark on a bright and exciting future.

You did it! Good Luck!
