The Midway students attend their yearbook signing party, but the annual bonfire which follows was postponed because of strong winds.

This year, the band's goal is to get more students to participate in band. Miss Stettler is the new high school band director.

The boys tell each other their "hunting" stories during lunch hour.

EAGLE '85
VOLUME 26
MIDWAY HIGH SCHOOL
DENTON, KANSAS 66017
Let's rename Midway High School. We can call it "High school." If we add a black and white wrapper, presto — we have a generic high school.

Generic seems to be an appropriate term to describe Midway High School. In this, the twenty-sixth volume of The Eagle, you will find that National Honor Society, Student Council, Boys’ M-Club, cheerleading, athletics, and many other aspects of Midway High School change very little through the years, and repetition is not uncommon.

For example, one student (whose name must be kept a secret) was startled in the fourth week of school to discover that Mrs. Ringe was no longer in the library. This lack of observation may not be uncommon in Midway Students. In the first volume of The Eagle, in 1959, there is no mention of the newly built high school. A picture of it does appear on the cover of the volume but nowhere within it.

Another example of repetition is the controversy over whether the school should be consolidated. This controversy began when the high school was built in 1959. It was repeated over the more recent building of the elementary school, and it will undoubtedly arise again when the necessity to consolidate arises in the future.

Also, many of the students attending Midway are the second generation to attend school here. There are new faces, but the names remain the same.

Carmen Albers complained, "The underclassmen are getting away with a lot more than they used to." Seniors have complained of this since the term underclassmen was invented.

In addition, Jean Albers noted, "Everybody has their own group." Sylvia (Meyers) Thompson, a 1972 graduate of Midway, said that there were several cliques when she attended high school. It seems that this is another aspect of school that remains the same through the years.

Furthermore, some students even feel that the football team's third state victory was something to be expected. Just like a birthday. Winning is fun but not new.

Next, when asked if there were any big changes in school since last year, Krista Keys replied, "We have different lockers!" That was the BIG change!

Finally, Kevin Lentz asked, "Have you ever noticed that the color you associate with school is grey?" An appropriate observation. Grey is a mixture of black and white — generic colors.

Although students may change from year to year, Midway High School will probably be what it is as long as it exists: at times a learning place, at times a boring place, and just a place!

"Oh, look at this, Jennifer," exclaims Janet Elliott, senior, about the things she collected at Career Day.

Marlo Anderson is glad that initiation is a part of Midway.
It's another generic year at Midway

Don't let Jane Halling, senior, fool you. She's not really studying; she's sleeping!

Winning the state championship for the third year was fun but not new.
Danny Nigus demonstrates the versatility of Mike Everhart's coat to Jim Betts and Neil Caudle.

"I still think I play the clarinet better than you," said Kari Holzhey to Terri Dawn Russell.
The fall of '84 will be remembered both as the year Midway High School's football team won their third state victory and for the first relatively successful transplant of a baboon heart into a human. Both world and local events will play a big part in our memories.

During the month of September, Ernest Tubb, famous country singer, died; Hurricane Diana struck in the west; Mayor Berkley, mayor of Kansas City, Missouri, had open heart surgery; and five convicts escaped from Leavenworth Penitentiary.

Meanwhile, at Midway, Stuco elections were held; the yearbook signing party was held, but there was no bonfire due to wind; football, volleyball, and cross country seasons began; the band participated in K.U. Band Day; and Danny Nigus and Sue Elder were king and queen of Homecoming.

In October, the first woman walked in space; Detroit won the World Series; a presidential debate was held in Kansas City; and Indira Gandhi was assassinated by her own guards.

Back at Midway the quiz bowl began; Mrs. Stillings received the teacher of the year award; the juniors held a dinner theater and presented the play "Toga, Toga, Toga"; seniors took their ACT tests; juniors took CPP tests; and the band marched in the Hiawatha parade.

In November elections were held, and President Reagan was re-elected; the space shuttle Enterprise was in Kansas City; Martin Luther King, Sr., and Baby Fae died; an explosion in Mexico caused the deaths of 306 people; and William Shroeder was the second man to receive an artificial heart.

At Midway yearbook sales began; several students were expelled for smoking; Gordons held a party; juniors and seniors went to K-State and Emporia State universities; girls' basketball practice began and the football team won the state championship for the third time.

These events, along with more personal events will form the basis of our memories of the fall of '84.
DOES SCHOOL END AT 3:20?

"It's 3:19; come on, bell, ring! I want to go home." Finally, the bell rings; it's 3:20; everyone's running for lockers. But does school really end there? Where do Midway students go on the weekends, and what do they do while they're there?

Most students said that there was no way to be away from school on the weekends. There is either a volleyball game or some other school activity or homework to do on the weekends. On the average students spend 7 to 10 hours a day at school. They think that weekends should be open to things they want to do.

On the weekends most of the students at Midway go their separate ways. Sue Elder, senior, said about the senior class going out together, "No, and if so, it's as a small group. Usually 4 or 5."

The senior class does not go out together. Now many of the seniors go out on dates with other people and are not with their friends as much.

Some seniors like going to Kirby's because it is a place where you can get rowdy and have as much fun as you want, said Connie Ferguson, senior.

"It seems as if we've gone to school with each other most of our lives, and yet we don't really know each other. We spend most of our time out of school at athletic events or doing something on our own. We never spend any time together getting to know each other," commented Kathy Anderson, senior.

The only class at Midway that ever goes out as a group is the junior class and that usually consists of the boys. Usually about 6 or 7 of the boys go to St. Joseph to the movies and out to eat or to Atchison to McDonald's to eat.

When the students go on a date on the weekends, they usually spend between $10.00 to $30.00. They usually go to St. Joseph to the movies and eat at either Red Lobster or McDonald's. Three quarters of the students at Midway listen to rock music more than country. Most buy Lee jeans and Nike tennis shoes.

Going to a small school is quite different from a large school because there are fewer kids to get to know. There is less competition in sports because of the lack of students participating. Also there is a smaller teacher-student ratio. But there are some disadvantages to going to a small school like Midway. You usually have to travel a long way to go anywhere on the weekends. You really don't have to work to beat other students out of positions on the sports teams because it is usually the seniors and juniors on varsity and sophomores and freshmen on junior varsity. Even though there are some disadvantages of going to a small school, most students like going to Midway even if it is small.

Our school is different compared to other schools. Midway sits in the middle of a cornfield. But even so, nothing is ever out of the ordinary. Most of the kids are from farming families. All the kids from the small towns around go to school at Midway. Our weekends are mainly the same as all the other schools around here. There are not very many places to go and not many things to do.
The volleyball girls work hard during practice, but lacked team work during the games.

Kellie Norris and Anne Joyce fall asleep during the 5 hour bus ride to Russel.

A new Pepsi machine was installed at Midway, but the price rose from .45 to .50.

Kathy Anderson and Kelli Soyland were two of the seniors that were able to vote in the 1984 election.
As things come and go, it seems that sometimes our school spirit has gone. Even early in the year, the consensus of the students and some of the faculty was that the level of spirit has declined over the years.

Since Jim Leatherman, high school math instructor, has been at Midway, he has noticed a bit of decline in school spirit or at least the kids don’t express it as outwardly, which is part of the reason for the low attendance at school functions. He said there is more individual involvement.

Susan Bennett, librarian, said, "This school has some spirit but needs more. The seniors are the most spirited of the students, but most of the students will rally for a big game, school event, or a player doing well on the playing field."

Carmen Albers, senior, said, "School spirit is important because it's the way to have fun in school. If there isn't anymore spirit in the coming years, this school will be dead."

June Roberts, home economics teacher, said it was necessary to have spirit because it's the way to motivate the students in school and in athletics.

One of the "new arrivals" at Midway, Susan Purmort, junior, said, "We're more involved than my school last year. I thought it was exciting when we started decorating the halls."

Lack of participation is probably the main culprit in this school's spirit. Not only is this with spectators, it's also with the participation of sports. At most of the games, it's not uncommon to see people running around with friends or at the concession stand all night.

The one thing that did motivate the students was the Midway-Highland game. At that game the spirit rose to a dramatic level. Mark Laverentz and Michael Brox said it was because they knew they had to win to go on to the playoffs, but another cause was because of the rivalry between the two schools.

During spirit week the amount of participation was extremely small. The students who dressed up the most were the seniors. The freshmen did only because they were afraid of the consequences. Even some of them didn't. The days to dress up were Old People's Day, Nerd Day, Toga Day, Career Day, and the ever-so-popular Grubby Day.

On Friday morning of that week, the senior girls fixed breakfast for the football players. They had to start their breakfast of scrambled eggs, sausage, cinnamon rolls, orange juice, and milk at 6:30 in the morning.
School spirit is reflected in the low attendance at games.

Jim Betts laughs as Jane Halling asks for a date on Nerd Day during Spirit Week.

Jim Baker begs for forgiveness from Sister Kathryn (Kathy Anderson) on Occupation Day.

Pat Urban, sophomore, discusses different hair styles with freshmen Thomas Albers and Ryan Winchester.
Attendants Jane Halling and Chad Gordon

1984 Homecoming King and Queen, Danny Nigus and Sue Elder.

Attendants Carmen Albers and Brian Godfrey
"After I got over the shock, I was really happy," said Sue Elder, after being crowned Homecoming queen.

On September 28, on a cold fall night, Sue Elder was crowned Homecoming queen by Danny Nigus during the pre-game ceremonies of the Axtell game.

Danny Nigus was crowned king by the 1983 queen Kelli Hager. Sue’s attendants were Jane Halling escorted by Chad Gordon and Carmen Albers escorted by Brian Godfrey. The flower girl was Stephanie Bottiger, daughter of Jerry and Nancy Bottiger. The crownbearer was Jerry Pauly, son of Bill and Liz Pauly.

While the students thought the game went really well, most thought that we needed better DJ’s, more attendance and spirit, and the alumni allowed into the dance since it is Homecoming.

Kevin Lentz, senior, said it’s not the spirit of the alumni not being there, it’s the fact that the kids expect something for nothing. They want to have fun without even trying.

Carmen Albers, senior, said, "homecoming is a tradition, and if you drop homecoming, you lose spirit."

“It is something you can look forward to and it breaks up the school year," said Jennifer Kopp, senior.

Although Homecoming was held Sept. 28, it was extremely cold, as the queen and her attendants will attest.

“What did you say we are out here for?" asked the king candidates.

Because North Andrew cancelled the Sept. 14 game, Midway played Axtell on Sept. 28 for Homecoming.
For the third time in four years, the Midway football team went through the regular season with only one loss to become state champions. But unlike the first two years, many were surprised at this year's success.

Many personnel changes throughout the season may have brought about the success. Brian Godfrey, senior, was moved into the quarterback slot in the second game and did an excellent job throughout the season. Danny Nigus in his new role as halfback also did well.

Despite the success of the team, many were glad that the long season finally ended.

Matt Clements, senior receiver, said "It was real and it was fun, but it wasn't real fun."

After an initial loss to Falls City Sacred Heart, the Eagle team breezed through the regular season play and into state playoff competition. They defeated Quivera Heights, defending state champions, in an eight-man game at Russell to be crowned Eight-man Division I state champions once again.

Although many questions about the sportsmanship (or lack thereof) were raised, the community as a whole was elated with the success shown by the Midway football program and Coach Mark Juhl this year.

Everyone is also pleased with how eight-man football is going. Initial doubts of four years ago have been erased by three state championships and a record in eight-man of 40-3.

Carmen Albers, head cheerleader, summed it all up, "It was fan-tast-ic!"
Brian Godfrey jumps up to spot his receiver.

The crowd at Homecoming eagerly awaits the opening kickoff.

"All right, what did you do with the ball?" asked the referees.

Toga, Toga, Toga." The junior play was crazy this year because the juniors had a few problems along the way. The juniors needed two more girls parts so two of the junior boys filled in. The audience rolled on the floor when Marty Joyce as a gypsy woman and Mike Long, as a crabby old lady, came in.

The juniors also lacked people to fill in for parts so three sophomores were asked to be in the play. Leighanna Cerami, sophomore, said, "I'm afraid that I'm going to mess up and then they will get mad at me." The other sophomores were Kim Gordon and Lisa Law.

As it turned out, everyone had their mess-ups during the night, and little mishaps that happened were forgotten, forgotten props, and a lack of attendance.

The play takes place in a high school fraternity house called Alpha Beta, otherwise known as "The Zoo." The Alpha Betas are not well liked, especially by the other house Phi Zeta Tau. The fraternity is in need of repair or the school will force it to shut down. So George, the leader of the house, rents the rooms. Alpha Beta now has such people staying with them as a rock band, a fortune telling gypsy, an old woman that counterfeits, and a boxer with a kangaroo. The play ends in a big toga party and Vegetable, the fraternity's pizza eater becomes the student body president and Alpha Beta becomes a sorority.
"Oh kind sir, would you like your fortune told for a small price?" Marty Joyce played a gypsy woman.

"You mean, we have to learn this many lines?"

Mrs. Wenger, director, shows off her talent.

PLAY CAST

Vegetable — Mark Laverentz
Fred — Jeff Caudle
George Brewster — Jim Baker
Curt — Tim Becker
Alex — Michael Brox
Miss Butterworth — Angie Hager
Madame Stella — Marty Joyce
Troubled Lady — Kim Gordon
Velma — Sheryl Cluck
Myrtle — Lieghanna Cerami
Nora — Shelly Nimz
Mrs. Smith — Melinda Anderson
Mr. Woebegone — Jame Hundertmark
Slugger — Jeff Godfrey
Mrs. Moontrap — Mike Long
Inspector Ketchem — Jeff Godfrey
Murdock Biddlestone — Ric Baird
Murry — Todd Parker
Melissa — Susan Purmort
O'Hara — Eric Wood
Miss Peachy — Lisa Law
encourage students to go out for cross country because it benefits them in the long run, and this is why cross country is a good sport," said Jim Leatherman, cross country coach. He also said cross country is a sport that gives the students a choice; if they don’t want to play football but still be active in a sport, they can go out for cross country.

I like to try my talent in different fields," said Dennis Meredith, sophomore.

Cross country is strictly a two-mile run in rough terrain.

"I like the practices because it motivates me and gets my mind ready for the day," said Michael Brox, junior. He also said cross country is good for the students in several ways: it helps them get in shape, helps with conditioning of other sports, and helps stimulate thought.

However, there are also many different opinions.

"Cross country took too much of my time, and I was more interested in volleyball. Our cross country meets weren’t that good," said Jane Halling, senior.

"Cross country really isn’t important because nobody cares, like the parents or the students at Midway, but I still go out because I don’t like football," said Kevin Lentz, senior.

"I go out for cross country because it’s a tradition and I like to run, and I’ve been going out since my freshman year," said Michael Brox. This year, he finished twentieth in the state cross country meet at Wamego on Nov. 3. This was his third appearance in state competition which accounts for the tradition.

According to the student handbook, the purpose of student council is to promote self-government and democratic principles, sponsor and promote activities, encourage school attendance, encourage better student-faculty relations, and to represent the student’s attitudes.

This year Stu-Co started painting the activity board around Christmas but hasn’t finished yet. Janet Elliott, senior, said that Stu-Co is a good organization because it gets bands and DJ’s for Homecoming and Snowball and also gets the snack machine running.

It has been said that Stu-Co might not have the classes run the concession stand next year because not everyone shows up to work and the same people work all the time. Instead, they are thinking about having certain classes run it, such as publications and Stu-Co.

Mr. Ninemire summed things up very well by saying, "It’s a student organization that is not used by the student body like it was intended."

The elections for president and vice-president were held at the beginning of the year, instead of the last year, because the eighth graders had already graduated and were not able to vote. The Student Council officers are Kevin Lentz, president; Janet Elliott, vice-president; Angie Hager, secretary; and Ric Baird, treasurer. The other members are Danny Nigus, Mike Everhart, Steve Jamvold, Stacy Lentz, Ryan Winchester, and Jim Betts.

The Members of the Executive Council Are:

"Here kitty, kitty," said Kevin Lentz, senior.
We weren't spirited enough. If there had been more encouragement between players, we could have had a better chance of winning," said Angie Hager, junior.

Mr. Ninemire said they might have had their personal differences, but he would like to think that on the court they would be playing as a team.

The varsity finished with a 14-12 record and the junior varsity record was 8-6. The girls came in third at Nemaha and Axtell tournaments but were defeated at Hanover at regionals.

Jane Halling said if there had been more teamwork and if practice had been taken more seriously, they could have had a better season and even gone on to the state championship.

Most of the girls thought the main problem they incurred was their personal differences getting in the way and the lack of teamwork. But most of the girls seemed pleased.

"Maybe if I close my eyes it will go over," thinks Kellie Norris.
What's everyone looking up in the air for? Even though it looks as if they are working as a team, a common complaint was lack of teamwork.

“Oops,” said Sue Elder, senior, to “smash” the ball.
T here have been many changes in the music department this year. Dianne Stettler, music teacher, has created a show choir and a brass quintet and has recreated the girls' sextet.

"I think that she has greatly improved the band and chorus," said Carmen Albers.

In December two band directors from Benedictine College came to perform a clinic with the band. In March the chorus went to KU to attend a clinic with the assistant choral director to work on contest music.

At regional contest the band received a II rating but will not be able to advance to state competition.

The high school chorus performs for the Retired Teachers' Association.

The high school chorus performs at the spring concert.

The marching band tries to do a formation during half-time of a football game.

The Show Choir made its debut at the Spring Concert. To be a member students had to audition.

The marching band practices before tonight’s game.

Miss Stettler has made many changes in the music program at Midway.
While the senior girls are preparing breakfast for the football team, Carmen Albers asked Jane Halling, "Did I really put soap in the eggs?"

On nerd day, Eric Wood shows his true colors.

Carmen Albers, Sue Elder, and Angie Hager wait patiently for practice to begin.

"I don't think we're in Oz anymore," said Jay Horton, senior.

The cheering section stands freezing while watching the football game.
Many students participated in the Quiz Bowl to have fun. The Quiz Bowl was originated to test students in academic areas for the High-Q team which will compete at other schools. Pictured are Susan Purmort, Jamie Hundertmark, and Mark Laverentz, the Blue Streak team.

Environmental Science set up a bird feeder outside the class.

Danny Nigus gives the new magazine representative a hand.

The freshmen in Home Ec. made babies from flour sacks to learn the responsibilities of parenthood. Many of the babies were abused by upperclassmen.

Eric Rochester sings to Brian Godfrey and Ric Baird the "Big Burger Blues."
"See, isn't accounting fun?" Mrs. Winchester asked Connie Fergerson.

The Home Ec. classes made gingerbread houses on Christmas.

WINTER

Winter began at Midway High School (and everywhere else). Along with it came snow, ice, and cold air. But, as always, life goes on and memories are formed.

During the month of December, several students were caught counterfeiting money at the Vo-Tech in Atchison; 2,000 people died in India from a gas leak; the first planet outside the solar system was found, and the "Subway Vigilante" wounded four persons who were attempting to mug him and then turned himself in.

Meanwhile, at Midway boys' basketball season began; freshmen, sophomores, and juniors saw Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" in Kansas City; senior pictures arrived; the elementary and high school Christmas programs were combined due to bad weather; Stuco provided popcorn and Mr. Hawkins provided candy canes for an all school party; and students were dismissed for Christmas vacation.

In January Carl Lewis was named 1984 Sportsman of the Year; a little girl from Lenexa was found nearly frozen to death but was revived; San Francisco defeated Miami in the Superbowl; the presidential inauguration and ball were held; a student in Goddard, Kansas, opened fire at school killing the principal and wounding two others; and OPEC cut their prices.

Back at M.H.S. Carmen and Thomas Albers held a New Year's Eve party; an all school assembly was held explaining the new demerit system; the athletic banquet was held at Hiawatha; the Quiz Bowl team participated in competitions at Washburn and Hiawatha; another all school assembly was held concerning tacks put in the cole slaw; and Mike Urban celebrated his eighteenth birthday with a party at his house.

In February the ground hog saw his shadow; a nun who had had a blood transfusion died of AIDS; four people were killed in Colby, Kansas, in a shooting spree; a federal meeting about agriculture was held in Atchison; and the postage stamp went up to 22¢.

At Midway Marty Joyce and Angie Hager were crowned King and Queen of Snowball; honor students went to the Kansas City Kings game in Kansas City; two students were expelled from school; and several students went to an economics day at Benedictine College.

Life continues and memories flow on. But a few are retained and those are all that remain of the Winter of 1985.
The spaceship Enterprise was in Kansas City for a short stop on its way back to Cape Canaveral.

Janet Elliott enjoys playing in the snow thanks to the senior boys.

Ric Baird shows off his neat locker to Brian Godfrey.
Is the educational system what it seems to be? Some think it’s not, but there may be a reason. "Because of the size of Midway there is not a very wide variety of courses for the students to take, but because of this there is more individual help," said Miss Dianne Stettler, music teacher.

"This is not to say that the system is bad but just a little slack. The system is good but we need to push harder to get more learning into the same amount of time," said one teacher who wished to be anonymous.

Jennifer Kopp, senior, said she thinks the work is not paced fast enough to keep interest going for very long at a time.

With a student-teacher ratio of 9:1, we have a good relationship between each other. "I feel we are in such small class situations that the teachers can get to know each student much better; thus they get the attention they need," said Stacy Lentz, freshman.

Most of the students thought Midway was based a lot on sports and not so much academics. But Principal Herb Hawkins asked that if we weren't involved in state championships and playoffs would they feel that it took up anymore than any other activity.

In an overall view of the educational system it seems to have its good points and its bad points. Even though there is always room for improvement, Mr. Hawkins felt that we are as good as, if not better than, any other school in the area, if not in the state.

When students were asked why they go to school, there was a variety of answers. Jim Baker said, "It's better than staying at home and being bored or having to work your buns off." Another said they wanted to get an education and then get out of the area.

All in all, the education system at Midway is good even though it has a few problems.

During a Hi-Q game Mr. Baird, the narrator, pauses to look at the score.

A favorite teacher poll was taken of all the high school students. The top three were:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Teacher</th>
<th>Votes</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Huss</td>
<td>26%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stillings</td>
<td>26%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Leatherman</td>
<td>11%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Undecided</td>
<td>16%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Instead of studying, a student rests during a science class.

"Look what I learned in class today," said Andy Becker, senior, as Janet Elliot, senior, watched the camera.

Juniors fill out PSAT (Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test) answer sheets before the test.

Carmen Albers arranges study aids before starting.
Every year about Christmas time the "winter blahs" strike. They rampage through the school striking students and faculty alike. What causes this "disease," what are the symptoms, and what are the remedies?

Kristi Scheutz, freshman, said, "Coming back to school after Christmas vacation is one of the causes."

Marlo Anderson, freshman, said she suffers from the winter blahs "... because you have to make up snow days and because it's a long time until summer."

When asked about the symptoms, Kari Holzhey, freshman, said, "People get in fights more often and for no reason."

Also, Dennis Meredith, sophomore, said, "People get rowdy, and freshmen spend some time in snow drifts."

When asked about cures for this illness, Carmen Albers, senior, suggested snowmobile riding, and Mike Everhart, sophomore, suggested basketball or some other physical activity.

Perhaps, though, the only real cure for "winter blahs" is "spring thaw."

"Between snowdrifts and seniors, I just don't know which I like best," said Mike George, freshman.

"Some people crack under pressure, but not me," said Jennifer Kopp, senior, as another nine weeks comes to an end.
This year’s snow ball took place on February 1, 1985. The crowning occurred between the boys’ B and boys’ A team games against Wetmore. Marty Joyce and Angie Hager were crowned King and Queen of Courts.

The girls’ B and A teams won, along with the boys’ B and there were hopes of a sweep as the boys’ A had previously beaten Wetmore, but it wasn’t to be as the boys’ A team was beaten in a close contest: 46-42.

The traditional Snowball dance, sponsored by the Stuco, was held after the games. Alumni Donald Halling and Eric Heinen d.j.‘ed the dance with the help of Pastor Kaden’s stereo equipment.

Jane Halling, senior said, “It was the funniest dance yet. The senior girls decided to make it fun and we did.”
Mike Everhart and Shelli Hager

Jim Betts and Kelli Soyland

Thomas Albers and Kari Holzhey
Snowball Candidates from L. to R. are freshmen T. Albers and K. Holzhey; sophomores M. Everhart and S. Hager; juniors M. Joyce and A. Hager, and seniors J. Betts and K. Soyland.

Janet Elliott, 1984 Snowball Queen, aids flower girl Amanda Bevis and crown bearer Curtis Albers.

Do the guest D.J.'s for the evening's festivities look familiar? That's right, Alumni Donald Halling and Eric Heinen did the honors. Ric Baird and Jim Betts put up a furious defense in the fast-paced A-team game.
The boys' basketball team had a disappointing season. They finished their season with a 1-19 record. The junior varsity ended their season with a 6-7 record, and the freshmen with a 4-0 record. Some people blame the team work among the members of the team.

"There was talent there, but they didn’t work together as a team," commented Kathy Anderson, senior.

This year there were two senior boys out for basketball. This had an effect on the team. Freshman players were starting A-team. Coach Mark Martin said, "I started the freshmen because I felt they could help us with our ball handling problems."

"I thought it was fair that the freshmen started because they were better than the upperclassmen," said Stacy Lentz, freshman.

Coach Martin said that next year's seniors need to be more dedicated and give the "positive" leadership we need to have a successful basketball team.
Midway waits for the rebound during the Jeff West game in which Midway was defeated 34-63.

Marty Joyce goes up for a block shot during the Jeff. West game while the other members of the team play defense.

1985 Boys' Basketball Team

VARSITY
Midway  34  Jeff. West  63
★Midway  46  Baileyville  62
★Midway  64  Rossville  64
Midway  45  Wetmore  38
Midway  37  Stewartsville, MO  56
Midway  47  Elwood  59
Midway  23  Highland  51
Midway  34  Wathena  56
Midway  40  Troy  71
Midway  30  Horton  52
Midway  54  Elwood  70
★Midway  29  Lansing  49
★Midway  38  Baehor  54
Midway  41  Savior  56
Midway  42  Wetmore  46
Midway  31  Highland  44
Midway  26  Jackson Hts.  51
Midway  31  Troy  61
★Midway  32  Axtell  68

JUNIOR VARSITY
Midway  21  Wetmore  24
Midway  46  Elwood  21
Midway  39  Highland  44
Midway  40  Wathena  38
Midway  47  Troy  50
Midway  53  Horton  58
Midway  41  Elwood  23
Midway  52  Savior  22
Midway  46  Wetmore  41
Midway  33  Highland  49
Midway  19  Jackson Hts.  57
Midway  48  Horton  24
Midway  28  Troy  39

FRESHMEN
★Midway  55  Maur Hill  27
★Midway  56  Jeff. West  30
★Midway  54  Jeff. North  47
★Midway  48  Highland  29

★ Indicates Tournament Games
It was a dark and stormy night, but still the Midway High School cheerleading squad could be depended upon to be out rooting our team on to victory. No matter what the weather, this year's batch of dedicated cheerleaders did their best to rouse up some enthusiasm.

But being a cheerleader isn't all glory. Lisa Law, a sophomore cheerleader, said, "I don't think I'll try out next year; it takes too much time."

However, Carmen Albers, head cheerleader, felt that all of the time was justified. "I enjoy supporting our athletic teams."

This year's squad did exceptionally well at their summer camp at Washburn. They were voted the most spirited squad, and won the second place plaque for best team overall, out of twelve teams.
ANOTHER JOB

Janet Elliott and Carmen Albers converse with the crowd before the State game.

Some of the cheerleaders prepare for another cold night of cheering.

TEAMWORK HELPS

JUNIOR VARSITY

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Score</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Midway</td>
<td>25 Wetmore</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Midway</td>
<td>48 Elwood</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Midway</td>
<td>25 Highland</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Midway</td>
<td>24 Wathena</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Midway</td>
<td>35 Troy</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Midway</td>
<td>35 Atchison</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Midway</td>
<td>43 Elwood</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Midway</td>
<td>37 Wetmore</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Midway</td>
<td>57 Powhattan</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Midway</td>
<td>17 Horton</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Midway</td>
<td>20 Highland</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Midway</td>
<td>18 Jackson Heights</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Midway</td>
<td>36 Axtell</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Midway</td>
<td>29 Troy</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

VARSITY

*Indicates tournament games

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Score</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
*Midway | 27 Jeff. West | 39 |
*Midway | 31 Baileyville | 44 |
*Midway | 38 Westmoreland | 29 |
*Midway | 45 Wetmore | 29 |
*Midway | 43 Stewartsville MO | 38 |
Midway | 33 Elwood | 31 |
Midway | 28 Highland | 37 |
Midway | 40 Wathena | 39 |
Midway | 39 Troy | 27 |
Midway | 33 Atchison | 46 |
Midway | 40 Elwood | 37 |
Midway | 25 Horton | 35 |
*Midway | 46 Valley Falls | 44 |
*Midway | 33 Lafayette MO | 45 |
*Midway | 28 Nehama Valley | 53 |
Midway | 65 Wetmore | 20 |
Midway | 41 Highland | 54 |
Midway | 37 Jackson Heights | 42 |
Midway | 30 Troy | 27 |
Midway | 76 Bern | 23 |
*Midway | 32 Frankfort | 42 |

Sue Elder, honorable mention all-state basketball team, proudly displays her T-shirt and Eagle brag board given to each of the players by Mr. Leatherman.

Mr. Juhl, assistant coach, practices with the girls by portraying an opponent.

Janet Elliott makes her move down court looking for the pass inside.
On the court everyone played together as a team. No one played for themselves," commented Janet Elliott, senior, about the teamwork and togetherness of this year’s basketball team. The teamwork made the season worthwhile as the varsity girls finished with a 11-10 record and the JV with a 11-3 record.

Anne Joyce, sophomore, compliments the JV team by saying, "It was fun; we had a good season and that’s the important thing."

The season began as the girls traveled to Sabetha for the tournament. They lost the first two games but came back with a victory to get seventh place on the final night. During midseason they went to the Effingham tournament where they brought home the fourth place trophy, which was quite an improvement from finishing at the bottom of the bracket last year.

During the Axtell game, the lights went on as the varsity was warming up. Everyone sat in the dark for almost two hours until the game was called.

The girls were given t-shirts with slogans by Mr. Leatherman. Each one has a different saying appropriate to the girl.

When regionals rolled around the team was ranked third and defeated Bern the first night. However, the team fell in defeat to Frankfort after a hard fought game.

Stacy Lentz and Kari Holzhey, freshmen, enjoy the shower by the seniors after practice.

Carmen Albers, senior, shows Kelli Norris, sophomore, how to search for contacts on the locker room floor.

Carmen Albers and Jeff Caudle use teamwork to beat their opponents at the Quiz Bowl.

Jim Baker shows Janet Elliott his magical nerf football.

"I like the shirt," said Marty Joyce, "but the mouse has to go."
Home Ec. II and Home Ec. IV classes add a little spirit to Christmas by making gingerbread houses.

Mark Laverentz does not like to brag, but he shows off his artistic talent.

“When you wish upon a star,” said Connie Fergerson.

Jennifer Kopp acts busy knowing that her picture is being taken.
Susan Purmort and Marty Joyce prepare together for the Chemathon.

Mrs. Diebolt is overjoyed that summer is almost here.

The Junior high chorus practices for the spring concert.
Spring visited Midway High School bringing a lift in everyone's spirit. Some of the events that will mark the Spring of 1985 in our memories are the escapades of a digger released in Mr. Hawkins' office and President Reagan's visit to a German military cemetery.

In March an earthquake in Chile killed 140 people and wounded thousands; the Russian leader Chernenko died; a farmers' riot took place in Plattsburg, Missouri; the Catholic church in Severance burned down; and there were several UFO sightings in the Atchison, Kansas, area.

Back at Midway the school board met with Highland's school board to discuss consolidating the two schools; track season began; Boys' M-Club went to Kansas City for a trip; many students took part in Emporia State University testing; and students took part in business contests, math contests, music contests, and the Chemathon.

In the month of April Amy Carter was arrested for taking part in a protest; a highway patrolman was killed by a member of a radical group in Branson, Missouri; Wolfe Bridge was torn down; the Pope added 24 new cardinals; and a mental hospital in Buenos Aires burned killing 79 patients.

Meanwhile at M.H.S. the sniors presented the play "The Clumsy Custard Horror Show;" several students visited the Osawatomie mental hospital; a digger escaped in Mr. Hawkins' office; art students went to an art contest at Highland; cheerleading tryouts were held; and several freshmen skipped school.

In May President Reagan visited a military cemetery in Germany; Spend-A-Buck won the Kentucky Derby; Dolph Sweet, the father on Gimme a Break, died of cancer; fire destroyed a soccer field in England killing 51 people; Miss Texas was named Miss U.S.A.; Miss Kansas broke her neck in a car accident and a bomb dropped on a radical group's home in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, starting a fire which spread causing several deaths.

At Midway Sean Kelley, former Midway student, died in a car wreck; Prom was held in the Multi-Purpose room; awards were handed out at the annual Awards Banquet; the home ec. students presented their annual Spring Tea; the seniors graduated and left for sneak; and students were dismissed for summer vacation.
Yes, the robins are chirping, the crickets are singing, and if you listen closely you can hear the crack of a baseball meeting a bat. That's right, Spring is once again settling herself in for a short but sweet stay at Midway. Soon shorts will be back in vogue, and every lunch hour will be filled with the shrieks, of teenagers soaking up the sun and playing in the front yard. Spring seems to bring out the child in all of us, from a tendency towards finger-jello fights among the freshmen, all the way to seniors playing with stuffed animals.

With the onset of track season, academics seems to take a backburner; it's too nice outside to study and there's so much else going on that the last quarter's grade point average always hits a dismal low, but the time flies by and it won't be long until another year of school gives way to summer.
Jean Albers gives her opponent a tough race in the high hurdles.

People running, throwing, competing, and showing the best performance they possibly can do to accomplish the goal they have set. This can be seen at all the track meets.

Jeff Godfrey broke the school record in the 100 meter dash; his time was 11.09, and the old record was held by J. Bottiger and T. Bottiger in 1963 and 1964 with 11.3 seconds. Carmen Albers broke the discus record which was held by DeAnn Myers at 88'8" in 1976 when she threw the discus 91'11" in 1985.

"This year more boys and girls are participating in track than in the previous years, and this all depends on how well they did in other sports," said Mr. Leatherman, boys' coach.

"Track offers a lot to the students. It offers them a chance to improve themselves on individual basis, and they get a chance to meet new people," said Mr. Leathermen, track coach. He also said that the students get more carry-over value than from most sports.

"Track offers students a chance to achieve success on an individual and team level," said Miss Stettler, girls' track coach. She also said that there has been much hard work and improvement this year. Although the season got off to a slow start, the girls ended the season with a second place finish at Midway Invitational.

Of those who went to the state track meet on May 17 and 18 at Emporia, Jeff Godfrey finished 4th in the 100 and 5th in the 200.

Ric Baird, Tim Becker, and Marty Joyce practice the Hog Relay for a track meet.
The Midway track team lounges around before a track meet.

Matt Clements explains his event to Coach Leatherman at the track meet.

Carmen Albers is getting ready to launch the shot. She also broke the school record by throwing the discus 9'11". The old record was held by DeAnn Myers at 8'8" in 1976.
"Awww..." sighs everyone at the happy ending of the senior play.

"Black is definitely your color," said Sue Elder to Janet Elliott as Sue helps put on Janet's make-up.

Connie Fergerson recites her play lines to Jim Nimz.

"Do I really have to kiss her?" asked Matt Clements as Kelli Soyland shakes her head no.
The senior class presented the play “The Clumsy Custard Horror Show” on April 12, 1985. Many of the seniors felt it could have been renamed “A Pain in the Neck.”

One of the many problems was complicated costumes and props. Many of the costumes had to be found at various college theatres. Another problem was arguments among the seniors or with Mr. Baird. These arguments led to one person quitting. Changing practice times were also a problem. Many times the seniors didn’t know when they were having practice until 3:20 P.M. that day.

The seniors tried something new this year. They went in to say their lines to Mr. Baird starting about a month before practice began.

The seniors tried something new this year. They went in to say their lines to Mr. Baird starting about a month before practice began.

“For people with small parts it was a waste, but for people with big parts it was worthwhile,” said Kelli Soyland.

Even with this new “help,” some people did not know their lines.

Connie Fergerson summed up the entire play practice ordeal when she said, “It’s ridiculous! A play should be fun and people should know their lines. This is our last year to put on a play and we’re not having any fun!”

After all these problems with play practice, the play was still deemed a success.
Prom time is a very special time when everyone is dressed up in a new formal, tux or nice suit, and has colorful flowers. It is a very exciting time of year. Or is it?

"It didn't run as smoothly as expected, especially on deciding on what gym to have it in," said Sheryl Cluck, junior.

There was much controversy over what gym to have prom. It was either the high school end or the multi-purpose room which made it difficult on decorating since it had never been used for a prom before.

Some seniors said that they didn't like prom because it was in the multi-purpose room, but there were others who enjoyed it for what the juniors had to work with.

After the meal Mike Long entertained everyone with the senior prophecies, and Carmen Albers read the wills.

When the evening program was over, there was a long wait before pictures were taken by Jack McBee and his assistant. Pictures were taken beneath a gazebo covered with flowers.

Soon the dance began with Myth as the band.

When the dance was over at 12:30, some left for Matt Clement's party while others went to Mike Urban's. Unfortunately Clement's was rained out, so everyone crammed into Urban's for food, pool, and movies.

The juniors went to an extra expense to purchase a gazebo to take pictures in.

The divider flats pictured a steam boat going down the river.

The theme song for prom was "All I Need"
Carmen Albers, senior, read the wills and testaments to everyone.

Mike Long, junior, gave Mr. Miller a gift certificate for his help with Prom. Mike also read the prophesies.

Everyone laughed while Mike Long presented the prophesies.

Melinda Anderson, junior, gave the closing and thanked everyone for coming.

Jane Halling and Jeff Scott wait to be served.

Susan Permott swipes an umbrella unaware that it will really rain later.

Steve Becker and Sue Elder were the first ones on the dance floor.

Even the teachers enjoy dancing to Myth's music.
Mary Linn Johnson and Clarita Halling seem to be boring Paul Johnson after the dinner.

Matt Clements and Melinda Anderson try to "get down" in their formal wear.

Everyone agreed the punch bowl was a success.

Michael Brox and Kevin Lentz are astounded by Kathy Anderson.
Receiving teachers' recommendations and good grades isn't easy to do, but that's what the members of National Honor Society (N.H.S.) have done.

A 3.35 grade point average is required of students before they can be considered for N.H.S. A list of all students meeting this requirement is given to the teachers, who select members on a basis of character, leadership, and service.

Members are expected to maintain high standards in order to remain in N.H.S. The problem of what to do if a student did not maintain these standards has never arisen at Midway.

The purpose of N.H.S. is to honor high school juniors and seniors who are good responsible students.

"National Honor Society at Midway isn't active, but we feel that students are already involved in enough activities and don't have the time. National Honor Society is still an honor anyway," said Mr. Baird, the sponsor of N.H.S.

Melinda Anderson, junior, said, "Being a member of National Honor Society is an honor, but as far as activeness is concerned it's a negative three."

Despite inactivity, N.H.S. is still a way of recognizing students.

Members of the National Honor Society Are:
BOYS' M-CLUB PLUGS AWAY

"Within the last ten years of Boys' M-Club, it hasn't changed to benefit the school," said Jim Leatherman, M-Club sponsor.

Mr. Leatherman said that this year the Boys' M-Club was going to scoop snow off sidewalks for the older people and try to benefit themselves as well as the community, but the Board didn't want the students to leave during study hall because there is too much risk of the students getting hurt or sliding in a ditch. The suggestion was voted down.

In order to get into Boys' M-Club, a student must letter and be voted in by the M-Club.

Officers for 1984-85 are Matt Clements, president; Danny Nigus, treasurer, and Jeff Caudle, secretary.

"It's not really important to be in Boys' M-Club, but lettering is important. I'm not going to strive to be in Boys' M-Club because it is not going to change my life," said Ryan Winchester, freshman.

"I think it would be neat if they would come to the girls' games and cheer and do special things for the girls," said Kelli Soylan, senior.

She also said that the girls got disinterested in pep club because the boys didn't seem to care about the girls' sports. Although the girls don't have a pep club, they still do special things for the boys, like prepare the boys Homecoming breakfast, but the boys seem to never do anything in return.

"The boys' M-Club is a good organization because it enables the boys to get together and have some fun," said Carmen Albers, senior. But she also said the Boys' M-Club should stay together only if they get more active.

One of the activities they do for fun is take a trip to Kansas City. Last year they didn't go because the M-Club did not have any meetings and didn't make enough money to go.

"It's okay, but it's not really exciting. All it amounts to is staying in a motel and eating out. I think the Boys' M-Club should be ditched," said Marty Joyce, junior.
T
he 1984-1985 awards banquet was held Tuesday, May 7. Tradition was broken, as the banquet and follow-up ceremonies were held in the multi-purpose room. Matt Clements and Danny Nigus were this year's recipients of the PTO scholarship. Janet Elliott, Kathy Anderson, Danny Nigus, and Kevin Lentz, were the selections for the American Legion Awards. The Kansas State High School Activities Association award went to Carmen Albers and Danny Nigus.

Other honors given to Midway High School students included band and sport letters, certificates for state-wide testing through Emporia, and honor roll pins. Four students were recognized for their academic achievements by being inducted into the National Honor Society. They included Angie Hager, Susan Purnort, Anne Joyce, and Leighanna Cerami.

The 1984-1985 awards banquet was held Tuesday, May 7. Tradition was broken, as the banquet and follow-up ceremonies were held in the multi-purpose room. Matt Clements and Danny Nigus were this year's recipients of the PTO scholarship. Janet Elliott, Kathy Anderson, Danny Nigus, and Kevin Lentz, were the selections for the American Legion Awards. The Kansas State High School Activities Association award went to Carmen Albers and Danny Nigus.

Other honors given to Midway High School students included band and sport letters, certificates for state-wide testing through Emporia, and honor roll pins. Four students were recognized for their academic achievements by being inducted into the National Honor Society. They included Angie Hager, Susan Purnort, Anne Joyce, and Leighanna Cerami.

The 1984-1985 Midway High School faculty hands out the awards.

Matt Clements receives a football scrapbook from the cheerleaders.

The faculty prepares for a long night of handing out awards and achievements.

Janet Elliott receives her American Legion Award of Citizenship.
Kelli Soyland receives the highest grade-point average award from Mr. Hawkins.

The underclassmen didn’t go unnoticed. Mike Everhart picks up his awards from the faculty.

Mr. Baird congratulates two of the new members in National Honor Society: Anne Joyce and Leighanna Cerami.

Mr. Hawkins congratulates everyone who worked hard to receive an award.
Although the seniors seemed eager to get out of school by making a calendar and counting the days, hours, and finally minutes until they were "free," there still was much indecision in their minds.

"It's rather scary because I know I can succeed at Midway," said Kathy Angerson, senior, "but I don't know if I can succeed in college life."

The valedictorian this year was Kelli Soyland; the salutatorian, Kathy Anderson.

This year there was a change from the regular schedule of graduation. Two Naval officers presented Kevin Lentz, senior, with a ROTC scholarship, and an Air Force officer presented Matt Clements, senior, with a ROTC scholarship.

After graduation there was a graduation party at Carmen Albers' house.

The class colors were sapphire blue and ivory; the motto was "Only those who will risk going too far will find out how far one can go."

Marty Joyce and Melinda Anderson, juniors, were two of the four escorts for graduation. The other two were Ric Baird and Sheryl Cluck.

Matt Clements receives an Air Force ROTC scholarship.

The seniors line up to determine their order in line by height.
The graduating class of 1985.

"Just put one foot in front of the other, Mike," said Mr. Leatherman to Mike Urban during graduation practice.

Kevin Lentz receives a ROTC scholarship from the Navy.

Steve Libel and Chad Gordon try to relax in the Home Ec. room before graduation.
On May 22 at 5:45 A.M., eighteen seniors and their sponsors left Midway to go on senior sneak to Kalfran Lodge located in the Lake of the Ozarks. The senior sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Leatherman and Mr. and Mrs. Juhl and family.

On the first day of arrival the seniors received room assignments and heard all the rules and regulations of the resort. Then they went swimming in the heated pool. Jennifer Kopp, Carmen Albers, and Connie Fergerson decided to swim off the dock and received a very cold shock when they jumped in.

Thursday night Brian Godfrey, Andy Becker, and Jay Horton were caught outside their cabin after curfew and had to run 3 miles the next morning with Mr. Juhl. That night they had to spend the night with Mr. Leatherman.

The seniors returned home about 3:30 Saturday afternoon.
Janet Elliott, Sue Elder, and Jennifer Kopp decide to sunbathe during sneak.

Kathy Anderson and Kevin Lentz find a place to share a few close moments away from everyone at the Ozarks.

Matt Clements and Brian Godfrey lead the pack with Danny Nigus at a close third place during the go-kart races at Hillbilly town.

Matt Clements uses his batting skills at the Batters Cage at Bagnell Dam.
Debbie Miller and Jennifer Page keep some of the children entertained at the Spring Tea.

Connie Fergerson, Kathy Anderson, and Melinda Anderson are "crow's nest beauties" at the Doniphan Conty Track Meet held at Midway.

Kim Gordon gets ready to throw the shot at the Highland Track Meet.

Mike Urban, Steve Libel, and Mike Matthais are the seniors attending Vo-Tech this year.

Barry Coy said, "I always hate it when that happens."
Barry Coy, freshman, shows his creativity when decorating his “survival” locker.

Susan Purmort, junior, waits for Marty to sit with her on the bus.

Stacy Lentz, freshman, is bound and gagged to keep her quiet during Home Ec. I.

Kevin Lentz, senior, behind, and Danny Nigus, senior, work together to make a yarn chicken for Easter.
Jim Nimz goofs off during art class while he is supposed to be working.

Carmen Albers, senior, paints Pat Becker's finger nails during freshman initiation week.

Dennis Meredith and Steve Jamvold think about what to write in the next person's annual.
Imagine if everybody looked and acted the same, and maybe even had the same attitudes and ideas. That is, to an extent, what people at M.H.S. are like.

First, "Everybody laughs if you wear something different," said Kari Holzhey, freshman.

This is true among the boys, too. "Guys dress even more alike than girls," said Kelli Soyland, senior.

Next, everybody acts the same. "I feel everyone at Midway acts the same which makes for a dull atmosphere," said Stacy Lentz, freshman.

Then everybody follows each other. One student said that a few people carry much influence and there is a great amount of pressure if someone wants to change.

Finally, students share the same attitudes. People think school is a constant routine too. Students get bored and don't work up to their potential. "Teachers are just babysitters at Midway," said Jennifer Kopp, senior.

One teacher who wished to remain anonymous said, "I wish I could change the understanding of the students about learning. They really need to worry more about how much they learn and understand about the world before they get out there and need that information and don't have it. They just don't seem to care if they learn much or not."

Nearly everyone at Midway looks the same, acts the same, has the same attitudes about school, and the same ideas.
What are Midway High School students really like? If you look around to see what kinds of students we have, you will find that some are different in some ways, but alike in other ways.

When students are with friends or by themselves, they usually like to listen to music. Most students like rock ‘n’ roll, but the rest are split between hardrock and country.

The students at MHS are nice at times, but when one has his or her back to another they talk about them. Students sometimes have the tendency to gossip too much. Stacy Lentz, freshman, said, “On a whole, they are nice but there are a few exceptions to the rule, and it also depends on people’s moods.”

Here at MHS there are different groups of students. There are groups that are out of the ordinary, rowdy and obnoxious, preppy, quiet, and also “dinghy.”

Most of the students here think they are similar and different from other high school students. Matt Clements, senior, said, “Students here are very strange, so that makes them normal in this world.”
It was August 1971 when 21 small kids entered Mrs. Carter's kindergarten classroom. There were 11 in the morning class and 10 in the afternoon.

Our school days started in the Denton Grade School, which no longer exists, where we spent kindergarten to second grade. In first grade there were couples underneath the tables "playing house." Then we skipped to the Bendena Grade School for half of our third grade year. Everyone's favorite memory from then was Steve Libel falling in the sewer. Our third, fourth, and fifth grades were spent back at Denton in the same upstairs room because we had the largest class in the building. In third grade we had our Snoopy dollars to spend to get into the cave, and in fifth grade we not only had the largest class, but we also had the tallest teacher, Miss Reimond.

In sixth grade we were shipped to Bendena again for a half year until the new school, which we now live in, was built. We will all remember our seventh grade year when we had to write reports for Mrs. Stillings.

During our high school days, we have seen three state football championships. We have also been through the hills in our junior play "Headin' for a Weddin" and in the mountains during prom. We will never forget the girls' heart-throb Donnie Ricklefs who was the shyest guy in the class and loved the color red.

Richard Losson will be remembered for the fights he got into and the little incident underneath the table at lunch; we'll remember Debbie Bullard and her mouth and the way she chased our "favorite" teacher Mr. Wind.

The girls will never forget our freshmen basketball year when Chad Gordon walked in on us in the locker room. Did his face turn red! The boys will remember the girls because the girls would always gang up on someone one day but be best friends with them another day.

Although our class hasn't been one of the most together classes, we have made many friends and memories together. One thing is certain; we agree that graduation and the end of the year has come too fast.

As "senioritis" hits many find it easy to take over the office and hold Mr. Hawkins hostage.
Carmen Albers: Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Volleyball 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Cross Country 1; Cheerleader 1, 2, 3, 4; Homecoming Candidate 4; Junior Miss 3; Girls’ M-Club 1, 2; Class Officer 1, 2, 4; Chorus 1, 2, 3, 4; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Lions State Band 3; Show Choir 4; Play Crew 2; Junior Play 3; Senior Play 4; Who’s Who in American Music 4.

Kathy Anderson: Basketball 1; Track 4; Chorus 2; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Girls’ M-Club 1, 2; National Honor Society 3, 4; Play Crew 2; Junior Play 3; Senior Play 4; Quiz Bowl Team 4; Publications 4; Who’s Who in American H.S. Students 4.

Andy Becker: Basketball 1, 2; Snowball Candidate 2; Chorus 4; Junior Play 3; Senior Play 4.

Jim Betts: Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Cross Country 1, 2, 3, 4; Snowball Candidate 4; Stu-Co 4; Boys’ M-Club 3, 4; Chorus 4; Junior Play 3; Senior Play 4; All District Guard in Football 4.

Matt Clements: Basketball 1, 2, 3; Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Boy’s M-Club 1, 2, 3, 4; National Honor Society 2, 3, 4; Junior Play 3; Senior Play 4.

Paul Coy: Quiz Bowl Team 4; Transferred 3.

Sue Elder: Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Volleyball 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 1; Cheerleader 1, 2, 3; Snowball Candidate 2; Homecoming Queen 4; Junior Miss 3; Girls’ M-Club 1, 2; Class Officer 1, 4; Stu-Co 1; Chorus 1, 2, 3, 4; Band 1; Show Choir 4; Play Crew 2; Junior Play 3; Senior Play 4.

Janet Elliott: Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Volleyball 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Cheerleader 1, 2, 3, 4; Snowball Candidate 1; Snowball Queen 3; Junior Miss 3; Girls’ M-Club 1, 2; Class Officer 1, 2, 3, 4; Stu-Co 2, 3, 4; National Honor Society 2, 3, 4; Chorus 1, 2, 3, 4; Band 1, 2, 3; Show Choir 4; Play Crew 2; Junior Play 3; Senior Play 4; Kansas Honor Scholar 4.

Connie Fergerson: Basketball 1; Volleyball Manager 1, 2; Track Manager 4; Girls’ M-Club 1, 2; Chorus 1, 2, 3, 4; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Show Choir 4; Play Crew 2; Junior Play 3; Senior Play 4; Publications 3, 4.

Brian Godfrey: Basketball 4; Football 3, 4; Track 4; Homecoming Candidate 4; Play Crew 3, 4; Transferred 3; All District Quarterback 4.

Chad Gordon: Basketball 1; Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 2, 3, 4; Homecoming Candidate 4; Junior Play 3; Senior Play 4; Band 4.

Jane Halling: Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Volleyball 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Cross Country 1; Homecoming Candidate 4; Girls’ M-Club 1, 2; Chorus 2, 3, 4; Play Crew 2; Junior Play 3; Senior Play 4; Publications 4.

Jay Horton: Basketball 1, 2, 3; Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 2, 3, 4; Boys’ M-Club 2, 3, 4; Junior Play 3; Senior Play 4; Who’s Who in American H.S. Students 4.

Jennifer Kopp: Basketball 1, 2; Girls’ M-Club 1, 2; Chorus 1, 2, 4; Junior Play 3; Senior Play 4; Who’s Who in American H.S. Students 4.

Kevin Lentz: Basketball 1, 2, 3; Football 1, 2, 3; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Cross Country 1, 2, 3, 4; Boys’ M-Club 2, 3, 4; Class Officer 1; Stu-Co 3, 4; National Honor Society 3, 4; Junior Play 3; Senior Play 4; Quiz Bowl Team 4; Who’s Who Among American H.S. Students 3; Publications 4.
Steve Libel: Track 4; Vo-Tech 4.

Mike Matthias: Vo-Tech 4.

Danny Nigus: Basketball 1, 2, 3; Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Homecoming King 4; Snowball Candidate 1, 3; Boys' M-Club 2, 3, 4; Class Officer 1, 2, 3; Stu-Co 1, 2, 4; National Honor Society 2, 3, 4; Junior Play 3; Senior Play 4.

Jim Nimz: Play Crew 3.

Anna Purvis: Girls' M-Club 1, 2; Chorus 1, 2, 3, 4; Play Crew 3.

Kelli Soyland: Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Volleyball 1, 2; Snowball Candidate 4; Junior Miss 3; Girls' M-Club 1, 2; National Honor Society 2, 3, 4; Class Officer 2, 3, 4; Chorus 1, 2, 4; Band 1, 2; Play Crew 2; Junior Play 3; Senior Play 4; Quiz Bowl Team 4; Kansas Honor Scholar 4.

Mike Urban: Junior Play 3; Senior Play 4; Vo-Tech 4.

Charles Walker: Transferred 4; Chorus 4.

Senior Class Officers are top to bottom: Carmen Albers, pres.; Janet Elliott, vice pres.; Sue Elder, sec.; and Kelli Soyland, treas.

Charles Walker, Andy Becker, and Brian Godfrey exercise one of the senior privileges of staying in the hallway during study hall.

Seniors find it amusing to turn the pictures of Henry Longfellow into Mr. Pumpkin head.
The junior class this year has a few minor problems, but they usually get along well, Angie Hager said. With magazine sales and the junior play, the juniors worked together to make a fairly large profit. When the class has a goal in mind, they usually stick to it and achieve it, said Michael Brox.

“I think that some of the juniors could mature some,” said Mike Long. Even some of the other students at Midway think so too.

“It’s a shame that all the juniors aren’t as mature as some of them,” said Kathy Anderson, senior. Susan Purmort and Kathy Grider joined the class this year.
Class Officers Are: L to R: Jeff Caudle, treasurer; Angie Hager, vice-president; Melinda Anderson, secretary, and Mike Long, president.

"Who is that masked man?" was the question when Tim Becker dressed as Mr. T for Halloween.

"Hey, sister, can you spare a dime?" said Mrs. Smith (Melinda Anderson) to Velma (Sheryl Cluck) in the junior play.

Mark Laverentz, junior, uses his free time "wisely" during study hall.
While Anne Joyce writes in a yearbook, she may actually be thinking of other things.

Jean Albers
Leighanna Cerami
Melissa Coy
Mike Everhart
Kim Gordon

Shelli Hager
Buddy Harrell
Steve Jamvold
Anne Joyce
Krista Keys

Lisa Law
Dennis Meredith
Kellie Norris
Dana Obermeyer
J. R. Peuker

Pat Tharp
Pat Urban
Heidi Underwood
Not Pictured:
Rick Wood
This year the sophomore class has been busy with their many projects. They sold Christmas ornaments, magazine subscriptions, had a chili and soup supper, and also have been busy with the concession stand. Although they had problems, "the boys have improved in helping with the concession stand," said Heidi Underwood, sophomore.

During spirit week, they won the hall decorating contest. Shelli Hager, sophomore, said, "Through spirit week we didn't show our spirit as we felt we should."

Three girls in the class helped the juniors with the extra play parts. They were Kim Gordon, Leighanna Cerami, and Lisa Law.

There were three new students in the class. They were Mike Everhart, Dana Obermeyer, and Ric Wood.
Have you ever known a class president from Midway to be impeached? Well, this year at Midway it happened. The freshmen had chosen Thomas Albers to be their president, but then eight weeks into the school year, Albers was impeached.

Matt Everhart said, "It was all a joke to begin with, he only missed half the meeting and I brought it up that he should be impeached; then everyone agreed and he was out."

When he was out, the officers seemed to trade places. The vice-president, Stacy Lentz, didn't want to move to president; so the secretary, Neil Caudle, was elected president. Then they elected Matt Everhart as the secretary.

This year the freshmen have made money selling calendars, candy bars, magazines, and working in the concession stand.

During spirit week the "frosh" had fun dressing up. During the week Mike George was selected as the best baby and the boys were "painted pretty" by the senior girls. The class has enjoyed high school and when asked how much they do like it, Terri Russell best summed it up with a typical freshman answer, "It's OK, I guess."

Barry Coy enjoys his good wholesome delicious milk during the Homecoming bum day.

Bottoms up go the freshmen as they go down the hall pushing the dreaded penny.

Class Officers Are: Top to Bottom: Kristi Schuetz, treasurer; Stacy Lentz, vice-president; Matt Everhart, secretary; and Neil Caudle, president.
Jim Ricklefs can't wait until Jesse Pierce is done so he can be made up by a senior girl.

Mrs. Snowden, sponsor, entertains the class during a class meeting.
Jim Horton, Matt Clements, Danny Nigus, and Chad Gordon "shoot the bull" during study hall.

Jimmy Nimz soaks up the sun during noon hour.

Mr. Martin caught in the act, while stealing the flags.
Robert Albers, superintendent

Herbert Hawkins, principal

"I really enjoy the students and the people around the area," said Mr. Albers, while serving his second year as superintendent.

During this year he would like to have the opportunity to help all the students improve their self-worth to the fullest extent.

As superintendent, Albers has many duties. These duties consist of the educational leader, the personnel director, the financial director, and the overall overseer of the operation of the school.

Herb Hawkins, principal, has been at Midway for 10 years. He, like Albers, enjoys it here. "We have an excellent board, good students and faculty, and this is a good place to raise a family," said Mr. Hawkins.

This year his goal is to help the students achieve their ultimate abilities and prepare the students for life. He said he would like to be part of setting their goals.

Mr. Hawkins takes care of the high school and junior high. Also he is responsible for the discipline of the students. Evaluation of the teachers is one of his most important duties.

Together they work to keep the school running smoothly.

"Actually, they don't do this everyday," said Mr. Hawkins, referring to the seniors.

To prove he is an angel, Mr. Albers walks down the hall with his man-made halo.
Teaching has changed in several ways at Midway over the past years. Midway is offering more solid classes and adding to our requirements. General Business is one the School Board added as a one year requirement; math added one more year making a total of two years. With these additions to our requirements, the board, faculty and administration feel that the students are getting better prepared for college.

Midway has also changed its graduation credits. Midway students need 22 credits to graduate, and the state requires 20 credits to graduate; so Midway is working hard to stay ahead.

"I enjoy when the students walk across the stage and receive their diplomas, and it makes you feel good that you did your part," said Mr. Hawkins.
Elden Ninemire
Social Science
Stuco Sponsor
Volleyball Coach
Drivers Education

Bob Baird
Counselor
Nat'l Honor Society
Senior Play

Dianne Stettler
Music
Track Coach
Sophomore Sponsor

Kelley Stillings
English
Publications

Susan Bennett
Librarian
Computers
Jr. High Pep Club

Martin Huss
Science
Junior Sponsor

Dinah Moulden
Art
Freshman Sponsor

Rose Coles
Special Education
The school board is what makes the world go round. At least as far as Midway is concerned. The school board members are the ones who make the rules and appoint the superintendent, principal, clerk, and treasurer.

The school board revamped the demerit system, making it stricter; they also purchased several more computers and debated whether an 11-man football game should be played with Highland.

The school board holds its meetings on the second Monday of every month. John Halling and Dennis Winchester stepped down and were replaced in elections held in April.

Bob Albers, superintendent, looks over his notes before the board meeting begins.

Office Employees are: L to R: Doris Myers, Tina Hutchison, and Bonnie Winchester.

Cooks at Midway Are: L to R: Rosemary Dodge, Jeanette Gronniger, and Mary Diebolt.

Norm Ptomey and Richard Miller maintain our school.
This year's junior high has a whopping 54 students in it. There are 22 in the seventh and 32 in the eighth grade.

Kelly Urban, seventh grader, said that she liked junior high because she gets more freedom than she did in elementary school.

Mr. Blocker is a newcomer to the junior high department this year. Mr. Blocker comments about teaching at Midway by saying he really likes it even though it is hard teaching junior high students because they are going through many changes in their lives. They try to act mature but then they still act like little kids.

Many high school students said that they didn't like the junior high because they were "childish," "irritating," and the ever popular "groovies." The reason for this is many high schoolers don't like them running around in the halls and being loud.

The junior high has done well in both girls' and boys' sports. The sixth grade, again this year, participated in the sports for experience and to make certain there were enough players to make a team.

Again this year the junior high helped the high school band during half times of football games. They also attended the K-U Band Day and the Hiawatha parade.

"Give me my sandwich back," said Dennis Canaday to Joel Hundertmark.

The junior high band plays well at another spectacular performance.
The Eighth Grade Class Officers Are: Angie Nigus, secretary and David Johnson, president.

The eighth graders enjoy a hearty meal in the cafeteria.

Scott Parker
Loris Peuker
Travis Peuker
Kim Purmort
Teresa Rush

Teresa Simpson
Logan Smith
Tina Thomas
Joseph Underwood
Keith Walsh

Heather Zeit

Not Pictured:
Leslie Godfrey
Maria Grider
SEVENTH GRADE FACE
NEW EXPERIENCES

Jim Albers
Amy Betts
Chris Bird
Millisa Brown
Diana Collins

Elaine Callahan
Jennifer Dodge
Arthur Goodman
Brenda Gordon
Rebecca Gregory

Joel Hundertmark
Sandy Jamvold
Kenny Klaus
Stacie Ninemire
Joel Parker

Donnie Peuker
Shane Pierce
Karen Ricklefs
Sandy Roland
Liz Starr

Erin Staudenmaer
Curtis Swinford
Kelley Urban
Brian Yandell

Not Pictured
Doug Hatheway
Denise Wood
Shauna Wood
The seventh grade girls are having lunch at the "senior table," but against senior approval, as usual.

B. J. Gordon dribbles past her opponent during a junior high basketball game.

7th Grade Class Officers Are: Amy Betts, president; Elaine Callahan, Sec. and Treas.; and Kelley Urban, Vice-Pres.

This year the junior high helped out the high school band during football season.

The eighth grade chorus entertains the P.T.O.

The junior high girls converse as they prepare for another class.

The basketball boys scramble for the ball during another practice.

Many students study hard while others seem to be enjoying themselves during class.

"C'mon girls, get in step," said B. J. Gordon to the rest of her friends during lunch hour.

To increase the public exposure of our yearbook ads, they are hung on the Booster Board. At the school activities the public is able to view our boosters’ ads; thus we advertise their services.

The Boosters come out to support the teams even in cold weather.

Kevin Lentz, senior, is revising the Booster Board. Each year we update our board by calling local merchants to see if they would like to renew their ads. We then replace any cancellations and put up the new ads.

Special Thanks to the Booster Club
The 1985 school year has come to an end much the same way the school year ends every year.

We, the 1985 Yearbook Staff, have tried to record the events of the year as well as to capture a "feel" for what life at Midway High School is really like. We've told about the sameness and even genericness of life at school. We've tried to tell about the fun and good times shared as well. We hope to have captured a part of everyone attending Midway, perhaps not only this year but also past and future students.

We hope, as every yearbook staff does, to have produced the best yearbook ever. We have great pride in what we have accomplished, thanks to Mrs. Stillings's aid and, sometimes, prodding.

We've also enjoyed the time spent working on this yearbook. We've enjoyed the sense of camaraderie that has grown among us, and we've enjoyed our "gossip sessions."

We would like to thank Kelli Soylan and Danny Nigus for taking the pictures for this yearbook and everybody who has helped to support this yearbook in any way.

"Okay, what did you do this time?" asked Mrs. Stillings, the yearbook advisor.

Look at these little angels. Connie Fergerson, Kathy Anderson, Andy Becker, Kevin Lentz, Mrs. Stillings, Mike Long, Jane Halling, and Carmen Albers are the people responsible for this yearbook.
Carmen Albers — 2, 8, 10, 11, 12, 18, 20, 21, 22, 24, 27, 28, 34, 35, 37, 38, 41, 42, 43, 44, 48, 49, 53, 54, 56, 58, 62, 65, 66, 67, 68, 93
Jean Albers — 2, 18, 21, 35, 37, 43, 72, 73
Jim Albers — 86, 88, 89, 90, 91
Thomas Albers — 9, 13, 21, 24, 30, 31, 33, 44, 74, 75
Kathy Anderson — 6, 7, 9, 21, 32, 44, 47, 50, 51, 52, 54, 56, 63, 65, 66, 68, 70, 93
Marlo Anderson — 2, 21, 28, 75
Melinda Anderson — 15, 49, 51, 52, 56, 60, 67, 71
Ric Baird — 13, 15, 17, 23, 25, 31, 32, 33, 44, 53, 56, 70
Jim Baker — 9, 13, 15, 21, 26, 38, 44, 53, 70
Andy Becker — 21, 27, 58, 65, 66, 67, 68, 93
Pat Becker — 13, 33, 44, 62, 75
Tim Becker — 13, 15, 33, 44, 53, 64, 70, 71
Orrel Berry — 84, 88, 89, 90
Amy Betts — 83, 87, 88, 90, 91
Jim Betts — 4, 9, 13, 16, 17, 21, 30, 31, 33, 44, 53, 66, 68
Ricki Betts — 21, 70
Bobby Bird — 84, 90
Chris Bird — 86, 90
Apollo Boyton — 91
Millisia Brown — 86, 90
Julie Brox — 84, 88, 90, 91
Michael Brox — 8, 14, 15, 16, 21, 33, 44, 51, 52, 53, 70
Michelle Brox — 82, 84, 88, 89, 90, 91
Elaine Callahan — 86, 87, 88, 90
Dennis Canaday — 84, 90, 91
Jeff Caudle — 13, 15, 21, 32, 33, 38, 44, 52, 53, 73, 70
Neil Caudle — 4, 13, 21, 33, 44, 74, 75
Todd Caudle — 84, 88, 89, 90, 91
Leighanna Cerai — 14, 15, 41, 44, 49, 54, 56, 72, 73
Lawerence Christopher — 84, 89, 90
Matt Clements — 12, 13, 44, 46, 47, 48, 51, 52, 53, 54, 56, 59, 64, 65, 66, 68, 76
Sheryl Cluck — 15, 21, 44, 48, 56, 70, 71
Diane Collins — 86, 90
Keith Courtin — 84, 88, 89, 90, 91
Barry Coy — 60, 61, 74, 75
Melissa Coy — 21, 44, 72
Paul Coy — 42, 66, 68
Sue Elder — 5, 6, 10, 11, 18, 19, 21, 22, 36, 37, 46, 50, 59, 65, 66, 67, 68
Janet Elliott — 2, 5, 17, 18, 21, 25, 27, 31, 34, 35,
36, 37, 38, 43, 44, 46, 52, 54, 56, 59, 65, 66, 67, 68
Matt Everhart — 74, 75
Mike Everhart — 4, 13, 17, 28, 30, 31, 44, 55, 72, 73
Connie Fergerson — 6, 21, 24, 39, 44, 46, 47, 58, 60, 65, 66, 68, 93
Jody Franken — 89, 91
Mike George — 16, 28, 33, 74, 75
Brian Godfrey — 10, 11, 12, 13, 21, 23, 25, 33, 44, 53, 58, 59, 66, 67, 68
Jeff Godfrey — 13, 15, 43, 44, 70
Leslie Godfrey — 85
Arthur Goodman — 86, 88, 90, 91
Kristi Goodpasture — 84
Brenda Gordon — 83, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91
Chad Gordon — 10, 11, 13, 44, 53, 57, 65, 66, 68, 76
Kim Gordon — 14, 15, 18, 21, 35, 44, 49, 72, 73, 60
Rebecca Gregory — 86, 88, 89, 90
Kathy Grider — 70
Maria Grider — 85
Angie Hager — 15, 17, 18, 22, 24, 29, 31, 35, 37, 44, 54, 56, 70, 71
Shannon Hager — 83, 84, 88, 89, 90, 91
Shelli Hager — 18, 30, 31, 37, 49, 72, 73
Jane Halling — 3, 9, 10, 11, 16, 18, 21, 22, 29, 30, 37, 44, 50, 65, 66, 68, 93
Buddy Harrell — 72
Frank Harrell — 84, 88
Doug Hathaway — 86, 90
Eric Helmstetter — 89
Brad Holzhey — 89, 91
Kari Holzhey — 4, 18, 21, 28, 30, 31, 37, 63, 75
Jay Horton — 13, 22, 44, 47, 53, 58, 65, 66, 69, 76
Jamie Hundertmark — 14, 15, 23, 70
Joel Hundertmark — 83, 86, 90, 91
Eddie Hundley — 84, 88, 89, 90
Mary Hundley — 84, 90
Penny Jamvold — 88, 91
Sandy Jamvold — 86, 88, 90, 91
Steve Jamvold — 16, 17, 62, 72
David Johnson — 84, 85, 88, 89, 90, 91
Anne Joyce — 5, 7, 18, 35, 37, 44, 54, 56, 72
Marty Joyce — 13, 14, 15, 24, 29, 31, 33, 38, 40, 44, 53, 56, 64, 70
Krista Keys — 2, 18, 21, 37, 44, 49, 72
Stacia Keys — 84, 88, 90, 91
Angie Klaus — 84, 90
Kenny Klaus — 86, 90
Jennifer Kopp — 2, 11, 21, 26, 28, 39, 58, 59, 63, 66, 69
Kristi Kopp — 84, 89, 90

Virginia Langley — 84, 90
Mark Laverentz — 8, 14, 15, 23, 33, 39, 53, 70, 71
Lisa Law — 14, 15, 21, 34, 35, 72, 73
Kevin Lentz — 2, 11, 16, 17, 44, 51, 52, 53, 56, 57, 59, 61, 66, 69, 92, 93
Stacy Lentz — 17, 18, 21, 26, 32, 37, 44, 61, 63, 64, 74, 75
Becky Leatherman — 84, 90
Steve Libel — 44, 57, 60, 65, 67, 69
Mike Long — 14, 15, 21, 48, 49, 70, 71, 93

Rebecca Martin — 84, 90
Mike Matthias — 60, 64, 65, 67, 69
Sandy Matthias — 84, 90
Dennis Meredith — 16, 28, 44, 49, 62, 72
Debbie Miller — 18, 60, 75
Lawerence Miller — 89, 91

Angie Nigus — 84, 85, 88, 89, 90
Danny Nigus — 4, 5, 10, 11, 12, 13, 17, 23, 44, 47, 52, 53, 54, 59, 61, 67, 69, 76, 93
Jim Nimz — 46, 62, 65, 67, 69, 76
Shelly Nimz — 14, 15, 21, 70
Stacie Ninemire — 86, 88, 89, 90, 91
Kellie Norris — 7, 18, 21, 35, 37, 44, 49, 72

Dana Obermyer — 72, 73
Ethan Orcutt — 84, 90

Dawn Page — 82, 85, 89, 90, 91
Jennifer Page — 18, 21, 60, 75
Joel Parker — 86, 88, 90
Scott Parker — 85, 88, 90
Todd Parker — 15, 33, 70
Donnie Peuker — 86, 88, 89, 90, 91
J. R. Peuker — 49, 72
Loris Peuker — 85, 88, 89, 90, 91
Travis Peuker — 85, 90
Kim Purmort — 85, 88, 90, 91
Susan Purmort — 8, 15, 18, 23, 40, 44, 50, 54, 56, 61, 64, 70
Anna Purvis — 21, 65, 67, 79
Jesse Pierce — 33, 44, 75
Shane Pierce — 86, 88, 90, 91

Danny Ricklets — 89, 91
Jimmy Ricklets — 13, 33, 75
Karen Ricklets — 86, 88, 89, 90, 91
Sandra Roland — 86, 88, 90, 91
Tisha Rush — 88, 89
Teresa Rush — 85, 88, 89, 90, 91
Terri Russell — 4, 21, 74, 75

Karri Schuetz — 88, 89
Kristi Schuetz — 18, 21, 28, 34, 44, 74, 75
Teresa Simpson — 85, 90
Logan Smith — 85
Kelli Soyland — 7, 30, 31, 37, 42, 46, 47, 52, 53, 56, 63, 65, 67, 69, 93
Liz Starr — 86, 90
Erin Staudenmeir — 86, 88, 89, 90, 91
Curtis Swinford — 86, 88, 89, 90

Charles Walker — 21, 64, 67, 69
Keith Walsh — 85, 88, 89, 90, 91
Eric Wood — 14, 15, 22, 53, 70
Denise Wood — 86, 90
Rick Wood — 72, 73
Shawna Wood — 86, 90
John Wright — 89, 91
Ryan Winchester — 9, 13, 17, 33, 53, 75

Brian Yendell — 86, 90

Heather Zeit — 83, 85, 88, 89, 90, 91
AUTOGRAHPS