School Song

On, Trojans, down the field,
Fight on for Troy High,
And may our school be victorious,
We'll never say die,
And with the glory and honor
of Troy's Sons' great might,
We'll fight and win for our colors,
The Blue and White!

The Board of Education is the principal policy-making body of a school system, and provides highly trained leadership and direction for public education. An active board can contribute much to the success of a school system, with the cooperation of the superintendent, faculty, and community.

The School Board of the Unified School District #429 is headed by President Norman Davies, assisted by Raymond Gaul, who holds the position of Vice-president. The proceedings of their meetings which are held on the first Wednesday of each month are recorded by Nell Larzelere, who serves as Secretary of the Board.
Mr. B. Fills Two Positions

Mr. Kenneth E. Bontrager, Superintendent and Principal of THS, is pictured above with the school secretary, Mrs. Larzelere. Mr. B. is a very busy man, filling two positions that many times are filled by two different men. He works with students, faculty, and administration in order to keep THS moving ahead in the right way.

Mr. Bontrager hails from Circleville and attended Washburn U. (A.B.), KTSC, Emporia, (M.S.), and K.U. He is married to Janice Bontrager and is the father of Mark, Kim, Cathey, and Kristy Bontrager. Aside from his duties at THS, Mr. B. enjoys watching athletic events.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Larzelere both contribute to the smooth running of THS. "Nell" is school secretary and bookkeeper and school board secretary, and "Dick" is school mechanic and a bus driver. The Larzeleres are the parents of Deborah and Melinda Larzelere and Jacqueline Chase.

Mrs. L. attended business college and now, in addition to school and family, she enjoys knitting, sewing, and crosswords. Mr. L. enjoys hunting quail, building, and learning to play bridge. The Larzeleres and their family spent last summer in Minnesota and hope to return again this summer.

"School Days, School Days
(Are Nothing Without Faculty)

Mr. Keith Ellison

T.H.S. is happy to welcome a long-awaited addition to its faculty this year. Mr. Keith Ellison became Troy's student-faculty counselor. He teaches a World Geography class in addition to his counseling duties at the grade school and here at the high school. Mr. Ellison enjoys hunting and fishing in the free hours that aren't occupied by activities of his family--Nancy (his wife) and Julie, Angela, and Greg (his children). Mr. Ellison worked at LFM in Atchison last summer and plans to work this summer.

Mr. Fred Folsche

Troy is the home of our Industrial Arts teacher, Mr. Fred Folsche. He teaches Drivers' Education and Physics in addition to industrial arts. Mr. Folsche attended Highland Junior College and Kansas State University. Flying and working with radio-controlled model planes and woodworking keep him busy during his time spent away from school. Last summer he farmed and taught Drivers' Education. His plans for next summer include both of these, as well as his obtaining his commercial flying license. Mr. Folsche is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Folsche of Troy. Mr. Folsche sponsors the THS seniors.
Sewing, trying new recipes, and traveling are the main things Mrs. Anna Goss enjoys doing when away from the Home Ec. Department at T.H.S. She is the wife of James Goss and the mother of Timothy Goss. Troy is their home town. Mrs. Goss received her B.S. from Kansas State University where she returned last summer for a short summer course. After completing her course she and her family traveled in the South. Next summer she may take another course at KSU and she may vacation with her family again.

Mrs. Sharon Groh

Recital work and professional singing engagements keep Mrs. Sharon Groh busy when she is not teaching here. In those few leisure hours that she has, she spends her time cooking fancy dishes and doing interior decorating in her home. Mrs. Groh and her husband, Donald, live in Wathena, their home town. Mrs. Groh attended college at St. Joseph Junior College (A.A.), Park College (B.S.), and UMKC where she is working toward her master's degree. Mrs. Groh teaches band and vocal music at THS. She also sponsors the seniors.

Mr. Richard Harrington

Mr. Richard Harrington was a late arrival at THS this year, but he was readily accepted and now seems as though he has always been here. He is a native of Solomon, Kansas, is the husband of Janice H., and the father of Rodney, Patricia, and Thomas Harrington. He attended K.U. (B.S.) and plans to return this summer for further study. Last summer he was an agent for the Farm Bureau Insurance Service. He lists watching football games and track meets, hunting quail, and fishing as his favorite pastimes.

Miss Nellie Russell

Miss Russell is the daughter of the Wm. Russell's of Galena--her home town. She attended Joplin Jr. College (A.A.), Baker University (A.B.), and Kansas State College (graduate work). Miss Russell teaches English, speech, and shorthand and, while away from school, she enjoys reading, playing the piano, and swimming. Last summer she attended graduate school at KSC and took a trip to California. This summer she plans to return to KSC and continue working for her Master's Degree in English.
Miss Sherrelyn Smith

Kansas City, Kansas, is the home town of Troy High School's English teacher, Miss Sherrelyn Smith. Miss Smith graduated from Baker University (A.B.) in 1966. Last summer she returned to B.U. for summer school. Next summer, she plans to take it easy for a time and then make a trip to California with her family. Her favorite pastimes are swimming and tennis. Miss Smith is the daughter of Mrs. Florence Smith of Kansas City.

Mr. Merle Soeken

Mr. Merle Soeken arrived in Troy last summer and immediately went to work improving the Vocational Agriculture Department by painting, repairing, and reconstructing. He spent the first part of his summer farming. Fishing, collecting jazz records, and tinkering with electronics are Mr. Soeken's favorite hobbies. He is the son of the Albert Soeken's of Claflin—his home town. He attended Fort Hayes State College and Kansas State University (B.S.). He plans to get married, farm, and attend a teachers' conference next summer.

Mr. Walter Staats

Golf, hunting, and fishing occupy part of Mr. Walter Staats' spare time. The other part is occupied by his wife, Ann, and his four children, Deborah, Diane, Dwayne, and Dwight. Mr. Staats' home town is Marlow, Oklahoma. He attended Panhandle A&M, Goodwell, Okla.; Garden City Jr. College, Garden City; Oklahoma U., Norman Okla.; Kansas State College, Pittsburg; and Colorado U., Boulder, Colo. Last summer Mr. Staats attended school at KSC (NSF Institute) and after a year of teaching chemistry and coaching, he plans to attend school again.

Mrs. Joyce Sundell

Mrs. Joyce Sundell, her husband, Ed., and her new son, Robert Edward, make their home in Wathena. Mrs. Sundell taught American History and American Government before resigning in November to await the arrival of her first child. She enjoys, in addition to her family, sewing and reading. Her plans for next summer are the same as for last summer and those were to take care of her family. Mrs. Sundell received her B.S. at Northwest Missouri State.
Mr. Kenneth Thomas

Mr. Kenneth Thomas had a very special September this year because Jon Kurtis Thomas was born to Mr. T. and his wife, Norma, making them both very proud parents. Mr. Thomas claims Whiting as his home town and Highland Jr. College (A.A.) and K.S.T.C. in Emporia (B.S.) as his alma maters. Reading, baseball, and basketball are his favorite pastimes. He had to forget them for awhile last spring and summer, however, because he was on active duty for the U.S. Army. He plans to farm this summer. Mr. T. teaches Algebra and General Math at THS.

Mrs. Ellen Warren

Mrs. Ellen Warren enjoys reading and raising lilies in addition to her classroom work and librarian duties at school. Mrs. Warren attended Kansas Wesleyan and Kansas State University (B.S.). She and her husband, Ronald, are the parents of Fred and Samuel Warren and Patricia Cary and Elizabeth Atkinson. Last summer Mrs. Warren took four grandchildren to New York City on a train and flew home with them in a small plane. She also helped run the farm. This summer she plans to entertain her children and grandchildren.

Mr. Dale Whiteside

Mr. Dale Whiteside, a native of Washington, D.C., and son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Whiteside, Sr., received his B. S. at Kansas State University. He teaches typing, bookkeeping, and office practice and is attendance officer for THS. Mr. Whiteside enjoys farming, in addition to his classroom duties. He farmed all last summer and says that he plans to do the same this summer.

Mr. Earl Williams

Reading and sports take up part of Mr. Earl Williams spare time. A two-month trip throughout the United States and Canada occupied his vacation last summer. Next summer Mr. Williams plans to attend school to work on his master's degree. He is the son of Mrs. Edna Williams and the late Horace Williams. He attended Highland Junior College (A.A.) and Kansas State Teachers' College, Emporia (B.S.). He teaches biology and World History and Advanced Social Studies.
We Appreciate Good Food, Clean Buildings, Safe Rides

As the bell rings, food is in immediate demand. The cooks and student helpers are pictured above as they serve two of the students (Pat Harris and Donna Rush) who form an impatient line each noon. Cooks and student help work fast and furiously to fill the waiting trays of a hundred students. Our cooks do an excellent job of having the food ready and waiting promptly at noon.

Trays laden with food are ready and waiting for the hungry students who will soon arrive. The cooks, Mrs. Eva Saltzman and Mrs. Anna Wasson, prepare each day a meal that is both tasty and nutritious. Student help for the cooks include, from right, Judy DeVault, Merlina Watkins, and Nancy Juhl.

Our camera caught our custodian, Mr. Hadley Weinberg at work as he pushes a broom. Mr. Weinberg, as you can see in the picture above, often works late and it is usually very late in the evening when he finishes cleaning the school house. We students appreciate a clean school and again, many thanks.

There are signs of changes being made in the National Honor Society with eight new initiates as members. The members sponsored a dance and sold cupcakes and cookies during the noon hour to the students to raise money for the projects and activities that they had planned for the coming year. Mr. Folsche again sponsored the organization which represents and promotes character, service, leadership and scholarship to those who are members, and to those who seek to be a future member of this organization.

To become a member of the National Honor Society, students must have a B average or above and be voted upon by the faculty members, and also by the society members. The new members are accepted at an assembly held each spring, and only juniors are accepted to be members during their senior year.

Other highlights of this year in school work is the arrival of their class rings.

One of the money-raising projects of this class for the last two years has been selling raffle tickets on a turkey, hen, and goose, which are given away just before Christmas vacation begins. It has proven to be a very profitable project and gives the public something to look forward to as well. Below, the sophomore class officers are working on their tickets. They are, Kenny Winder, Tom Bruns, Pat Harris, Bev Engemann, Debbie Clary, and Bill Chapple.
The upperclassmen were waiting to welcome the freshmen as they entered and soon became a part of THS. Their first year was full of learning rules and lessons, meeting and getting to know people, and money making projects. Their projects consisted of a bake sale and picking up corn. With the money they earned, they can look forward to many successes during the next three years.

Coaches, Captains, and Squad Make Team

The Trojan A-Team football squad suffered a disappointing season this year with no wins. Perhaps they have accepted the fact now, however, that it takes much more to make a team than a football squad and a football. There must be cooperation among players and among players and coaches and there must be mutual respect and tolerance for one another. The Trojan B-Team fared somewhat better, winning two games, losing two, and tying one game.

Other Lettermen

As on the offensive unit of any football team, the Troy Trojans' offensive line is made up of boys that can play the particular position of mainly blocking for the ball carriers. Our defensive unit is composed of boys that are alert and are tough when it comes to tackling the opponent who is carrying the ball, and getting through the line so as to tackle them as far back as possible, and keep them from gaining yardage.

Both units must work together in order to produce results.
The T-Club is made up of boys that have lettered in one or more sports. These boys are brought into the club each year by an annual initiation which is held in the spring. After the initiation, the whole group has a picnic. Other activities for the club include selling chances on cakes at home basketball games and the awards banquet held at the end of each year. At this banquet, the members are presented with the letters which they have earned during the past year.
The Trojan A-Team had a difficult season this year—winning only one game with Whiting. Despite their continuing losing streak, they pushed on, many times showing that they still had that champion style once attributed to the Trojans. Many factors make up a win­ ting team, and there is no doubt that the Trojans could win. They have the ability and the capable leadership (Coach Staats).

Trojans Keep Spirit Despite Difficult Season

The Trojan B-Team showed much improve­ment over their 1965-66 season, and if this is an indication, next season looks even more promising. The B-Team coach is Mr. Ken­neth Thomas. Managers are Doug Johnson and Jerry Anderson.
The second place winners in the K-36 League Freshman Tournament are shown above with their trophy. They are, KNEELING, R. Davies, D. Foley, M. Simpson, M. Hurtig, G. Masters, P. Greaser, STANDING; M. Meier, A. Ruhnke, J. Elder, J. Turpin, M. Gaither, B. Thomas, and Coach Thomas. Their season was much improved this year with a 6-6 season.

Freshmen Move Out In Front With 6-6 Season

Jump high, Wayne.

Okay, who fouled?

Your time to shine, Harold.

Warm-up time, boys.
Hopes are high this year as track season begins. The squad is almost twice the size of last year's. There are only three returning lettermen, however, placing the success of the team on the shoulders of younger and newer members.

With the addition of more members to the squad, more and varied events can be entered. As a result, each member can spend his time preparing for an event for which he feels qualified rather than having to prepare for several, for most of which he is not qualified. In the past, there have been such small squads that it was necessary to put members in several events in order to produce a full team, thus actually reducing the effectiveness of the individuals in their own events. All indications, at this time, point to a successful season.
THS Homecoming was October 21, 1966. The evening was chilly, but the atmosphere was charged with excitement. We played Winchester and were defeated, but the center of attention was the three senior girls who were chosen as Queen and princesses.
Queenancy Juhl and her escort, Lester Winder, are shown here seated on the queen's platform viewing the dance held afterward. Their ready smiles reflect the wonderful evening enjoyed by all.

Princess Anita Ross and her escort, Duane Yingling, are shown here after the crowning. The band and Pep Club formed two interlocking circles with the queen and princesses crowned inside them at half-time ceremonies.

Princess Gail Kostman and her escort, Bill Penny, are ready to enjoy an evening of fun and gaiety.

The Trojans and the visiting team, Winchester, danced until the magic hour of midnight. A bouquet of red roses was given each of the candidates.
Kayettes in Action

For the second consecutive year the Kayettes have challenged the Highland Kayettes in a return football game. The game, played three weeks previously, had ended in a scoreless tie. The girls struggled through freezing weather, but the score at the end of the game remained tied 0-0. The players practiced long tireless hours both after school and on Sunday afternoons.

This game was also Kayette Homecoming. Jerry Yingling was proclaimed King at the half-time. He was elected by penny vote over four other candidates shown below.

King Jerry gets a kiss from Captain Pitts
Early this fall students of THS were surprised and delighted to receive a visit from Senator Pearson of Kansas.

Around ten o'clock in the morning the senator arrived via helicopter and greeted the student body who went out to meet him on the football field.

Senator Pearson spoke informally to the gathering of students and public officials and added some worthwhile advice regarding our future plans.

After leaving the football field, Senator Pearson went to town to do a "little politicking," as he put it.

A principal figure in the "Seven Steps" organization is former convict, Joe Wallace. The "Seven Steps" program deals with the convicts' way of life after prison. The program has kept many convicts from returning to prison.

THS students were surprised and shocked at the picture Mr. Wallace painted of prison life. He related not only his actual prison experiences, but also the incidents that led up to his being imprisoned. These included stealing milk from people's doorsteps and finally taking an empty safe and being caught with it.

Mr. Wallace's road back to the "right side of life" has been long and at times difficult. He is now devoting his life to helping others.

As indicated by the picture, even junior high students attending the program found Wallace an admirable man.
Miss Gail Kostman, a senior chosen by the Vo. Ag. III & IV class, was elected the 1966-67 FFA Sweetheart. Each Vo. Ag. class chose a candidate, and then the entire chapter voted to select the queen.

Susan Duncan, a freshman selected by the Vo. Ag. I boys, is shown as she attempts to saddle a horse. The girls had two farm chores to do on the afternoon of the barn-warmer, which was held November 12.

Patricia Harris was quite capable of running an obstacle course of tin cans with the garden tractor, as seen in the picture at the right. The girls had to weave in and out of the cans without hitting them. Pat breathed a sigh of relief after successfully completing the task. Pat is a sophomore and was nominated by the Vo. Ag. II class as their candidate.

Fortunately, there were no pigs within hearing distance as Gail proved her ability at the "art" of calling hogs. This was the third of the tasks the girls had to complete. After riding the garden tractor and saddling the horse, each girl was asked some questions concerning farm procedures and then each was asked to perform some of these, such as calling pigs. All these tasks were performed on the football field in front of the student body and faculty.

Gail was crowned at the beginning of the traditional "barnwarmer" in the evening and reigned over the dance which was held in the school gymnasium.
Ten new members of the Future Farmers of America were royally given the "Green Hand" initiation. The fellows wore farm clothes to school. Our pictures show a "before and after" of the initiation. The new members had a real "welcome" and good humor prevailed.
Adding to the THS Christmas spirit this year were five area ministers who spoke to students and faculty during the pre-Christmas week. The programs were sponsored again this year by the Key Club as they have been in past years.

Each minister warned of too much concentration on the “commercial” side of Christmas and not enough on the “spiritual” side. They related traditions and customs of other countries and several approved of our Christmas tree and Santa Claus as part of the traditions surrounding the season. However, again, though, they indicated the importance of remembering the “true” reason for our celebration of Christmas.
Each year on Veterans' Day the T. H. S. students are honored by a special presentation from the Legion post at Troy. In addition to T. H. S. students, also in attendance were members of Troy's Legion and junior high students.

At the right, James Goss and Byron Shupe, members of Troy's post are pictured as they carefully remove the flags after the program.

Officer Kirkendoll

Warns, "Be Alert!"

The Kansas Highway Patrol made its annual visit to Troy High in October. Officer Roy Kirkendoll, safety officer for this area from Kansas City, Kansas, was in charge of the presentation. Assisting him was Trooper William Bell of Troy.

Officer Kirkendoll emphasized his statements about highway safety with slides of actual accidents or near-accidents. He especially emphasized the importance of being an alert driver at all times—when a driver has the right of way as well as when he does not, on any roads as well as intersections, and on seldom-used roads as well as heavily-used roads.

"Professor, how could you!" was the cry of one of the young women who felt she had been tricked in this story about a young college professor who needed, but not necessarily wanted, a wife. Keats Perry, the professor, was offered a deanship in his college and the only catch to the offer was that he had to be married—and he wasn’t. Since he knew nothing about modern girls (he was more familiar with the historical figures like Cleopatra), he persuaded his best friend, John Appleby, to help him find a suitable wife.

Keats lived with his grandparents who were both concerned about his lack of knowledge about modern girls. Also part of the household was Boggins, the sporting but very proper butler. Adding to the situation was one of Keats’ students, Vicky Randolph, who simply couldn’t get along with him. She didn’t agree with his theory about women.

Vicky discovers that John is trying to find a wife for Keats, so she makes him let her help. Boggins and Grandpa Perry also become involved in the search. Each soon picks his candidate and all are invited to a dinner party given by Grandma Perry. The evening’s events include many mix-ups and misunderstandings caused mainly by Grandpa who wants his candidate (who is unknown to the others) to win. Keats finally realizes that he loves Vicky and Vicky loves him. The other three girls find happiness with other men and Grandpa and Grandma Perry breathe a sigh of relief.

"Act Your Age" Theme of 1967 Conference

January 17 was a special day for the THS Kayettes. On that day, they acted as hostess to ten schools at the district Kay-Kayette conference. The conference is held at a different school each year.

Using the theme "Act Your Age" they planned the activities for the day. Our president, Donna Turpin gave the welcoming speech and the Highland president gave the response. A mixed ensemble from our music department sang three selections and Nancy Juhl sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Wanda Mae Vinson, the guest speaker, is the director of the Kansas Association for Youth. Her speech entitled "Act Your Age" brought out the purpose of the Kayette organization, which is to better ourselves so as to serve our school and community in a more efficient manner. She showed us how many times being a "squealer" and reporting vandalism and stealing, even on your best friends, is your duty as a citizen. In this way you may be keeping one more person from heading for a life of crime and wrong doings.

Are you a leader or a follower? Do you have the initiative to stand up for what you think is right, even if it means not going along with the crowd? These were some of the main points Miss Vinson made as she continued her speech and pointed out that the "teenagers of today are the leaders of tomorrow" and they will shape the future lives of many people. After this general assembly, the youths were divided into smaller groups where they discussed their local clubs. Refreshments of punch and cookies were served before our guests departed.
Valentine's Day brought another exciting event in the life of THS. During the half-time ceremonies of the B-team game with Elwood, Miss Linda Pitts was crowned 1967 Basketball Queen. Her attendants were Miss Gail Kostman and Miss Carol Rogerson.

Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pitts, and has been an active member of Pep Club all during high school. She is the Pep Club treasurer this year.

Gail has also been active in Pep Club for four years and is president this year. Gail is the daughter of Mrs. Esther Kostman.

Carol attended Elwood High her first two years and then transferred to Troy for her junior and senior year. She was active in activities there. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cross,
Basketball Team Selects Linda

The 1967 Queen of the Courts coronation was a gala affair which came to a climax with the crowning of the queen. Smiles and happiness set the mood for the evening as the queen was crowned. The entire Pep Club added to the atmosphere as they marched onto the gymnasium floor and formed a heart, inside of which the three girls and their escorts stood as the coronation took place. A portion of the Pep Club is seen in the picture at the right.

Duane Yingling crowned Queen Linda, who was escorted by Bill Penny. David Pimorey escorted Princess Carol and Richard Burkhart escorted Princess Gail.

Julie Ellison and Dwayne Staats served as flower girl and crown bearer respectively.

The traditional Queen of the Courts dance in the school gymnasium followed the games. The music was provided by a juke box.

The games proved to be very exciting as the Trojan B-team downed the Elwood Panthers 84 to 59. The A-team boys were not quite so successful, but they lost by only three points as the final score tallied 67 for the Troy Trojans and 70 for the visiting Elwood Panthers.

The one-act play cast presented "The Rocking Horse Winner" by D. H. Lawrence at Midway, February 16.

The rocking-horse winner is the youngest child of a once-wealthy English family named Chesmond. Paul Chesmond is a very sensitive young boy and is quite concerned about his family's lack of money. He is continually made more aware of this fact by his mother, Hester, who takes every opportunity to remind her children, Paul, Kathy, and Joan, and her husband, Geoff, how unlucky she is. Hester, through her complaints, has made obtaining more money an obsession with Paul. He takes it upon himself to get more.

The gardener, Bassett, makes it possible for Paul to obtain money. Bassett is a fan of horse racing and has interested Paul in it. Somehow Paul has discovered that if he can ride his rocking horse (an old childhood toy) long enough and hard enough, he can find out the winner of the major horse races. Sometimes he loses, but most of the time he wins. At one point he wins a rather large sum and since he can't give the money to his mother himself, he prevails upon his Uncle Oscar (who is visiting) to give her the money, using the story of an inheritance as the reason.
Hester is, of course, thrilled about the money, but is not satisfied with what she receives. She always wants more and is unconcerned about how to pay it back. Her husband has received several extensions on a bank loan and each time, he thinks it the last. Whenever he receives a new extension, Hester immediately goes on another shopping spree forgetting the pile of bills she has already accumulated.

When Paul discovers that the money he has won has only made matters worse he decides that he will have to win one of the "big money" races. As before, he rides his rocking horse and rides and rides. Being a frail boy, the strain of the burden, lack of rest, and continual riding completely ruin his already poor physical condition. Annie, the cook, tries to warn the family about the seriousness of Paul's condition but they fail to realize it until it is too late. When Paul finally does win one of the big races, he doesn't live to enjoy it. He wins enough money so his mother will have plenty to spend, but in the process, he destroys himself.

Mary Carol Grable and Bill Penny won first place awards for best supporting roles.
The Baker University Choir, which consists of approximately 38 Baker students under the direction of Dr. William C. Rice, had a very active year of singing festivities and tours. In addition to short trips around this part of the state, (Troy in April) the choir prepared and presented the annual Christmas Candlelight Vespers at the Baldwin First Methodist Church. In the spring, the choir presented a special Easter cantata on Palm Sunday. The choir is generally featured in one or more convocation programs each year as well. They close out the year with Baccalaureate exercises.

In addition to many talented soloists, the choir contains several very talented groups--trios and a quartet. Over half of the members are pianists and several have studied the organ. Music students accompany the choir. Lester Groom, professor of music and fine arts is organist. In programs for various area churches, schools, and civic groups, the choir serves as good-will ambassadors for Baker University.

Dr. William C. Rice, director, is pictured at left with Mrs. Sharon Groh and two students, Mary Carol Grable and Carol Rogerson, after he conducted a vocal clinic here in November.
ORGANIZATIONS
New Courses Added To Music Department

Many changes occurred at THS this year and among them were changes in the music department. For the first time there was a beginners' band course offered, where students learned to play new instruments or refreshed on ones they had learned previously. Both band classes are pictured above under the direction of Mrs. Groh.

Another added class was the beginners' chorus class which was offered to students who could not take chorus during the regular period that it was offered. This was for girls only. It was held during homeroom on Tuesday of each week. The band class was also held during homeroom four days a week.
Choruses Seek Depth In Music

Girls and boys chorus is open to any and all students who are interested in participating in the fellowship of choral music. Through singing, one can gain confidence in oneself, a medium of expression through music, and an appreciation of that music. This appreciation and expression of oneself through choral music is our goal through the year.

Mixed chorus is another branch of the boys and girls choruses, and is made up of the better voices of each of these choruses. It has proved to be a satisfying and rewarding experience for all who have participated in such a group as this.

The choruses provide a great deal of opportunity for all students who wish to associate with others. They provide a music program, in combination with the school band, at Christmas time, and also are part of our musical concert in the spring of each year. They attend the music contests in Lawrence, Kansas each year and are rated by state judges.

Pep Club Has New Sponsor

Under the capable leadership of Miss Smith, the Pep Club has had another successful year. The uniforms have been changed from the skirts and weslks to royal blue skirts and V-neck pull-over sweaters.

The Pep Club's main functions are to support the team and create school spirit in the team and in the student body. They also sponsor the Homecoming dance and have charge of the halftime ceremonies during the Homecoming game.

Their various fund-raising projects have included a food sale and selling brownies to the faculty and student body during the noon hour.

Donna Clary Debbie Clary Bev Engemann Anita Ross Jeannine Luedke
OFFICERS INCLUDE: G. Kostman, Pres; M. Grable, Sec; L. Pitts, Treas; D. Turpin, V-Pres. Pictured with them are Coaches Staats and Thomas as they buy brownies during the noon-hour.

Each fall the cheerleaders attend a cheerleading clinic in St. Joseph, Missouri, where they learn new cheers, gain new ideas, and have a general pep rally. They find this very helpful, as they gain new and better ideas for keeping the community spirit in tip-top shape.

This year, they also attended a state-wide clinic in Manhattan, Kansas, where they participated in half-time activities of the K-State vs. Oklahoma football game. The picture at the right shows them preparing for the ceremonies.

Leaders of the Pep Club have an important duty. The cheerleaders must keep up the spirit of the student body and the community throughout the athletic seasons. This may be difficult to do after a below-average season, but this is the goal for which they strive.

The officers lead the different committees of the organization and see that the rules and by-laws of the constitution are carried out. Various projects are "ramrodded" by the officers, but generally, the entire club is included in the planning.
Mrs. Warren Works With Librarians And Language Club

Mrs. Warren is kept very busy with her classes and her job sponsoring the student librarians and Language Club.

The Language Club is made up of students who are taking a foreign language, or who have taken at least one year previously. Their activities include going Christmas caroling during the holiday season and having a club supper in the spring, to which all the faculty members are invited.

Student librarians (shown at the left) give a great deal of help to Mrs. Warren and to the student body in the library. When Mrs. Warren cannot be in the library, you will always find a student librarian in there to give a helping hand in time of need. This is one way students can serve their school.
Anyone wishing to be a member of the Trojan Trumpet staff must be willing to sacrifice as well as take credit for their job. Many times it is necessary to work after school and during the evenings to finish pages in time for printing.

The activity period of the first and third Wednesdays of each month is set aside for the staff meetings, but many other "unorganized" meetings are held among the members themselves as they discuss their articles and exchange ideas. In the regular meetings, stories are assigned and other problems worked out. Each staff member is assigned to a faculty member or other key figure in school and he checks with his assignee regularly so that the Trumpet can inform the readers about school happenings. Two deadlines are met each month and although sometimes a last-day emergency rush is necessary, the Trumpet is always ready to distribute to students, faculty, and other members of THS on time. A lot of work goes into the paper before it is finished. Writing stories, typing them into twenty-six space columns, and proofreading are just a few of the many tasks that must be completed before a page can be run off on the mimeograph machine.

All in all, it's an unending job, but a job that gives the members of the staff satisfaction when they see their work come out in print each month.
The Kayette board members are the backbone of our Kayette club as they are responsible for planning the year's agenda. These girls plan projects that will help the club improve their school, community and world. A board meeting is held once a month. At these meetings, the girls discuss ideas concerning new projects. These ideas are then brought up at the regular meeting and are voted on. They hold a meeting in the spring where both the old and new board members are present to plan projects for the new year.

The Kansas Association for Youth is nationally known for its service program. This year, the Troy Kayettes adopted two families for Thanksgiving as one of their community service projects. Here, in the picture shown at the right, several members add the final touches to the boxes of food and clothing that were given to these two families. The Kayettes also plan to have an Easter-egg hunt for the children of the Troy community. Other service projects include good-grooming days for school, faculty appreciation for the teachers, United Cerebral Palsy drives, and an all-school assembly.
The Key Club is a high school service club sponsored by Kiwanis. The organization is dedicated to service to the school and the whole community. Sophomore, junior, and senior boys are eligible for membership. The biggest project carried out by the Key Club is the Santa Claus and Christmas tree stand. In cooperation with the Kayettes this year, the Key Club took 20 patients from local nursing homes on a tour of St. Joseph's Candy Cane Lane. Each year an appreciation banquet is held with parents, teachers, and Kiwanis members as guests.
New Procedures Used In Electing Student Council

The Student Council members were elected in a different manner this year. Instead of electing them from the different organizations, each home room elected one, so as to have a better informed student body.

The officers were elected by a student-body vote. The candidates filed for office, campaigned for a week, and then each gave a platform speech in a special assembly. The following day, the election was held.

The Student Council’s duty is to carry out the changes the members of THS feel are relevant to bettering our school. Through cooperation with the faculty and school board, many improvements can be made through compromise to please all persons concerned.
"We need a picture of..." or "Where's the copy for...?" are the all-too-familiar cries heard among annual staff members as deadlines roll around. However, taking pictures and writing copy are not the only jobs the annual staff have to complete. The editor must work out the number of pages to be completed and what is to be on each page. Then, decisions must be made concerning what pictures are to be taken and of whom or what. Staff members must be alert to situations that hold picture-taking possibilities, for not all pictures can be scheduled.

The annual is prepared and sent to the publisher in three parts. The first deadline is in December, the second in January, and the third in March. Each page must be drawn on a triplicate form just as it is to be seen in the completed annual. Pictures must be cropped (unnecessary portions marked out) and the size of the pictures must be designated on the triplicates. Headlines and copy must be written and typed on each page. After all this is completed, the entire group of triplicates must be proofread and indexed.

Many hours for many months are spent in the preparation of the annual. When a finished copy is in a student's hands, sometimes he fails to realize all the work that has gone into those pages. However, those members of the staff who spent their free time at school, their evenings, and their weekends, will not soon forget and can feel a sense of accomplishment because they accepted and carried out a great responsibility--that being to record the events of the year in picture and copy.
Troy Chapter Promotes National F.F.A. Week

On Friday, February 24, four Future Farmers from the Troy Chapter, accompanied by their advisor, Mr. Soeken, journeyed to the KFEQ broadcasting studio in St. Joseph, Missouri, to appear on television. The occasion was to promote National FFA week, which was Feb. 18-25. The boys spoke on the Agri-Business Program as related to FFA. The purpose of this program was to further the knowledge of the public on the purpose of the Future Farmers of America so they would have a better understanding of the organization.

The FFA is a national organization of boys who are interested in agriculture. Through this organization, they hope to improve their knowledge of farming so as to be more successful in their future careers of agricultural work.

Mr. Soeken, Phil Albers, Dennis McKittrick, David Prawl, and Gary Chase were the five Troy representatives who appeared on TV to promote National FFA week.

Dear Students and Faculty,

The final days of another year at Troy High School are coming into view. From the time we enter Troy's halls as freshmen until the time we leave as seniors after that long-awaited graduation day, we become more and more attached to friends and to a special way of life. There are memories still fresh in our minds of many happy times we have spent with old and new friends alike, and they are memories we hope to remember always.

The 1967 annual staff has composed this book which we hope will be a source of pride, joy, and reminiscence for you as you leave T.H.S, forever or until another year. May it grow more and more precious to you as the years go by to become shadows of the past and as you and your classmates go your separate ways.

My deepest and most sincere thanks go to our sponsor, Miss Russell, my assisting editors, the dedicated members of the staff, and our cooperative faculty and student body for all they have contributed to the preparation of this annual.

May the years ahead be prosperous and full of the best possible things in life for you and all future T.H.S. students and may this book help you to recall fond memories now and in the years ahead.

Sincerely,

Mary Carol Grable
