All have a vision of their future--some place they would like to be years from now. Many become confused when they have to face that final decision and suffer from Destination Unknown. They're unsure if they are making the correct choice, which is going to affect the rest of their lives.

BLUESTREAK ROUTE

All of the classes at Highland High once again participated in the usual money-making activities, such as the chili soup suppers, to boost their classes' funds. None of these classes, however, know where they are going for Senior Sneak when they make all of this money towards the trip. It is just another case of Destination Unknown. Other activities included the basketball and football homecoming spirit weeks, where students got their chance to show school spirit. The junior class followed last year's juniors and made and sold pizzas to the community. Many of the students felt lucky because of the unusual number of field trips that were taken in comparison to other schools. By Leah Twombly.

Steven Lackey measures the precise amount of cheese for pizza in the making. The juniors found the pizza making project with Red Wheel Pizza and the Highland Lioness a profitable experience. Photo by Merideth Harness.

Krissy Sarver and Jamie Kent recall childhood memories of slipper slides as Crystal Blanton, Chris Smith, and Craig Jeschke look on in amusement. This was only part of the activities on the trip that the science classes took to Lawrence to visit the Natural History Museum. This trip was organized by Gary Keehn, science teacher. Through the years, this class has achieved a closeness that can never be destroyed. From deafening arguments in class meetings to singing Brett Kelley "Happy Birthday" at least twice a month, the Class of 1993 has always provided a source of laughter and ingenuity.

After four short years filled with good times and bad, the seniors are ready to explore the next vista of life's journey. With Destination Unknown they leave the sheltered walls of Highland High to face the challenging world. By Jana Booth.

This year the seniors traveled to Osage Beach, MO, for their senior sneak. Some of the highlights of their Ozark trip were going on a breakfast cruise, breaking a dock, pushing Cheryl Rasmussen into the pool, Brett Kelley losing his swimming trunks, getting an old-fashioned picture taken, playing miniature golf, and driving go-carts every day. Teresa Lambert enthusiastically summed it up, "Sneak was a blast!" By Holly Lucas.

Board/ Administration

Chauffeuring our bus to success

Cheryl Rasmussen, principal, and Jan Collins, superintendant, work hard all year to create the best for the students at HHS.

Rasmussen, not only principal, but a volleyball coach, and a vocal music teacher, has many other responsibilities and still finds time to reassure students that they are on the right track.

Collins wasn't seen often. Faculty had to catch the ever-moving "Doc" when he wasn't at meetings and figuring next year's busy calander. This year Collins surprised many by shaving the ever so harsh and rugged beard when Rasmusen's volleyball team won first in the state.

Together Rasmussen and Collins make a great team. They prepare students at HHS for the "real world," and still have time for family and friends. By Teresa Lambert.

Each year dozens of students begin a Destination Unknown course through high school. Will A students be able to maintain their high grades in more advanced classes? Will B students maintain honor roll status? Will D students keep from slipping into failing? This year an extra incentive to work hard in academics was added through the Renaissance program. Students working hard and receiving all A's received gold cards, and those receiving all A's and B's received silver cards. Students raising their grade average were given bronze cards. Card holders were awarded special privileges for their hard work. By Cory Sutherland.

The math classes are Algebra I and II, geometry, GTA, calculus, and physics. All of these classes are taught by Ted Hutchcraft. Business math is taught by Sue Trant. The physics class journeyed by bus to Houston for the annual visit to Johnson Space Center.

English I, II, and IV are all taught by Joyce Rush. Donna Parish teaches English III. Parish also teaches the creative writing class which puts out the school newspaper and yearbook. The journalism students represented Highland well when they traveled to Lawrence to compete in the KSPA contest on the Kansas University campus. Students can also take College English which is taught by Esther Gormley.

This year's science classes once again have a new teacher, Gary Keehn. Keehn teaches general science, biology, chemistry, horticulture, and college biology. The science room has taken on a new look this year with the addition of doves, snakes, fish, turtles, gerbils, a guinea pig, and mounted animals peering at students from various corners.

"I'm really pleased with our kids. They're an outstanding class, they're intelligent and motivated," says Steve Boeh, P.E. teacher.

Even though the students may not know what their future holds, they can enjoy the times their share with friends in different classes. Sheri Gormley stated, "P.E. is an interesting class, we play basketball most of the time, but we also play volleyball, racquetball, badminton and many other games. It was a lot of fun to get a day to relax in the snow. We had a great time!"

Elmer Schmitz teaches different agriculture classes that allow students to get hands-on experience. "We have one Ag-Science class that does research on agricultural topic areas," says Schmitz. Scott Jeschke stated, "We experimented with chicks in the classroom. We tried to hatch some eggs, but we ended up busting them." Schmitz went on to say, "We also have two Ag-Mechanics classes that put an emphasis on project construction on both cooperative projects and individual projects."

Laura Schmitz teaches home economics, letting students work on projects that have a positive effect on the world today. "We made quilts for AIDS babies, and prepared different foods from different countries," says Katie Booth. Aurelia Nuzum states, "I think the quilts really show the thoughtfulness that we at HHS have."

The students at HHS make the best of their high school experiences, which may help them in days to come. The future is uncertain, but they do their best today to make things easier for tomorrow. By Brian Edie.

Field Trips

Exploring the unknown

From the bowling alley to the Brown County Lake and the Gulf of Mexico, students traveled and experienced, educational as well as fun, field trips this year. Attending a small high school presents many advantages, and one of them is taking field trips.

The new and energetic science teacher, Gary Keehn, was enthusiastic about organizing trips for his classes. The college biology class has gone to the Brown County Lake several times to gather specimens and study the wildlife. Both the college and high school biology classes went to the Museum of Natural History at Kansas University to study biomes.

The senior physics class went on its annual trip to the NASA space museum and Galveston Beach. This year's trip was highlighted by a meal at Hooter's restaurant.

The entire school went to a bowling alley for an afternoon of physical exercise after spending the morning singing at the DVL music contest and touring the Frontier Army Museum.

Sue Trant took her computer classes on its annual field trip to the Federal Reserve Bank and the Toyota Factory Plant. The students came home with Toyota hats and key rings. These are examples of the variety and number of field trips taken by students throughout the school year. By Amy Batchelder.

Joining any organization is sure to be Destination Unknown. The majority of HHS students are involved in at least one club. Many ambitious students belong to more. The clubs sponsor various activities and dances throughout the year.

The FFA hosted its annual Barnwarming and attended and placed in various contests. They attended the American Royal and the Farm Show in Kansas City.

The Quiz Bowl team placed third at High Q in Topeka for the second year in a row. The Varsity placed first at Regionals and went to state. The J.V. team placed in several J.V. meets.

The Student Council has had a busy year, sponsoring Homecoming, Self-Esteem Week, and a community dance.

Two, four, six, eight, who do we appreciate? Cheerleaders! Yes, the cheerleaders worked very hard behind the scenes to boost school spirit and to help the various teams win by getting the crowd to yell positive chants and by making numerous good-luck posters.

This year the cheerleading squad attended a summer Dynamic Cheerleading Association Camp in Emporia to get new ideas. They also sponsored a Spirit Spreader held at Highland High School for area schools to learn different chants and cheers from DCA cheerleaders.

The cheerleaders were sponsored by Mary Schneider who attended camp, practices, and games with them all year long. She helped them perfect many half-time routines as well as the other cheers.

"Even though we had a few slight problems, I really enjoyed it, and I feel as if I made a lot more friends," said Head Cheerleader Marti Allen. By Amy Batchelder.

Stuco

Motivating the student body

The STUCO and S.O.S clubs have accomplished much this year. "I think this year's STUCO has done a good job representing us. They helped the students get some of the things they wanted in the new handbook for next year," stated Mary Weis, junior.

STUCO has sponsored such events as Homecoming which includes the dance and spirit week. "I have always enjoyed spirit week, but I wish more students would participate," said Senior Julie Lackey. Stormi Gray, senior, commented, "My favorite day of spirit week was hick day because the guys could wear their Stetsons." STUCO also hosted a bike-a-thon this year. Another highlight of STUCO this year has been the bright and cheerful wall hangings that were created by two STUCO members. STUCO was responsible for the events of the first day of school.

The S.O.S did a new project this year. Each member had a pen pal from the third grade. They would write to each other and trade pictures. The pen pals came to the high school one afternoon and had lunch with their high school pen pals. By Michelle Mendenhall.

Leadership for tomorrow

The National FFA Organization began its year with a Destination Unknown, but ended with a better understanding of what the future years may bring. Brent Jeschke, Craig Jeschke, and Danny Libel, all seniors, received the State FFA Degree. This degree is based 50 percent on SAEP (Supervised Agricultural Education Program), 35 percent on leadership, and 15 percent on academic. Each was judged on those qualities throughout the past three years and then chosen. Brent Jeschke also won the honorable DeKalb award.

This year, a haunted hayrack ride was held before Halloween for kids of all ages. The ride consisted of a tractor pulling a wagon through Eagle Springs, with FFA members attempting to scare the kids. The only mishap was Jarrod Cluck, sophomore, breaking his leg.

Jay Gormley, freshman, took first place in the information test and also in ritual at Leadership school.

Dairy and swine judging shows were attended by many members. Paul Twombly, Jarrod Cluck, Jeff Veach, and Brent Jeschke made up the first place swine judging team. Paul Twombly placed first, Merideth Harness placed third, and Jarrod Cluck placed eighth in the individual swine judging contest. JoEllen Whetstine, Mark Allen, Brian Simpson, Jay Gormley, Wes Keller, and Stephen Blevins made up the dairy judging team. Stephen Blevins placed twelfth out of 150 kids individually in dairy judging.

Barnwarming (see pages 66 and 67) and a trip to the National FFA Convention were big November events. Merideth Harness competed in the Northeast District Sweetheart contest and received first runner-up.

The FFA Banquet was held on April 27, and many awards were handed out to the members who worked extra hard this year in agricultural projects. The award winners: Holly Lucas in Scholarship; Wes Keller in Horse Proficiency; Stephen Blevins in Dairy Proficiency; Brent Jeschke in Ag Sales & Services, Home & Farmstead Improvement, Ag Electrification, Ag Mechanics, and Placement in Ag Production; Jeff Veach in Diversified Livestock and Beef Production; Danny Libel in Record Book; JoEllen Whetstine in Specialty Animal & Flowers. Craig Jeschke was the Star Chapter Farmer, and Stephen Blevins was the Star Greenhand. The Honorary Members who were formally added to the FFA were Bill and Eva Libel, Jerry and Cheryl Jeschke, and John and Linda Jeschke. By Traci McCauley.

Quiz Bowl and National Honor Society are two respected organizations that challenge students to improve academically. NHS initiated ten new members. The varsity Quiz Bowl team seemed only to win when it mattered the most, and the junior varsity team took first at almost every meet they attended.

At the High Q quiz bowl held at Washburn University, the team consisting of Thad Reist, Shayne Meyer, Merideth Harness, Matt Paulson, and Nathan Priest, earned third place in Class 1-A.

At the regional quiz bowl meet at B & B, the team pulled out an upset victory in the finals over state hopeful Centralia, which entitled Highland a place at the state quiz bowl meet held at Madison.

At the state meet, the results were certainly not up to expectations, due to tough questions, and stiff competition. The team of Thad Reist, Merideth Harness, Matt Paulson, Steven Lackey, and Nathan Priest won three out of seven matches, which didn't qualify them for the final round. Highland hadn't been to the state quiz bowl meet for five years. By Thad Reist.

Fine Arts

BLUESTREAK ROUTE

Students involved in the fine arts classes applied themselves to both entertain and to advance their skills in different areas. They began fine arts classes this year with expectancy, but not quite knowing their destination for the year.

Students in art classes took part in the Delaware Valley League Art Contest and in the HCC Art Day. Art classes also did projects making clay castles and drawing houses.

Band students performed numbers at the Christmas choir/band concert and at the spring band concert. The pep band played at different sporting events.

'Oklahoma' puts drama fund in the black

The ninth anniversary of "Oklahoma" was directed by Cheryl Rasmussen and presented by the choir on Nov. 12 and 13 at Culbertson Auditorium. The cast filled the auditorium with music and country spirit that kept the audience laughing and clapping the entire time.

Mark Mueller's portrayal of Curly stole the show as he courted the audience and gained many admirers with his auditorium-filling voice. Jana Booth as Laurey was the spitting image of an innocent country girl in love.

Nathan Priest was a definite crowd pleaser with his witty performance as Ali Hakim, a wayward traveling salesman. Sheri Gormley portrayed the slighty air-headed, very fickle, Ado Annie with zeal.

Will Parker, played by Shayne Meyer, paid Andrew Carnes (Ado Annie's father), played by Steven Lackey, $50 cash for Ado Annie's hand. Gertie Cummings, played by Holly Lucas, annoyed the audience with her shrill laugh of "Ha, ha, ha" while she attempted to interfere in the romance between Curly and Laurey.

JoEllen Whetstine was Aunt Eller, the advice giver to the entire state of Oklahoma, and Danny Libel was Jud Fry, a rough and unkept character, who amazed the audience with his never-before-heard voice.

Once again the choir's annual musical performance was a hit with the audience. Donna Parish, who managed sets and costumes, said, " 'Oklahoma' proved to be a very popular musical. The drama fund started out the year $209 in the red, but after the musical we were $250 in the black. Our total receipts were $1076." By Merideth Q Harness and Holly Lucas.

This year's musicians were by far above average in talent and ability. These qualities were showcased by the fact that Highland took eight performances consisting of forty-two people to state this year. This hasn't been done at Highland since 1987.

Cory Sutherland with his saxophone, Thad Reist with his baratone, and Shayne Meyer, Mark Mueller, and Maria Jeffers with their vocal solos all received I's at the state level. The Swing Choir, Swing Choir Girls' Ensemble, and the Choir Girls' Ensemble all received II's . Their destination was state contest, and they conquered it like musical masters.

BLUESTREAK ROUTE

When any team begins a season, it is Destination Unknown. The football team practiced hard every day and possessed a winning attitude. Even with this enthusiasm, their final season record didn't show the success these fine young men were capable of accomplishing. The volleyball team had a very impressive season. They ended their season with the best record in HHS history and the title of Class 1A State Champions.

The girls' basketball team had a very good season, but the boys' didn't fair so well. The girls' team received third place in the Class 1A State Basketball Tournament.

VOLLEYBALL

'Stop Us? I Don't Think So' was exactly the case at State

The Lady Streaks volleyball team began its season looking into the future. With ten returning Varsity players and an outstanding newcomer, the ladies were filled with confidence. The team maintained a 31-1 record prior to post-season matches, and captured the Delaware Valley League Title. The Streaks then massacred opponents in Regional and Sub-state play as they geared up for the State Tournament.

On Oct. 29, the team traveled to Fort Hays State University, the site of the 1992 1A State Volleyball Tournament. Taking the tournament by storm, the Streaks finished with a record of 40-1 and a State Championship trophy. This marked only the third time in Bluestreak history a state title had been earned in any sport.

Going to the state tournament gave the players memories they will never forget. The closeness they achieved was evident in their play and support of each other. Encouragement flowed constantly on the court as well as from the bench.

Amy Batchelder, Cindy Cluck, and Sheri Gormley received state tournament honors. These three plus Juliann Lackey received All-County awards. Jennifer Allison, the newcomer, received honorable mention in this category.

The Junior Varsity Team also had an outstanding season, although their victories were somewhat over run by the Varsity. They finished with a record of 12-5. By Jana Booth.

This year's football team ended the season with a record of 4-5. Although the record doesn't reflect great success, the awards received by the team members were impressive.

Selected to the Delaware Valley League Offensive First Team were Senior Mark Mueller, running back; Senior Brent Jeschke, center; and Senior Danny Libel, guard.

Libel said, "I owe it all to Coach Andrews, who believed in me enough to start me my sophomore year. This gave me more experience than the other guys, and combined with hard work, gave me an edge."

First team for the Delaware Valley League Defense were Mueller, linebacker; Jeschke, lineman; and Junior Paul Twombly, end.

Brett Kelley, senior, was selected to the Delaware Valley League Second Team for his defensive line accomplishments. Craig Windmeyer, junior, received an Honorable Mention as defensive back.

Mueller tallied up outstanding defensive as well as offensive statistics. On defense he led the team with 77 solo tackles and 54 assists. His senior leadership and his incredible statistics earned him a Class 2A All-State Honorable Mention as linebacker. Mueller also rushed 1220 offensive yards in 196 carries.

"I was disappointed that our record didn't show our full potential, and I feel that a lot of games were closer than the score showed. Small mistakes really hurt us," said Kelley. By Amy Batchelder.

The 1992-1993 girls basketball team left Highland one fateful afternoon with their Destination Unknown and returned later that weekend with the Kansas state third place medals around their necks. For the first time in Highland High School history a girls' basketball team advanced in the state tournament beyond the first match. The girls' team defeated Rexford-Golden Plains, but were beaten by Sylvan Grove, which put them in the consolation game against Coldwater. The Streaks defeated Coldwater by almost twenty points to claim third place.

The team will be losing four senior starters, Julie Lackey, Sheri Gormley, Cindy Cluck, and Marti Allen, all of whom finished the season with many good stats.

Lackey and Cluck were the high scorers for the season, with a total of 435 and 238 points, respectively. Gormley led the field of steals and assists with 96 steals and 140 assists. Allen shot fifty percent on 3-point shots and shot seventy-five percent for free throws.

Many of the starters received honors for their play. Cluck, Lackey, and Gormley were chosen All-County first team, and JoEllen Whetstine was All-County second team. Cluck and Lackey were All-League and Gormley was chosen Honorable Mention All-League. Lackey rounded off the season by being chosen third team All-State, and Cluck was chosen Honorable Mention All-State. Cluck also proved her academic, as well as athletic abilities by being chosen Academic All-State. By Leah Twombly.

If the object of basketball was to see who could put out the most effort, then the boys' basketball team would be state champs. The Streaks just couldn't put the ball in the hole. It's hard to go out every day and practice when there is not going to be anything to show for it. But, every day everybody would show up, and give it his all. If someone were to watch practice, he would never guess what the final season record was.

Throughout the first few games, it just seemed as if it were just a bad start. But, before anyone could say "win," that bad start had reached to the final game, where Elwood hit a last-second shot to send the ball game into an unsuccessful overtime. By Scott Jeschke.

Arctic temperatures to tornadoes challenged the dedication of the track team. Gary Keehn, track coach, earned every penny of his bus driving pay after driving through a severe thunderstorm on the way back from the Centralia Meet and after having the windshield fall out on the way to the State Meet.

The goal of Keehn was to get as many athletes as possible to State. Not only did the team send four athletes to State, but three placed. The girls' team tied for ninth place out of 46 teams at State.

Juliann Lackey, who had been to State all four years, placed third in two events: the 200m Dash and the 100m Dash. Needless to say, this was quite an accomplishment.

Katie Booth, who went to State for the second year in a row, placed fifth at State in the triple jump, which is excellent for a sophomore.

Jay Gormley, freshman, made it to State in the triple jump, along with Tonya Hunsaker, senior, who placed fifth in the javelin. By Scott Jeschke.

Special Events, with their "Destination Unknown," have been successful. The students that hosted the events took pride and did the best they could. The many events include Homecoming, Barnwarming, Queen and King of Courts, Christmas Royalty, Prom, Awards Night and Graduation. The events were hosted by STUCO, FFA, the freshman class, and the junior class. Without the help of faculty and parents many of these events would not even have been possible. HOMECOMING

Queen Jana Booth and King Mark Mueller crowned royalty

On Oct. 2, Mark Mueller and Jana Booth were crowned 1992 Homecoming king and queen during half time of the football game against the Oskaloosa Bears. The Streaks defeated the Bears 18 to 6.

The royalty candidates were Mark Mueller, Jana Booth, Shayne Meyer, Sheri Gormley, Danny Libel, and Cindy Cluck.

Spirit Week, a Homecoming tradition, had many participants among students and faculty. The events included pajama day, toga day, college T-shirt and hat day, class choice day and the traditional blue and white day. The seniors won on class choice day with the original idea of old band uniforms.

A parade was held on Friday afternoon. The seniors took the prize in the float competition with the theme "Bears are a Royal Flush." The candidates rode in a white limousine. The cheerleaders had a community pep rally and performed a routine.

The Homecoming dance was held on Oct. 3. It was DJ'd by hit radio station KY102. By Merideth Q Harness.

BARNWARMING

Merideth Harness crowned Chapter Sweetheart for 1992-93

The 1992-93 Barnwarming activities took place on Nov. 5 in the Vo-Ag building. The candidates were Merideth Harness, Mary Weis, Kim Streib, all juniors, Aurelia Nuzum, sophomore, and Rachael Dodds, freshman.

The evening of fun began early for the candidates. They began with an information test about the FFA organization, followed by an interview with the judges. The judges were Conrad Clary, Jason Taylor, and Randy Blevins.

The actual Barnwarming events started with the chapter officers reciting opening ceremonies followed by the meal. The meal consisted of barbecued or plain pork, baked beans, baked potato, hot rolls, and a variety of salads and desserts.

Following the delicious meal, everyone was seated and got ready to hear the candidates' speeches based on, "Why agriculture is important to me." The chores began immediately after the speeches. This year's chores included an egg toss, an obstacle course, throwing cow patties through a tire, and a bale toss.

While the judges discussed who was going to be the next FFA Sweetheart, Roger Hopkins auctioned off every FFA member plus the advisor in the annual slave sale. The slave sale brought in $1400 to the FFA.

On Dec. 17, the cheerleaders attempted to hold the greatest Christmas Royalty dance in HHS history, although their Destination was Unknown, everything was a success.

King Curtis Windmeyer said, "Christmas Royalty was fine except I was grounded that day and was unable to drive my big red truck to the dance." Queen Marti Allen stated, "The dance was fun because I didn't have a date, so I could do what I wanted."

Many students made positive comments about the dance. The cheerleaders chose Matt's Mobile Music as the disc jockey for the evening to fulfill the students' musical fantasies. By Brian Edie.

King & Queen of Courts

Paving the 'Royal' path

On Feb. 12, Jennifer Allison and Aaron Gibson were crowned the 1992-93 Queen and King of Courts. Other candidates were Amy Batchelder and Danny Libel, Cindy Cluck and Craig Jeschke, and Sheri Gormley and Shayne Meyer.

Allison wore a plain red dress with a looped collar, Batchelder also wore a red dress with a ruffled collar. Cluck wore was a plaid dress with buttons from the collar down, and Gormley wore a long, red, split-skirted dress.

This year's crowning was unusual from all of the other years. Allison found that crowning herself was the quickest way to get things done, and Gibson didn't think it was necessary to do the traditional kiss.

Prom

Stairway to Heaven

Earlier this year, when it came time for the Juniors to plan one of the biggest events that occur in high school, their Destination was truly Unknown. Fortunately, the prom was a major success. "I thought the decorations were wonderful, the best I've ever seen. Prom was an experience I'll never forget," said Marti Allen, senior.

The Prom was held on April 27 at the high school. The juniors chose Night Magic as the DJ for the evening. A number of freshmen and sophomores volunteered to serve food. Jay Gormley, who was a server for the night, commented, "It was hard work; people should get paid for this kind of thing."

Some of the students who attended the Prom weren't exaclty satisfied with the evening. Scott Jeschke, junior, stated, "I didn't much like it. I guess there is always next year." Thad Reist, junior, said, "I don't know, I guess it is just one of those things you got to get over with." On the other hand, many people enjoyed the event. Donna Parish, teacher, commented, "I thought it was the best Prom I've ever attended. The decorations were wonderful, and I was really impressed with filet mignon for dinner." By Brian Edie.

Awards Night

Accomplishments awarded

The awards night of 1993 was tearful for the seniors, amusing for most, and, keeping with the tradition of the seniors, record-setting because of the co-valedictorian awards. A film showing the highlights of the seniors' years together was shown at the end of the evening, bringing tears to most of the seniors' eyes. Mark Mueller, senior class president, brought laughter to the evening with constant references to Brett Kelley, during the story of the history of the senior class, seen through Mueller's eyes. Amy Batchelder and Cindy Cluck made history by being the first students in HHS history to tie for the valedictorian spot, thereby creating co-valedictorians for this year. Jana Booth was Salutatorian.

The evening officially began with teachers from various departments handing out awards for classes and extra-curricular activities.

Joyce Rush then awarded Juliann Lackey the KNZA Senior Essay Award. Lackey had written an essay that had been read on KNZA radio, and Lackey's essay was later determined by judges to be award worthy. Ted Hutchcraft then awarded Batchelder, Booth, and Cluck with the Outstanding Math Student award, and Danny Libel received a Physics award. Mueller and Shayne Meyer received awards for Best Vocalist. Mueller and JoEllen Whetstine were then awarded Best Actor and Actress for their roles in the fall musical Oklahoma!. Curtis Windmeyer also received an award for leadership in the musical.

All-School Awards were the next group of awards to be presented. Lackey and Meyer were chosen the Armed Services Scholar Athletes. Mary Lou Colley then presented Sheri Gormley and Cory Sutherland with the Citizenship awards. Cluck was given the Marine Corp Scholastic award, and Lackey received the Excellence and Distinguished Athlete award. The I Dare You awards were given to Leah Twombly and Steven Lackey. The All-Around Student honor was awarded to Batchelder.

Many of the seniors have received scholarships to different colleges in the area, and Gerre Walsh, counselor, told the audience of the scholarships that have been received by the seniors, and their plans for next year. Although many of the seniors knew what their plans were for the future, for many of the seniors, this was just another case of having Destination Unknown.

Laura Schmitz then handed out the Presidential Academic Fitness awards to Batchelder, Cluck, Booth, Juliann Lackey, Gormley, Libel, and Marti Allen. Allen also received the Presidential Extra-Ordinary Effort Award from Schmitz. Renaissance awards and Academic letters were then handed out by Walsh. Brent Jeschke was then awarded his Vocational Honor Student pin, and the senior honor cords were handed out. Allen, Batchelder, Gormley, Booth, Cluck, Lackey, and Libel all received honor cords. 1 Folks everywhere watched TV's "Northern Exposure." The characters from the wacky Alaskan town of Cicely have also made plaid shirts, baggy jeans and boots fashionable.

2 Reforms and rising prices buffeted Russia's economy as the country struggled with new-found capitalism. President Boris Yeltsin was hotly criticized by distressed citizens.

3 Johnny Carson retired after thirty years as host of the "Tonight" show. His legendary status in late-night entertainment left an opening sought after by Jay Leno, David Letterman and Arsenio Hall.

4 Actor/director Woody Allen faced charges of child abuse in a bitter custody battle with partner Mia Farrow. Allen's relationship with Mia's adopted 21-year-old daughter only added fuel to the fire.

5 Canada's Michael Wilson, USA's Carla Hills and Mexico's Jamie Puche shook hands after the signing of The North American Free Trade Agreement, ending trade barriers and forming a single market.

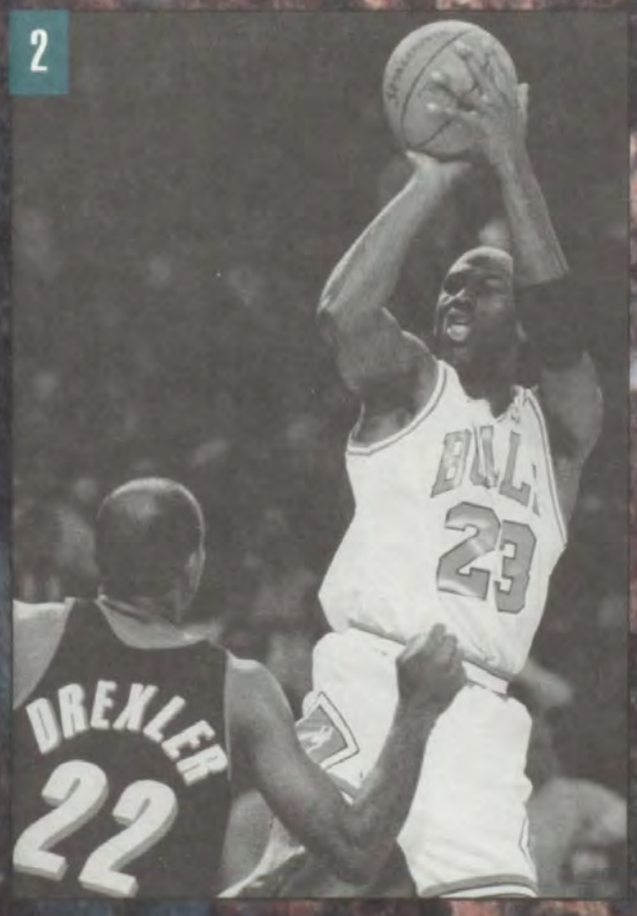

6 Serb artillery shelled the parliament building of Sarajevo, Yugoslavia, as the Serbs battled Bosnian Muslims and Croatians. Thousands were dead and millions left homeless in this bloody civil war.

7 Home Alone 2: Lost In New York starring Macaulay Culkin delighted families of movie goers everywhere. The secret of the sequel's success lies in its plot—it's the same as the original Home Alone.

1 The cola wars took on a new twist as marketers made everything perfectly clear. Coca-Cola and Pepsi jumped on the trend bandwagon for clear liquid products, hoping thirsty buyers would think light is better.

2 Chicago Bulls' Michael Jordan shot the ball past the defense as the Bulls defeated the Portland Trail Blazers in the finals and won the NBA Championship. This was the second year in a row the Bulls made it all the way to the top.

3 Replicas of Christopher Columbus's ships, La Pinta, La Santa Maria and La Niña set sail from Spain in a historical reenactment commemorating the 500th anniversary of Columbus's voyage to America.

4 Spike Lee directed the bio-pic Malcolm X with Oscar-winner Denzel Washington as the slain civil rights leader. The movie spawned $100 million in clothing and merchandising sales, making X a fashion as well as a political statement.

5 Plain-speaking Dallas billionaire H. Ross Perot, whose presidential candidacy attracted large numbers of voters, formed the grassroots group "United We Stand, America," to watchdog Clinton and the U.S. deficit.

6 Camp Snoopy, the indoor amusement park of the Mall of America, welcomed shoppers to the second largest mall in the world. Visitors to Minnesota can leave their kids at the 7-acre, all-weather park while they shop the 4.2 million square feet of shops.
