“blue is”... an idea

Above: The town came together throughout the year, facing several challenges. Long-time science teacher, Kevin McNorton, was diagnosed with cancer. The school helped him battle this part of his life throughout the year. Everyone in the grade school and high school came together and wore purple, McNorton's favorite color. The story was also on KQ2 news. "No one fights alone" became the school's inspiration in helping Mr. McNorton through his journey.

Our theme was influenced by our school color: blue. The border on each division page represents what the subject means to us and what we feel the definition is.

The school had many highlights throughout the year. The Troy band went to Florida to play in the Thanksgiving Day Parade of Bands. Several students went to state to compete in journalism, band, choir, and speech. Publications students worked on a history book of Troy. The football players made it to regionals, for the first year in the new Twin Valley League (TVL) League.

The Troy football team added a new assistant coach, Mr. Todd Shifflett, with Mr. Don Cash and Head Coach Jasper. Matt Allison was the returning volleyball coach with Julie Werner assisting. Doug Fisher was the cross country coach, and Roger Purdy was the returning baseball coach. Coach Jasper was also the returning girls' basketball coach with Mr. Fisher assisting. Mr. Purdy and Dallas

Keller were the returning boys' basketball coaches.

The football team was Regional Champs with all-state players Jay Whetstine, 1st team linebacker; Tristan Speer, honorable mention quarterback; and Ryan Franken, honorable mention defensive tackle.

Football

The football team gained two new coaches. Derek Jasper became head coach and Todd Shifflett, who was new to the school district, was assistant coach.

The season was very up-and-down for the Trojans as they would win a few and then lose a few. Even then, the Trojans had more accomplishments than the year before.

They made it to the first round of playoffs for the first time in three years. For the first round they played the McLouth Bulldogs and won, which made them Regional Champions. Then they advanced to sectionals and took on the Lyndon Tigers. Since it was a home game, there were people from all over that attended the game. The Trojans took a hard loss that ended their season, but they surprised so many people and brought Trojan Football "back to glory," which was the goal they set from the very beginning of the year. They ended with a record of 7-4.

Many players received league honors at the end of the season. Collin Jasper (junior), Tristan Speer (junior), and Colton Masters (senior) received TVL all-league honorable mentions. Three juniors received First-Team Offense honors: Derek Franken, running back; Jake Ross, wide-receiver; and Jay Whetstine, offensive lineman. Three more juniors also received First-Team Defense: Nathan Gaarder, defensive lineman and punter; Jay Whetstine, linebacker; and Alex Schmille, defensive back.

"Once the coaching staff got some things figured out, we won five of six games to end the season. We advanced to the final eight, as far as any Trojan team in history has competed. I am most proud of the dedication and commitment made by the entire team . . . We enjoyed some great moments, and we were at our best when our best was needed," said Head Coach Jasper.

"My favorite thing about football was being regional champs, and it was a good season with a lot of good memories," said senior Ryan Franken.

Volleyball/ Cross Country

The volleyball team was coached by Matt Allison. This was his third year of coaching volleyball. Julie Werner was the assistant coach for her third year also. Trevor Bembrick was the manager for the second year in a row.

The Lady Trojans were off to a rough start in the beginning of the season. Being in a new league they didn't really know what to expect and it took a toll on the team's ability. The team came close to winning quite a few games but they fell short almost every time. October 12, the Lady Trojans had a 3-3 record at the Riverside Tournament. The team took home the third-place plaque.

The team played two games at sub-state in Valley Falls. First, the team played the Jackson Heights Cobras and took them into three matches, beating them in the third match. Next, the Lady Trojans played against the Jefferson County North Chargers and lost to them in two matches.

The team ended their season with a 7-30 record. They had their good times and their bad times and didn't always play as a team.

"I think we did okay overall. We are definitely capable of more and we showed that at some of our games. Mr. Allison was a good coach," said sophomore Josie Smith.

The cross country team was coached by Douglas Fisher, for the second year. Courtney Klaus was the manager for her second year.

The team competed at eight meets: Marysville, Washington, McLouth, Troy, Centralia, Centralia (TVL meet), Jackson Heights, and Regionals at Troy. The team had enough runners for a girls team and a boys team. All together the team had 11 runners.

For the Regionals meet at Troy, the team had 11 runners. Their finishing times for this meet were as follows: Emma Collins, 22:43; Jennifer Keller, 24:16; Kylee Anthony, 20:31; Cadence King, 23:00; Trae Shelton, 34:24; and William Boeh, 26:40.

"I would say the season went pretty well, but it could have been better. I think I definitely could have done better," said senior Russell Ostertag.

Cheer/Dance

The cheer and dance team were sponsored by Mrs. Janel Anderson. Both squads attended the Spirit Spreader at the Highland Community College. The cheerleaders learned new cheers, ditties, and stunts to involve the crowd during games.

The cheer squad performed at boys' football games and boys' and girls' varsity basketball games. They planned and cheered at the pep rallies as well.

The dance squad hosted a "Little Trojan Dazzler" dance clinic February 3. Fifty-five girls in grades K-6 participated.

The dance team also performed in Manhattan, KS, during half time of a state basketball game March 13. The dancers performed a dance to "Find A Way" by Santigold. They dedicated this dance to Mr. Kevin McNorton.

"My sophomore year was my second year in dance and I loved it. The year has been great. The girls have made it a memorable one. I'm so happy that the girls and I get the opportunity to dance at Kansas State all because of Janel! Thanks to her for everything that you do for us girls. And we are all going to miss Harley; good luck at dance and cheer in Highland next year!" said sophomore Makayla Ross.

"Cheer this year was so much fun! We did so many new things from late night to the final football game as we rode in on motorcycles. I had a great group of girls and a wonderful cheerleading sponsor that made this year so much fun. I will miss them all so much next year, but I will return to watch them at every home game."

"I have been in dance for all four years, but this year was one of my favorites. I enjoyed being with this group of girls, along with our dance coach, Janel Anderson. Janel pushed us to be the best we could be. I will miss these girls a lot next year, but will be back to watch them perform at every home game! I love you all and thanks for the wonderful year!"

Girls' Basketball

The Lady Trojans were coached by Derek Jasper, head coach, and Douglas Fisher, assistant coach. The team followed the saying "Can't Stop, Won't Stop." Managers were Mikaela Campbell and Andrea Stock.

The team ended with a 8-14 season record and a 4-9 TVL record.

The varsity team top scorers were Breanna Smith (157 points), Alanie Stock (128 points), Josie Smith (127 points), and Alex Winder (102 points). The team averaged around 37 points a game.

The JV team finished with an 8-8 record and a 7-6 TVL record.

The JV top scorers were Blair Weishaar (90 points), Kassi Meng (76 points), Madi Marriott (71 points) and Josie Smith (31 points). The JV girls played only two quarters for 8 out of 16 games.

The freshman team had a record of 1-0. They played only one game against Riverside, beating them 35-30.

Alanie Stock was selected to the TVL 2nd-team all-league basketball team.

"I think we did good, but we could've done better. My favorite part was hanging with the upper classmen. I'm definitely looking forward to next year. I love watching and playing basketball!" said freshman Lexi Norris.

"We weren't as successful as we had hoped to be this season. Injuries and sickness were a bit of a problem. We were still able to win a post-season game... We had a really fun bunch of girls that I enjoyed coaching," said Head Coach Derek Jasper.

"Even though we didn't have the best record, playing with this group of girls was so fun. Being a part of the basketball team for four years was an honor and I'm going to miss it like crazy," said senior Baileigh Jenkins.

Trojan Basketball

The team finished with a 13-10 record and a 7-6 TVL record. It was the first season the Trojans had a winning record since 2007-2008. This was the first year in the TVL (Twin Valley League). The basketball team followed the saying "We On as One."

The varsity top scorers were Collin Jasper (251 points), William Boeh (217 points), Nathan Gaarder (182 points), and Jake Ross (172 points).

The JV boys finished with a record of 13-3 and a TVL record of 10-3. The top scorers were Luke Smith (156 points), Wil Smith (127 points), Cuttar Huss (112 points) and Reid Greaser (100 points).

Collin Jasper was selected to the TVL 2nd-team all-league basketball team. Jasper also received Honorable Mention All-State 2A basketball team.

"I think it went really good!! My favorite part was being around all the players and playing with them. I'm looking forward to going even further next year and make it even better," said freshman Reid Greaser.

The Trojans were coached by Dallas Keller, head coach, and Roger Purdy, assistant coach. The managers were Cody Israel, Kipp Jasper, Reid Jasper, and Camden Anderson. Mikaela Campbell and Andrea Stock were also managers who would video record the games so the team could review them later.

"We made some great strides this year, winning the NEK shootout, receiving votes in state rankings, and finishing in the top 5 in the TVL, the hardest small school league in the state. The season was a big success," said Head Coach Dallas Keller.

"It was a good year. We won the first round of sub-state and made it to the sub-state semi's," said senior Daulton Jasper.

Track/ Wrestling

The Troy High School track team began the season March 3. More than half of the previous year's numbers returned, 13 in all.

The track team was coached by Douglas Fisher, assistant, for the second year with Head Coach Jared Wigger. The track team had an up-and-down season. Many participants beat their best times and everyone competed well.

"These kids continue to work hard and have improved throughout the season. I am proud of their efforts," said Coach Wigger.

The only track competitor to go to State was sophomore, Holly Whetstone. She finished in third-place in long jump at regionals, which advanced her to State at Wichita, where she ended in 14th place.

"Track is a good way to get in shape. It is a lot more competitive than middle school, so that drives me to work harder," said freshman Emma Collins.

THS had a state-bound wrestler. Junior Tristan Speer had a record of 37-0. Speer went to Hays for state wrestling. There Speer defeated Randy Lahey in 43 seconds to advance to the championship round. In the championship round, Speer took on Seth Bowsell and won the 195-pound weight class 3-2-1A Kansas State Wrestling Championship. Speer is Troy's first State Wrestling Champion.

"The season went as expected; most of my goals were accomplished. It couldn't have gotten much better," said Speer.

As a whole, the wrestling team did well. At the wrap-up of the season Dalton Masters had a record of 8-10, and Alex Martinez, 7-11. They competed with the Doniphan West team.

"I feel like wrestling was a new experience. It's taught me new lessons about never giving up," said senior Dalton Masters.

Baseball/Softball

The softball team was coached by Matt Allison for the fourth year, assisted by Abra Rush for the third year.

The Lady Trojans had a very spotty season. Having a season where you don't know how you will show up to play is very difficult. At the beginning of the season, the Lady Trojans had a rough time getting into the groove. When the end of the season rolled around, the Lady Trojans started to get the hang of things and began to perform to their best abilities.

When Regionals came around, the Lady Trojans got down to business. With their record of 8-11 the Lady Trojans were seeded number four in their regionals. For the first game of regionals, the Lady Trojans took on the Doniphan West Mustangs. The game seemed easy for the Lady Trojans as they won the game in three innings. By winning that, the Lady Trojans advanced to the second round of regionals and took on the McLouth Bulldogs. The game was do or die for the Trojans and it went to the bottom of the seventh inning. The game was 2-2 until the Bulldogs got a lucky hit, ending the Lady Trojans' season.

The baseball team was coached by Roger Purdy for his second year, assisted by new coach Todd Shifflett.

The Trojans had a very bright season. From the very beginning of the season, the Trojans played their best baseball. With a really good support system from the community, the Trojans were unstoppable.

For the first time in school history, The Trojan Baseball

Team made it to state! After beating undefeated Valley Falls at Regionals, the Trojans traveled to Great Bend to compete for the title. For their first game at state, the Trojans took on Ellis and won that game easily 5-0. Next the Trojans took on Little River, and fell short, 2-7. After being defeated, the Trojans were to play in the third-place game against Udall. The game seemed to go by fast and the Trojans had the game in the bag until the sixth inning when Udall came back and got up by one run, ending the game 8-9. The Trojans placed 4th in the state tournament.

Clubs

Several of the clubs participated in community activities.

Kayettes helped families in need throughout the year and decorated the gazebo at Christmas.

NHS hosted a blood drive around Thanksgiving break.

Student council planned and was in charge of setting up the old gym for the school dances.

FFA participated in a number of contests, held their community banquet, and hosted a 4-H day for the grade school students.

Drama Club sponsored the dinner theatre and a speech meet and participated in "Trick or Treat So Tots Can Eat" at Halloween.

FBLA held a pop-tab fundraiser for the Ronald McDonald House and also participated in some contests.

SADD sponsored a fair towards the end of the year. The fair was to help students through 12 sex issues that arise with bad decisions. SADD gained a new sponsor, Tanya Silvey.

SADD/FBLA

SADD, Students Against Destructive Decisions, was sponsored by Mrs. Tanya Silvey. SADD members hosted a health fair towards the end of the year. The fair had different stations that taught kids what negative effects can come out of drugs, alcohol, and bad hygiene. This was Silvey's first year as the school nurse as well as the SADD sponsor.

SADD members worked various fundraisers throughout the school year. They worked a couple of concession stands to raise money for the upcoming fair. They also sold chocolate bars and raffled off themed baskets at a football game that helped the group get more booths for the fair. SADD members also took a trip to the grade school to speak with certain grades about bullying and hygiene.

"I loved being a part of SADD. My favorite part was the fair. I love teaching little kids about choices they should and shouldn't make."

-Claire Marriott

FBLA, Future Business Leaders of America, were sponsored by Mrs. Jene't Brown. The group attended the District 2 Conference, at Valley Falls High School. Many members placed in their events and, as a group took home 27 awards. There were four 1st-place awards received by three different members.

The State Leadership Conference was in Topeka. Only five members attended. A rough day was awaiting them as no one placed in any events.

FBLA members sold Redwheel for their annual fundraiser. This fundraiser helped them raise money for their annual field trip. Traditionally the group went to a Kansas City Chiefs' game, but since the Chiefs won so many games, the price of tickets escalated and the group decided not to go, saving their funds for another year.

"Everyone in FBLA did very well this year. We had a great team and it will only get better."

FFA

The FFA Chapter flourished under new direction. Miss Jessica Taliaferro, first-year teacher from Kansas State University, spear-headed several new ideas and continued old traditions.

The officers were President Dalton Masters, Vice President Halli Wigger, Secretaries, Tabby Porter and Taylor Scherer, Reporter Cadence King, Sentinel Cody Israel, and Treasurer Luke Smith.

Five girls attended National Convention in Louisville, Kentucky. While there, the girls attended several sessions about leadership, listened to Rick Pitino speak about making good decisions, and toured the Louisville Water Company.

The FFA sponsored two breakfasts and also the Kansas Ag in the Classroom Postcard Contest. Officers prepared the prizes which consisted of cups and candy.

As well as this, the FFA sponsored the annual blood drive and collected 30 units of blood. Members took turns working shifts and calling possible donors.

FFA members also created and constructed a picnic table for the city park.

FFA members also were extremely competitive in their Career Development Events. The Meats Judging Team received seventh place, the Floriculture Team received sixth place, the Food Science team received sixth, and the Poultry Judging Team received ninth place at their district contests.

Members also competed in speaking contests (Halli Wigger in extemporaneous and prepared, and Lauren Hill in creed), Dairy Products, Dairy Judging, and Livestock Judging.

FFA Adviser Ms. Taliaferro said, "I think that the FFA members had a lot of great achievements this year. I'm honored to have had to opportunity to work with such a great group of kids."

President Dalton Masters said, "I feel we were very successful this year and I think the FFA has a very bright future with all the young members. I hope we can keep the competition up."

T-Club/Stuco

T-Club had a very productive year. The club put on the alumni basketball tournament. Six teams participated in the tournament, and the team led by Austin Stock won.

The T-Club awarded the Fan of the Year Award to Mr. Donald Harter. This award recognizes a certain fan that goes above and beyond to show his pride for his school. Mr. Harter attended numerous games throughout the seasons and a member of the booster club for many years.

The officers of T-Club were Katrina Tharman, secretary; Cody Israel and Holly Stegall, co-vice presidents; and Trevor Bembrick, president. Mrs. Martha-Jean Rockey was the advisor.

The president of student council was William Boeh, with Alex Stanton as vice president. Their sponsor was Mr. Todd Shifflett. The freshman representatives were Wil Smith and Kassi Meng. The sophomore representatives were Mackenzie Harbeston and Bailey Winkel.

The junior representatives were Valerie Mott, Destiny O'Donnell, and Alex Schmille.

Stuco sold suckers during Valentine's Day to help raise money for the decorations for the dances like Queen of Courts and Homecoming. The club also helped put on the powder puff and buff puff activities during Homecoming Spirit Week.

Publications/ Quill & Scroll

Publications was taught by Mrs. Martha-Jean Rockey. The staff consisted of seniors Jessica Guffy, Halli Wigger, Baileigh Jenkins, and Courtney Klaus; junior Trae Shelton; and sophomores Dylan Kitzman, Kylee Anthony, Nathan King, and Melinda Negonsott.

The class started the year by having the new students work on book assignments showing the correct way to design templates and learn the difference between good photos and bad ones. Each student made a portfolio of photos demonstrating different approaches.

The ones who took the class before worked on the templates for the yearbook that the publications class publishes every year. The class split into groups or worked alone and designed a small yearbook theme and then voted on what the theme for yearbook should be. Kylee Anthony's design of "Blue is" with a border design was selected as the theme of the Trojan 2014.

Publications also published the school's newspaper of seven issues, culminating in a special issue for graduation.

The staff had a few fundraisers such as running the concession stand and selling sports necklaces to raise money for the yearbook.

One thing different was that students were enrolled in publications in four different time frames, with Trumpet editor Halli Wigger not in class with most of the staff, and Trojan editors Baileigh Jenkins and Jessica Guffy also taking the class independent study, as did business manager and history book editor Courtney Klaus.

The staff also produced a history of Troy high school which had been started several years earlier. Each student expanded on history that had been written previously and Klaus was in charge of the book.

All students in publications placed in regionals at Kansas State University, qualifying them for State in May. At State, Troy took fifth place in class 2A at KU. Those who placed at KU were Braden Grossman, first in Cartooning; Holly Stegall, first in Yearbook Sports Writing; Halli Wigger, third in Editorial Writing; Jessica Guffy and Baileigh Jenkins, third in Yearbook Theme Development; and Trae Shelton for Academic Photography. Kylee Anthony in Editorial Writing and Photo Illustration, and Courtney Klaus for Yearbook Layout Design, all honorable mentions.

Kayettes/NHS/ Knowledge Bowl

Kayettes began as a service organization, and they helped decorate the gazebo on the town square at Christmas.

"We collected change for United Nations International Children's Fund (UNICEF) and sponsored a Thanksgiving dinner for a local family," said sponsor Juli Smith.

At Christmas they also had a Secret Santa gift exchange at school among the members.

National Honor Society members are characterized by four different criteria: leadership, scholarship, character, and service. To be invited into NHS, grades had to be at the minimum GPA of 3.4, which had to be maintained throughout high school.

A paper application and resume and an interview with a panel of faculty members determined the students who would be accepted into NHS.

NHS also sponsored community service projects and held its annual blood drive. The sponsor of NHS was Jena Tharman.

Mr. Doug Fisher was the adviser of the THS Knowledge Bowl Team. For the first time in many years, the team hosted a meet, the league meet for the new league, the Twin Valley League. It was held in the middle school, and a number of teachers served as judges and moderators.

The team competed at five meets, with some members alternating which meets they would attend.

"As a NHS member, I believe we accomplished a lot this year. We cleaned up the park a couple of times and held the annual blood drive. I am looking forward to being the president of NHS next year. I hope to continue what we did this year and maybe establish a new tradition."

Drama Club

Drama club was one of the clubs offered at THS for the students to express themselves as individuals and to improve their acting skills. Drama club had one musical in the spring and one play during the fall.

The fall play was The Legend of Robin Hood ... Sort of which had Robin Hood (Trae Shelton) and his gang trying to take King John's (Dylan Kitzman) crown and keep it safe at least until the true king comes back.

For the first time in Troy High School history, the drama club participated in "Trick or Treat So Tots Can Eat," which was a national program for drama clubs across the nation to go out to their community at Halloween in costumes and collect food for hungry children. Participating members collected over 200 pounds of food for the food pantry in Highland, which helps serve Troy.

"Drama club has taught me a lot this year. For example, I learned how to do the lights for the plays. Being in drama club has helped me step out of my comfort zone."

-freshman Trey Jenkins

Then in early spring the drama club produced the musical, The Nifty Fifties, which was set in the fifties with the groovy cars, retro hair and odd clothing. One song even promoted the Edsel. A boy named Bob (Austin O'Connor) banged up Sinbad's (Dylan Kitzman) Harley so through the musical Bob hides, trying not to get caught by Sinbad, while Gracie (Lauren Wigger) tries to put together the coolest sock hop around. During intermission of Friday night's performance, the musical cast offered rootbeer floats as they did back in the fifties. The second night was the dinner theater.

In April the club members were responsible for hosting and working the annual invitational speech meet. Fourteen schools participated.

"My favorite part about being in drama club was when everyone was slacking off the first few weeks of play practice and then somehow pulled it together for the actual performance."

Academics are important. Academics are intellectual. Academics are Academics make you challenge yourself in many ways. Academics help students succeed.

Academics

College classes that were each worth three college-credit hours through Highland Community College were available to students. The college classes were psychology, public speaking, and college algebra.

A 30-minute seminar placed after lunch was added to the curriculum. Each day of the week was something different for seminar: Mondays were silent reading, Tuesdays were based on the seminar theme, Wednesdays were study hall and meetings, Thursdays were based on the seminar theme, and Fridays were Mr. Wigger's activities.

A few new classes were added to the schedule. Informal geometry, taught by Mr. Douglas Fisher; advanced biology, taught by Mr. Kevin McNorton; and strength and conditioning, taught by Mr. Todd Shifflett.

Electives continued to include art, music, weights, Spanish, industrial arts, agriculture, and publications.

34 Academics are learned in many different ways. Academics are surprisingly fun. Academics come in all varieties. Academics are challenging. Academics are stimulating. Academics help you get scholarship opportunities.

the key to your future. Academics decide your future career.

Science/Math

The math courses offered at Troy High varied from applied geometry to college algebra, and the science courses ranged from biology to chemistry. The faculty who taught math were Mrs. Michelle Newkirk and Mr. Douglas Fisher. Mrs. Newkirk taught more of the higher level math classes such as college algebra, whereas Mr. Fisher taught more lower level math such as pre-algebra and applied geometry.

Mr. Kevin McNorton wasn't the only one to teach science this year. Mr. Chuck Lauritzen took over as a temporary substitute due to Mr. McNorton's absence. The class in which the most experiments took place was chemistry. Many different elements were used in these experiments. One of the most memorable experiments was when Trae Shelton and Valerie Mott created hydrogen by mixing hydrochloric acid with a transition metal. They then filled a balloon with this gas and then burned the balloon creating a small explosion. Another experiment, this one done by Jay Whetstine, was the burning of steel wool within a container filled with raw oxygen that made it burn much faster and produced larger flames. The science class had fun during their lab activities.

Meanwhile in math, Mr. Fisher and Mrs. Newkirk taught a little differently. The math teachers "flipped" their classrooms. A flipped classroom is a pedagogical model in which the typical lecture and homework elements of a course are reversed. The concept is to devote class time to application of concepts so that instructors had a better opportunity to detect errors in thinking. Some students didn't like the new teaching method. "I personally don't like it. I find it more difficult to learn," said sophomore Bailey Winkel. Many students' grades improved because of this new system.

This was the last year at Troy for both math teachers.

"I enjoyed teaching and coaching here. I wish I could be with you all next year," said Mr. Fisher.

"I've loved teaching here but I love the retired life. Especially sleeping in," said Mr. Lauritzen.

Spanish/English

English and Spanish were taught by Mrs. Martha-Jean Rockey and Ms. Rosa Dolven. Mrs. Rockey taught English II, III, and IV, and public speaking for Highland Community College. Mrs. Dolven taught English I, III, and IV, and Spanish I and II.

English I started by reading novels and later moved into studying mysteries. They read mystery novels and short stories by Poe as well as stories about Sherlock Holmes. They then learned how to prepare themselves for research writing. By the end of the year, English I students read Romeo and Juliet by William Shakespeare.

English II studied mythology from the Greeks and Romans to the Norse myths. They then learned how to write and deliver an informative speech and get the audience's attention. By the end of the year they studied poetry and wrote a researched persuasive essay.

English III and English IV were taught together except for the second quarter. Students could choose which classes they wanted. Mrs. Rockey's English III and IV learned about British literature and early and modern American literature. The third quarter the juniors and seniors were separated. The juniors wrote a major research paper while the seniors wrote resumes, essays for scholarships, and investigated a possible career, which ended with a job-shadowing experience.

Public speaking began with the students doing a power point presentation on themselves. They then gave the following types of presentations: a demonstration, an informative speech, and a persuasive speech.

Spanish I started by learning to greet people. Then the Spanish I students learned more difficult things, such as telling about the sports and extra-curricular activities they participated in. They finished off the year by talking about food.

Spanish II was very small with only two students. Spanish II students knew enough Spanish to maintain and hold a conversation.

"English I was fun and very easy," said Angel Davis.

"English II had a lot more speeches and fewer videos. I thought it was fun because of all the research," said Kylee Anthony.

Computers/Business

Mrs. Jene't Brown taught computer applications, desktop publishing, sports and entertainment marketing, and Multimedia I and II.

In computer applications, which was required for freshman, students learned how to use Microsoft office, Adobe Photoshop and I-Movie, a video editing application for creating movies or editing videos.

Students in desktop publishing and Multimedia I and II learned the basics of desktop publishing and creating publications using Adobe Indesign for the first semester and then went on to learn about Multimedia I for second semester.

In Multimedia I and II students made movies, created animations and worked with pictures and audio.

In sports and entertainment marketing students learned about sports and entertainment industries, and also how the entertainment industries are marketed.

In entrepreneurship, students learned how to write a business plan, and they also learned how to run a real business. Also in entrepreneurship, the class bought different kinds of healthy snacks and stocked the vending machine. There were snacks like Oreos, baked chips, granola bars, pop tarts, and Chex mix. The snack machine was a big hit, and the students made about $500 from it, with its only being operational second semester.

"My favorite thing about teaching is that I enjoy working with kids and I like showing students what they can do with technology," said computers and business teacher Jene't Brown.

"My favorite part about desktop publishing is the fact that I can sync my iPod. I also really like working with Garageband," said sophomore Jory Barnthson.

P.E./Weights/History

P.E classes were taught by Derek Jasper and Todd Shifflett. Jasper taught middle school P.E. classes along with two freshmen P.E. classes. Shifflett taught two strength and conditioning classes along with middle school social studies.

For the strength and conditioning classes, Shifflett had different workouts for every day of the week; every day was to work on a different muscle in the body. He would also make his classes do conditioning two days a week. In Jasper's P.E. classes, he would also make his students lift weights; they just weren't as hardcore as the strength and conditioning weights classes. Jasper would give his classes days off where they could pick a game such as mat ball.

The history classes were all taught by Mr. Jeremy Prudden. The classes were government (required for seniors), American history (required for juniors), world history, and geography.

In the government classes, Mr. Prudden taught the students about how the government works and about the secrets of the government.

In American history, the students learned about the different wars and disputes that America has been involved in.

In world history, the students learned about many different things that happened throughout the ancient world.

In geography, the students learned how to efficiently use maps and about different countries, their geography, resources, and exports.

"History is a lot of fun this year and the best part is watching videos," said senior William Boeh.

"P.E and weights are fun, mainly because we get to play games," said freshman Kourtney Davis.

Ag/I. Arts

Students enrolled in industrial arts and ag classes to enjoy the hands-on activities and creative designs to make ordinary objects into usable furniture. Ms. Jessica Taliaferro and Mr. Gene Velharticky were the teachers for these classes.

Mr. Velharticky taught four high school IA classes and one middle school class. The classes were Industrial Arts I, Industrial Arts II, Advanced Industrial Arts I, and Advanced Industrial Arts II as well as middle school industrial arts.

Industrial Arts I had to make a Arcadian stool so that they could get the feel of how to use the tools and programs. Industrial Arts II, III, and IV worked on more difficult projects that they choose and made. Students used Autocad to make designs or blueprints, which they then used to build their projects. One project of the more advanced classes was to make large footballs for Homecoming.

Ms. Taliaferro taught five high school ag classes and one middle school ag class and was the sponsor of FFA. The classes taught were ag welding, ag mechanics, ag business, horticulture, agriscience, and middle school ag.

Ag welding taught students about welding projects and what they could make with different types of welds and metals.

Ag business taught students about business expenses and the proper way to run a business.

Horticulture taught students how to plant seeds, and about the uses of the plants. The horticulture students raised tomato plants for sale in the spring.

All of the ag students participated through FFA in a variety of content-related contests.

"I enjoyed horticulture a lot," said sophomore Jeanne Bergeonneau.

"I thought the year went well. I learned many things I didn't know much about before. It was fun at times; others it was stressful. I enjoyed doing hands on things with my classmates," said sophomore Cheyenne Blanton.

Fine arts bring out your inner creativity. Fine arts help with expression.

Fine arts can help you understand other cultures. Fine arts provide an outlet for creativity.

Fine Arts

Many fine arts accomplishments were seen throughout the year. The speech team brought back 56 medals and five plaques. Students earned high ratings at the first TVL Art Day, with 12 gold medals, and 19 other awards of recognition. At HCC Art Day, they earned four awards. Thirteen students placed in regional journalism, and eight students placed in state.

The drama department presented the fall play and spring musical. The fall play was a corny look at the legend of Robin Hood, and the spring musical, The Nifty Fifties, portrayed several students in high school trying to have a sock hop in the 1950s.

The Troy Marching Band went to Florida for the Walt Disney Thanksgiving Day Parade. The band and choir presented a winter concert and a 1950s-themed spring concert. Two music students went to state. Art, drama, and music students participated in Fine Arts Night.

Fine arts are stress relievers. Fine arts are alternatives to sports.

Fine arts show your inner imagination. Fine arts let you be yourself. Fine arts are productive.

'The Legend of Robin Hood... Sort Of'

The Drama club put on The Legend of Robin Hood... Sort of, a humorous updating of a traditional tale by Pat Cook, as the fall play. The play is set in the old days or maybe never.

Gone are the Merry Men, but in their places are the Merry Maids. The Merry Maids were Ashley Stock, Lauren Wigger, Bailey Winkel, Claire Marriott, Morgan Jamvold, Allyson Budine, Emma Collins, Angel Davis, Ashley Mollus, McKyla Barnthson, Jeanne Bergeonneau, Holly Whetstine, Madison Marriott, Cailyn Anderson, Mackenzie Harbeston, and Megan Etherton. The Merry Maids presented a pre-show to set up the characters and the scene.

The classic characters of Robin Hood (Trae Shelton), Maid Marian (Alex Stanton), Kings John (Dylan Kitzman) and Richard (Dalton Masters), Little John (William Boeh), Friar Tuck (Ben Wardlow), and the Sheriff of Nottingham (Nathan King) still remained but a new character had been added: Witch Waye (Nicki Stanton), the witch of the wood who insists on speaking in rhyme and adding confusion to the plot. There were lots of word play and sword fights.

The cast weren't the only people that tried hard to attend every practice. There were two student directors who kept the cast in line and keep the practices going: Elizabeth Hale and Holly Stegall.

Also contributing to the success of the play were dance choreographer, Jessica Burton; fight choreographer, Braden Grossman; light-board operator, Katrina Tharman; and sound-board operator, Megan Schmile.

"This play is very entertaining. We don't have to do great theater all the time. The cast portrayed the characters very well. I got a lot of compliments from spectators. I thought the audience was very receptive and I thought they caught the humor," said Director Martha-Jean Rockey.

"The play went a lot better than I thought it would. Our actors and actresses are amazing and did an awesome job. I'm so glad I helped with it." - senior Elizabeth Hale, student director

"I couldn't have asked for a better play. It was a good way to end my high school fall play experience," said senior Alex Stanton

"I thought the play went well and I was happy to be the goofy sheriff," said sophomore Nathan King.

"The play itself was good, but it was the people who made it great. It was my favorite play to be in because of the wonderful cast," said Nicole Stanton.

Spring Musical

The musical The Nifty Fifties was a nostalgic showstopper that "rocked and rolled" all the way around the block.

The musical took the audience back to a more simple time. In the musical a girl named Gracie (Lauren Wigger) really wants to have a sock hop in the local luncheonette. But the snotty "teen queens" disapprove of having the school dance in such a place as a luncheonette because it makes them sick. So Gracie thinks of an alternative way to get everyone's attention.

She says that her "cousin," Ziggy Springer (Jory Barthson), who is a famous singer, will sing at the event. Throughout the production she has many problems with getting him there and with whether or not the dance can even go on. In the end everyone enjoys the dance and, surprisingly, Ziggy shows up.

The musical references many classic iconic items that pertain to the fifties. For example, cola, poodle skirts, slicked-back hair, rolled-up jeans, the Edsel, and pressed shirts are all represented.

The production was directed by Mrs. Martha-Jean Rockey.

Art

The attendance in art class increased drastically, with more students taking art as an elective. Almost 70 percent of the school took an art class, almost 80 students!

"It's been a transition dealing with so many students but it's nice seeing the interest growing in art," Mr. Roger Purdy, art instructor, said.

Thursday, March 27, THS art students and Mr. Purdy attended the TVL art show and contest at Doniphan West High School. The students displayed their pieces and participated in some on-site contests.

One of those competitions was to design a poster, themed "Out of This World." The team of Dylan Kitzman, Ben Wardlow, Emma Collins, and Lauren Wigger took first place. The other team that took first in an on-site competition was the team of Kylee Anthony, Nicki Stanton, and Alex Stanton in the sidewalk chalk competition, also themed "Out of This World."

In all, 12 gold medals, 11 Certificates of Merit, and 8 honorable mentions were given to Troy High School students.

Another opportunity to show off hard work arose when Highland Community College opened for Art Day. At HCC Art Day students experienced new things. Students entered random contests like "inch by inch" where kids made a sculpture out of a small one-inch by one-inch piece of clay and a portrait contest where they could draw a self portrait or draw a portrait of a friend. Also some kids got their pictures taken by college students and got to print them off and keep them.

"All in all this year was pretty successful and I think everyone did well, according to their abilities. It's been a good year," said Mr. Purdy.

Music department expands

Band/Choir welcomes Flags/Baton

The major event of the year for the band was the Thanksgiving Day Parade of Bands in Florida. They performed on Thanksgiving Day in front of Mickey's Hat at Disney World. They spent the previous year doing many fundraisers to help raise money for this event. Another performance for the band was at K-State Band Day, where they played songs with other high school bands and the K-State Marching Band.

At the state competition in Atchison, the band received a II rating. Ashley Stock earned a I rating on her violin solo at regionals and a II rating at state. Likewise, Allyson Budine received a I rating for her vocal solo at regionals and a II rating at state.

The Troy High School Choir consisted of 13 members. They participated in the Veteran's Day assembly and also sang at the community building when Santa came to town. Throughout the football and basketball seasons the choir sang the "Star Spangled Banner" a few times. At the regional contest, the choir received a II rating.

A new addition to the band was the flag team. It consisted of six girls. They attended the Thanksgiving Day Parade of Bands and K-State Band Day with the band. They also performed a routine at half-time of one of the basketball games.

Halli Wigger was the only twirler. She also attended the Thanksgiving Day Parade of Bands and K-State Band Day. Throughout the year she performed at many football and basketball games. She even performed with her Kiddie baton twirlers. They were a group of young girls that were taught how to twirl by Wigger.

Together the band and choir performed two concerts. One was during the holiday season and the other was in the spring. The concert in the spring had the theme A Fifties Sock Hop. This concert was different because it consisted of not only the band and choir, but also a jazz band. All together these groups played songs from artists ranging from Jerry Lee Lewis to Elvis Presley. During the performances the crowd was urged to come to the gym floor and dance.

Speech

The speech team saw growth and success. As a team, they received one first place, three third places, one second place, and one fifth place.

Through the season, the team competed at Sabetha, Jefferson County North, Royal Valley, the TVL meet at Hanover, Basehor-Linwood, Riverside, Nemaha Valley, and finally the state competition at Kansas City Community College.

Fine Arts Night and the State Speech Festival were the pinnacle of the season. Seven speech performances were given on Fine Arts Night.

Seven members received gold medals at the State Speech Festival: Alex Stanton ("I'm Not Batman"), Nicki Stanton ("Born of Man and Woman"), Halli Wigger ("Why Do We Laugh?" for informative and in extemp), Nathan King ("The Night the Ghost Got In"), Ashley Stock ("The Lorax") and Allyson Budine ("The Lady of Shalott").

Silver went to Katrina Tharman ("The Scarlet Ibis"), Holly Stegall ("Moxon's Master"), Trae Shelton ("The Big Picture"), and IDA teams of Shelton and Bailey Winkel and King and Ben Wardlow.

People

New improvements and traditions were presented during the school year. Most students participated in desk-work activities. The student population stood at 116, which was one more than 2013.

Some students were new to the school year: returning freshman Kourtney Davies, freshman Breanne Hirtler, sophomore Cammie Sparks, sophomore Tabitha Porter,

New teachers and an administrator include middle school social studies teacher and high school weights and conditioning coach, Tod Shiftlet; ag teacher, Jessica Talifer; Superintendent Brian Harris; and nurse and SADD sponsor, Tanya Silvey.

Faculty and Staff

Troy High School gained a few new faculty and staff members: Jessica Taliaferro, vocational agricultural teacher for grades 7-12 and also the FFA sponsor; Todd Shifflett, social studies teacher for the middle school, the weights and conditioning teacher, and also the assistant football and baseball coach; Britanya Silvey, district nurse; and Superintendent Brian Harris, who also served as the grade school principal.

Seminar was added every day after lunch for 30 minutes. During seminar in the first semester, the teachers taught a variety of material, from miming to ACT drill to math drills and problem solving. Students had time to work on homework on Wednesdays and Fridays. Towards the end of the year, students who had an F or a D in Math were required to go to the library where Mrs. Michelle Newkirk and Mr. Doug Fisher helped them to improve their grade and also to help them get caught up if they had any late assignments.

Seminar also provided a time for groups to meet and for college and military recruiters to see students.

Freshmen

Entering high school can be very exciting yet nerve-racking at the same time. There are many new things freshmen have to get used to, such as trying to keep all of the classes in order and trying to fit in with the students. The freshmen get to experience new teachers, students, clubs and sports.

Freshman class sponsor, Jessica Taliaferro said, "I've never been a class sponsor before, so I'm kind of new to this and a little unprepared."

Being involved with the upperclassmen is a fun way to get to know everybody and make some new friends.

During the Homecoming Spirit Week the freshmen did the window painting and decorating contest and whitewashing on town square, to show pride in their football team about beating the Panthers. They also put in some effort on a float contest and several dress-up contests. Some of the kids went all out for the costume contests. Three more years to go and high school can be whatever they make it out to be.

"It matters not what you are thought to be, but what you really are." -Class Motto

Sophomores

Sophomores are a few moments away from being seniors. The class of 2016 battled tests, homework, and sports, and they accomplished a great deal.

The sophomore class accomplished getting third place in Homecoming floats, many sophomores painted windows during Homecoming, and many other sophomore band members went to Florida to perform at the Thanksgiving Day Parade.

Sophomores qualified for state speech in May, with Nathan King earning a I rating in humorous solo. Other state speech qualifiers were Bailey Winkel and Ben Wardlow.

Three sophomores took solos to regional music: Nathan King in instrumental music and Lauren Wigger and Jacklynn Clary in vocal music.

At state journalism, Kylee Anthony placed in two events, editorial writing and photo illustration.

The sophomores were required to take English II with Mrs. Martha-Jean Rockey, Algebra I or geometry with Mrs. Michelle Newkirk or Mr. Doug Fisher, and earth and space science or Biology II with Mr. Kevin McNorton.

Several students joined the class. A foreign exchange student from France, Jeanne Bergeonneau, spent the year at THS. She stayed with the Doug Duncan family. Tabitha Porter returned to the class in mid year, and three joined later in the year: Cammi Sparks, Tristin Horton, and Tucker Horton. Sophomore class sponsor was Mr. Fisher.

Seniors

Seniors juggle homework, scholarships, part-time jobs, sports, extracurricular activities, career researching, job shadowing, college planning, concurrent classes, and even fundraisers. Senior year is an exciting and sometimes stressful time, but Troy seniors handled it well.

Many seniors chose to take concurrent classes this year with Mrs. Martha-Jean Rockey and Mrs. Michelle Newkirk. They were psychology and speech, and algebra, respectively. Seniors didn't have a completely jam-packed schedule, though. Many also opted for office aide, cadet teacher, and independent study hours. All seniors however were still required to take an English class and American government class with Mrs. Rockey and Mr. Jeremy Prudden.

Mrs. Rockey and Mrs. Juli Smith worked together to help prepare seniors for their future by assigning a career- and college-orientation project. Seniors were required to research their interests, take an inventory of their skills, research their desired career, job shadow a trained professional, and much more.

It wasn't all academics for seniors, though. During the fall the seniors also sold magazines and ordered things such as their caps and gowns from Josten's. The seniors kept up the fundraising for the rest of the year as they sold ice cream during lunch and at sporting events, and they also worked concession stands. They raised money for the senior trip and to help class sponsor Kevin McNorton with his medical expenses.

"Move on; it's just a chapter in the past, but don't close the book. Just turn the page."

Jake,

Where has the time gone? It seems like we turned our backs for just a second, and you went from a boy to a young man. Remember to always be yourself, keep your sense of humor, and work hard to achieve your goals. Congratulations!

Love, Mom, Dad,
Andrew, and Jared

Halli,

We are so very proud of you
Halli. We love you! Love, Dad,
Mom, Lauren and Cheyenne

We hope you dance!

Kallie,

We're so proud you're our daughter. If only you could know how wonderful it is to have a daughter like you. It always meant so much to us to see you smile, to listen to your ideas, to watch you grow and learn and become your own person. If only you could realize how many special memories you've made us, how many times we been so proud to say "That's our daughter!" Always keep striving for your dreams. Congratulations!!

Love, Mom and Dad

Alanie,

We are so proud of the smart, beautiful, young lady you have become. We know you will shine at whatever you do.

Love, Mom, Dad, and Jake

P.S. Rock Chalk Jayhawk!

Holly,

I am so very proud of you as is your whole family. You have the unique ability to touch each and every person's life your path runs across in a very loving and generous way. There is no limit for what you can achieve in life. Your empathy and willingness to give to others is insurmountable. As you strive forward in life, I know you will be able to overcome any obstacle that comes your way.

I love you dearly, Holly. Congratulations on your success at THS.

Love, Mom and Jillian

Dalton,

Congratulations; we are so proud of you and all your accomplishments. We have watched you struggle and succeed, and you have made us very proud. We know no matter what you do in life you will make the best of every situation. Thanks for all the fun, tears, laughs and joy you have brought to our family.

We love you -
Dad, Mom, and Devin

Daulton,

We are so proud of you, as this new journey in life leads you to great and wonderful adventures. Look to God for his continued guidance. He has great plans for you.

We love you and will be here for you always. Love, Dad, Mom, Steve and the boys

My beautiful daughter- Baileigh

Having a daughter like you is a prized possession. Calling you a graduate is a proud occasion. You should be very proud of yourself for your dedication and persistence. Remember to set your sights on the stars and reach for them always. Believe in yourself, because you are so unique with no limits to what you can do. We are so proud of you!

Love you,
Mom, Mike, Levi and Trey

Jessica Guffy,

We are so very proud of you! You have grown into a beautiful young lady inside and out! Remember as you journey into the next chapter in your life, please know that God will be with you every step of the way! Make the most out of every moment you can and always have fun and enjoy! Follow your dreams, and always show your "fireworks"!

We love you,
Ken, Mom, Madyson, and John

Jessica Guffy,

I am very proud of all you have accomplished so far; thank you for being such a blessing to me. Now that one chapter of your life is ending, a new one will begin. Remember to always put God first in your decisions.

Love you, Dad

Homecoming

Despite having no school on Monday, Homecoming week was packed for the Trojans.

The week began on Tuesday with the kick-off of dress-up days. The Tuesday theme was Super Hero Day, and senior Dalton Masters won with his costume as the Hulk. Wednesday was Halloween Costume Day, and the secret panel of judges chose sophomore Cadence King in full Indian Dress as the winner of that day. That evening, the freshmen and seniors paired up to compete against the sophomores and juniors in a game of powderpuff football, where the juniors and sophomores cherished a victory of 52-48.

Following the game, Trojans headed to Main Street for a Window Painting contest and to white-wash the streets. Again, the sophomores relished a Homecoming activity victory when the judges declared them the winners of the window painting contest.

As the game drew closer, the Homecoming activities kept coming. On Thursday, students dressed up in their favorite 80s decade apparel. The winners of this day were senior William Boeh and sophomore Mackenzie Harbeston. Then as night approached, the cheerleaders and dancers hosted a drive-through car-painting station for the community to have their vehicles "tagged" with Trojan spirit. After that, the festivities moved to the 4-H grounds as the cheerleaders and dancers performed, and the football players made their way to the bonfire with torches, and Coach Jasper spoke about the upcoming game. To end the night, Trojans snaked through town honking.

Finally, on Friday, Trojans showed their spirit by dressing up in Blue and White. The seniors won the dress-up days' contest, as they had an average of 21 students dress up every day.

Students were then dismissed at 2:30 for the Main Street Pep Rally and parade. Homecoming candidates Kaylee Bennett, Harley Huss, Baileigh Jenkins, Courtney Klaus, Trevor Bembrick, Ryan Franken, Cody Israel, and Caleb Winkel all participated in a "Dancing with the Stars"-type activity to the "Cha-Cha Slide," the "Cupid Shuffle," "Saturday Night Fever," and "The Hustle," and were judged by the panel of Abra Rush, Jared Wigger, and Dallas Keller. Janel Anderson and Todd Shifflett were crowned Staff Queen and King by the student body.

That evening, the coronation process began at 6:30. Candidates rode in on classic cars donated by members of the community. The court was also escorted by several kindergarteners: Adriana Clary, Harper Whetstine, Henry Geiger, and Marcus McKittrick. After a week of waiting, Harley Huss and Ryan Franken were crowned Queen and King.

Later that evening, after an unfortunate defeat by the Centralia Panthers, all Trojans were invited to enjoy the Homecoming Dance sponsored by the student council in the old gym. The decorations were Halloween related.

Queen of Courts

This Queen of Courts was very different due to the games and dance being postponed to the next Saturday, due to inclement weather.

Both varsity teams ended with a win. The boys won 59-57 with a last-minute shot from Tristan Speer. Likewise, the Lady Trojans evened up their record on their home court with a win of 47-41.

The Queen of Courts pep rally was oddly before the senior night game, rather than the day of Queen of Courts. The main event of the pep rally was the little game played by the candidates. The candidates chose songs and then sang them to the crowd. Kaylee Bennett William Boeh sang "See You Tonight," by Scotty McCreery; Courtney Klaus and Cody Israel sang the popular "Say Something," by a Great Big World; and Alanie Stock and Caleb Winkel sang "Fishin' in the Dark," by the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band. Winning the singing competition, Kallie Koehler and Jacob Meng sang, "Cruise," by Florida Georgia Line.

The boys' basketball team also performed at the pep rally. They danced to a mixture of songs. Due to the three snow days in the middle of the week, they did not get to practice as much as planned. However, the boys still performed with their best moves and even sported several solos, such as the one performed by king candidate William Boeh.

Leading up to the postponed game was Spirit Week. The week consisted of "Camo" day, "Career" day, Mix-and-Match day, and Blue and White day.

After an extra week of anticipation and snow days, Alanie Stock was announced Queen and Jacob Meng was announced King at the ceremony at half time of the varsity boys' game.

A dance sponsored by Stuco was in the old gym immediately following the games.

'Gatsby in the Dark'

Prom was put on by the junior class, sponsored by Mrs. Jennifer Whetstine. The theme was "Gatsby in the Dark." "Gatsby" came from a 1920s-themed book by F. Scott Fitzgerald and "In the Dark" was just a black-light theme. There were black lights, glow sticks and glow-in-the-dark shutter shades as table decorations and accessories.

Prom was held at the Heritage Convention Center in Atchison. The meal consisted of salad, brisket, mashed potatoes, gravy, green beans, and a hot roll. For dessert, the students were served cherry and chocolate cheesecake.

"I think Prom went really well! I had a lot of fun dancing with my friends and the food was pretty good," said junior Destiny O' Donnell.

After the couple's pictures and dinner was served, the dance was held until midnight. The DJ was Kenny Lysaght. A photobooth was present during the dance.

After-prom was put on by the junior parents. It was held at Extreme Underground also in Atchison. Extreme Underground is an old U.S. Army bunker facility now known as the "Atchison Caves."

There the students and their dates played archery tag, and laser tag, crawled through a speleobox, climbed rock walls, and slacklined. There were also a makoto arena, black-light miniature golf, and a game room. In the game room, there was carpet ball, foosball, pool, air hockey, and ping pong tables.

"After-prom was fun. I liked themaze the most!" said freshman Cuttar Huss.

After-prom consisted of a lot of prizes such as Old Navy, American Eagle, free pizza, iHop, and Buffalo Wild Wings gift cards. There were also six iPad mini's that were given away anonymously by drawing names out of a hat.

The winners of the iPads were juniors Al Schmille, Derek Frenken, and Jake Ross. The other three were won by seniors Harley Huss, Baileigh Jenkins, and Daulton Jasper.

"I thought the prizes at after-prom were pretty good! I got two Worlds of Fun tickets but traded them for two Royals tickets. A lot of people got iPads and unfortunately, I wasn't one of them" said senior Colton Masters.

After-prom started at 12:15 A.M. and lasted until 3:25 A.M.

After after-prom many students all headed to St. Joseph to eat breakfast at iHop.

"Prom was a lot of fun! Mrs. Whetstine did a great job putting it all together. It was awesome!!" said junior Allyson Budine.

"I thought after-prom was fun but it could have had more things to do," said senior Bodhi Anthony.

Seniors visit Dallas

The class of 2014 had their fun in Dallas, Texas. Out of 29 students, 22 students went with chaperones Abra Rush and Roger Purdy. The class sponsor was Kevin McNorton, but due to health complications he couldn't go. The class departed from the high school early morning Friday, May 9.

When they got to Texas, the seniors headed to the Dallas Cowboys Stadium for a tour. There they walked around the stadium listening to facts, entered the Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders' locker room, and the football boys' locker room and even got to go on the field!

After the tour, the seniors were on their way to the Rangers stadium for the Texas Rangers vs. the Boston Red Sox game.

There the students all participated in the cheers and chants with the rest of the crowd. Many of them also posted pictures on Twitter and Instagram using the hashtag "RangersScoreboard" in hopes of getting on to the screen.

"The Rangers game was a really exciting game, and I'm glad we got the opportunity to watch it!" said senior Holly Stegall.

Saturday, May 10, the class went to the Dealey Plaza and Sixth Floor Museum. This is where 35th president, John F. Kennedy was assassinated. The class took an audio tour through the museum; then they took pictures of where the president was shot and the Grassy Knoll.

After the museum, the seniors headed to the Dallas World Aquarium and to the Galleria Mall in Dallas. This is a three-story mall where most of the class spent the majority of their money.

Sunday, May 11, the class went to Six Flags over Texas, an amusement park. The seniors rode many rides like the Titan (a ride with a 255-foot drop traveling at 85 mph), Mr. Freeze: Reverse Blast (a ride with a 236-foot drop traveling at 70 mph), and New Texas Giant (a ride with a 153-foot drop traveling at 65 mph).

Later that evening, the seniors went to Shenanigans in Rockwall, Texas. There, the class went bowling, rode a mechanical bull, played black-light miniature golf, and laser tag, and rode gocarts in the speedway. The majority of the class spent their time in the speedway.

Monday, May 12, the class checked out of their hotels, loaded the bus, and headed back to Troy. On the way home they stopped at the Oklahoma City National Memorial and Museum. There they took a self tour around the museum looking at different things recovered from the bombing, old recordings, and many stories of the survivors. They also went outside to look at the field of empty chairs and the reflecting pool.

The seniors arrived at the high school three and a half hours earlier than scheduled. Everyone was exhausted and ready to be back home.

"It was fun getting to know everyone in my class better and hanging out with everyone one last time before we all graduate and go our separate ways," said Dalton Masters.

"Senior trip was a blast! I had a great time hanging out with my class and sponsors," said Harley Huss.

Graduation

Graduation was held May 18 in the C.W. Oliver Gymnasium.

This was the last time the seniors were able to step into the gym and say goodbye to faculty, students, friends, and family.

The high school choir sang "Butterfly Fly Away" by Miley Cyrus as an opening to the graduation ceremony.

Mr. Kevin McNorton received the Master Teacher Award and was presented a plaque. He was selected by a committee of faculty, administration, parents, and board members.

Holly Stegall was valedictorian and Alanie Stock was salutatorian. Both girls presented speeches during the ceremony.

Stegall spoke about how she didn't want to give any advice because no one needed the advice of a teenager. She also talked about the many accomplishments of the senior class throughout the year and thanked friends and family for everything throughout her journey through high school.

Stock gave a speech about how a chapter in the seniors' lives has ended, but a new one will begin. She also talked about a year of "lasts." Stock ended her speech with thanking parents, family, friends, faculty, and God for where all the seniors are now and for their accomplishments.

After the speeches, Principal Jarred Wigger, presented the audience with the opening of the traditional senior video.

The video included pictures of each senior and group photos throughout the years. The songs played during the video were "Don't Forget to Remember Me" by Carrie Underwood, "I'm Not Gonna Cry" by Corey Smith, "Whenever You Remember" by Carrie Underwood, "Photograph" by Nickelback, and "Time of Your Life" by Green Day.

A special tribute was added to the senior video to honor Kate Foshe, a student who came to Troy as a sophomore and passed away the summer of her sophomore year.

Following the senior video was the rose ceremony. The graduates ordered roses to give to family members and loved ones. Seniors could order as many roses as they wished to hand out to those whom they felt have influenced their lives. The class chose, "Because You Loved Me" by Celine Dion.

The rose ceremony was the emotional part of the whole ceremony.

"I held up pretty well up until it got to the rose ceremony; then I lost it. I only had two roses to hand out but I gave a lot of people hugs so I was the last one to be seated. Whoops! Graduation went a lot smoother for me than I thought it would. I'm just glad it's over with," said senior Courtney Klaus.

The class of 2014 had 29 graduates.

"It was good. I am glad my family and friends got to come and witness and celebrate with me," said Jacob Meng.

"It was fun but I'm just glad it's over with so I can move on to the next chapter in my life," said Alanie Davis.

The background of the advertisement features a dramatic scene with a bright yellow lightning bolt striking a dark, stormy sky. Below the lightning, a large, glowing orange and red shape, resembling a seed or a flame, is visible. The NuTech Seed logo is prominently displayed in the upper right corner, with the word "NuTech" in a large, white, sans-serif font and "Seed" in a smaller, white, sans-serif font below it. A green swoosh underline is positioned beneath "NuTech".

NuTech

Seed™

The NuTech Seed logo is repeated within a yellow rectangular frame that is tilted slightly to the right. Below the logo, the words "YIELDS MORE" are written in a large, white, sans-serif font.
